We are excited because you are thinking of applying to CU Boulder! While preparing your application, we know that there is a lot to keep in mind - from deadlines, to standard tests and essay questions, to understanding what we are looking for from applicants. You'll find the answers to the most common questions here, but know that the entire admissions team is ready to help. If you have questions along the way, be sure to contact us or see the FAQ page. Applications for candidate degree can be submitted from next August to spring, summer and autumn items. The University reserves the right to refuse admission to applicants whose college credentials reflect the inability to meet the obligations of performance and conduct that the University considers essential and appropriate to any of its functions, processes and legal functions as an educational institution. First-year students can apply to CU Boulder using the shared app. All students will be reviewed in the order in which their application file is completed (the application is submitted and all required and official documents received). Spring orders in the first year of spring orders are processed on a rolling basis. The Admissions Office will begin notifying applicants of admission decisions in October. Decisions are taken approximately six to eight weeks after the completion of the application. Full consideration of applications that are complete (including application fees and all required credentials) will be given by the October 1 deadline. Summer and autumn applicants for the first year there are two admission notice periods for autumn and summer candidates. Non-binding early work is guaranteed first-year applicants who complete their file by November 15 early work and will receive the decision to accept in or before February 1. Students who are accused of a non-binding and early deadline for work can be accepted, postponed or refused admission. Deferred students will receive additional review and are strongly encouraged to provide additional academic information to enhance their applications. Students who are usually postponed do not receive the admission decision until April 1st. Early work students are not required to register at CU Boulder, but if they choose to attend, they must confirm their intention to register by May 1. The deadline for requesting a regular decision is January 15th. All applicants whose files have been finalized by January 15th will be notified of their admission by April 1st. If students choose to attend, students must confirm their intention to register by May 1. If the student submits a full application by the deadline for or before the transfer application, he or she will receive the admission decision within six to eight weeks. The full app includes test scores (if you have less than 24 credit hours in college High school graduation, lecturer (high school and college), personal statement and application fees. Spring application deadlines: October 1summer: March 15, 15, Autumn Early Notice: March 15, Autumn, normal decision period: Applications are processed June 1 in the order received and completed. Earlier a full application is made, a decision will be made earlier. Where to send the application, fees and accreditation materials that cannot be submitted electronically, it may be mailed to: Admissions Office and Guardian Of The Administrative Center 125 University of Colorado Boulder 552 UCB Boulder, CO 80309-0552 applicants must maintain the current email address at all times. It is used in correspondence until the applicant arrives on campus. Notices are also sent to this address regarding admission, registration and welcome to a new student, as well as other information. If an address changes or is no longer valid, notify the admissions office immediately at 303-492-6301. Application of the online application verification list for admission to $50 non-refundable (US$70 for international students) application fee, payable online (if the student cannot pay the fee online, contact the admissions office at 303-492-6301 or in admissions@colorado.edu) official copy of the high school official college lecturer (if any) S AT or ACT test scores (if any) two personal articles (first year applicants) or a single personal statement (transfer applicants) letter of recommendation (first year applicants only) Résumé or list of activities (optional) all accepted students are encouraged to confirm their intention to register through the application status page as soon as possible after receiving the admission notice. If the student cannot confirm his intention to register through the application status page, he or she should contact the Admissions Office at 303-492-6301 or admissions@colorado.edu. Confirmation deadlines for first year summer students: May 1 Autumn: 1 May Spring: December 1 Conversions: Varies: See the instructions to confirm the status of the application page if the students are enrolling for classes and then decide not to attend, they may be assessed in tuition fees depending on the circumstances. For spring and fall policies, visit the Office Withdrawal Office page for the summer, visit the summer session's withdrawal web page. There are significant policy differences for continuing students versus new, returning and converted students. Confirmation deposits are used as registration deposits for each semester as long as registration is made by the published deadline. Once cu Boulder students have attended, the deposit will be returned (minus any fees or other fees due) upon graduation or official