If you are approaching your 20th anniversary then congratulations—you've done it! 20 years is a lot to celebrate. You two have gone through two decades of ups and downs as a married couple since and now you get to celebrate that special day with one (or more) well-deserved gifts. Traditionally, China is the symbolic 20th year gift and it is meant to symbolize the beautiful life you have built together. The modern take on gifting for this milestone is platinum-strong, like your compound. There are lots of amazing china and platinum gifts here, but feel free to avoid tradition and gift something super personal or to represent your hobbies and history together—we've found them too. Here, the best 20th anniversary gifts. Courtesy of unusual goods This first dance press is a great way to remember that time-stopping moment on your wedding day. Each print can be customized with names, dates and places - except for hair and skin color - so it suits you two like a well-tailored tuxedo. A 20th anniversary is definitely an opportunity to gift something she really treasure—a pair of diamond earrings. These studs are a modern update on a traditional style and will soon become her go-to couple for both day and night. China is a traditional gift for this anniversary, but give it an unexpected twist with this custom plate. Choose a favorite photo from your wedding day and get it printed on porcelain—they will be blown away. With the permission of unusual goods this is a creative way to remember the current events of the two decades you two have lived together. This book can be customized to feature every New York Times front page from the day of your wedding day until the day of your 20th anniversary.