withdrawal from the university as scheduled. Pay online when you apply or by or money system (which is paid to the University of Colorado) after submitting. If you submit a check or financial order, include the student's full legal name and date of birth. We understand that some students may face financial constraints in paying application fees. Exemptions can be granted for documented difficulties if the student submits the application fee exemption form. Pay online online application when applying. We understand that some students may face financial constraints in paying application fees. Exemptions can be granted for documented difficulties if the student submits the application fee exemption form. Students currently enrolled in the Bachelor's degree program on the university of Colorado campus who apply for a bachelor's degree program on the Boulder campus are not required to pay the application fee. Credentials or information faxed by fax cannot be accepted as official documents. Do not provide samples, design images or artwork. The wallet is not used for admission purposes and cannot be returned. Official official records must be sent directly to the admissions office of the issuing institution and must have appropriate seals and signatures. Other records are not official. Texts marked, for example, do not accept a student's or student issued or unofficial copy as official. Informal texts cannot be used for admission or conversion purposes. High school students must request that their high school send an official copy of all work done, starting with the ninth grade, directly to the admissions office, regardless of the number of university hours completed by the student (if any) or the date of graduation from high school. Students who have attended more than one high school and whose last copy does not include a full high school record must submit official records from each school. If any part of the high school record is missing from the text, the request processing will be delayed. Students who have not graduated and do not plan to graduate from high school must apply for an official certificate from the high school equivalent and official GED grades, as well as an official copy of any work in high school (grades 9-12) completed, to be sent to the admissions office. Official records must be sent to the admissions office from the issuing institution either via email to the transcripts@colorado.edu or by mail and must have appropriate seals and signatures. All credentials written in languages other than English must be accompanied by a certified literal English translation. Students must apply to be their official lecturers from each collective institution (except for any University of Colorado campus) Directly from the exporting institution to the admissions office. Make sure that all organizations, regardless of attendance, whether or not the courses are completed, and whether the record may affect acceptance or transfer. It also includes any institutions attended during the summer, during a temporary period and during secondary school. Failure to include and provide records from all institutions that have already attended before enrolling in CU Boulder is a violation of academic ethics and may result in the cancellation of admission or dismissal from the university. The SAT or ACT Test Scores CU Boulder requires all first-year students and their transfer (including U.S. citizens attending high school or college outside the United States) with less than 24 degrees completed to submit an official SAT or ACT degree. CU Boulder's SAT code is 4841 and the ACT code is 0532. The grades will be considered official if submitted electronically by the testing agency or if they are included in your official high school minutes. The highest score is used for the student in the admission decision. If the student takes the same test more than once, we collect his highest score from each subsection to give them the highest overall score. SAT or ACT test results taken in December or later in time may not be received if the student wishes to be considered for summer or autumn admission the following year. For more information: Consult the high school counselor visit the SAT website, call 609-771-7600 or write to the College Board (SAT), P.O. Box 6200, Princeton, NJ 08541-6200 Visit the ACT website, call 319-337-1270 or write to ACT Registration, P.O. Box 414, Iowa City, IA 52243-0414 Personal Articles CU Boulder requires first-year applicants to submit two short personal articles and transfer applicants to submit a single personal statement. Requests that do not submit articles are incomplete and will not be reviewed. Personal essays are the best way for the admissions office to identify applicants as individuals and evaluate the student's academic performance within the appropriate context. There are no correct answers to the questions - the responses must reflect the unique aspects and experiences of the applicant. Specific article questions are available on the app. The first letters of recommendation will be required for all applicants in the first year. The student's full legal name must be included in the top of the letters of recommendation. Applicants can submit additional letters of recommendation if they wish, but this is optional. Applicants may also choose to submit a cv or list of joint study activities or work Leadership positions and awards. Music College applicants must also complete the music college application after applying for admission, submit a reference letter and schedule the test. Test.
