Join the world of SimCity BuildIt, be the mayor of your city and start building your very first homes from scratches. Create your own city, build homes to attract residents, give them all their essential needs and services, and more. Explore an epic city builder experience in the world's best city building game for Android devices. Find out everything you need to know about this amazing game with our review. StoryIn the game, players will play as the invisible mayor of a Sim city. Here, you will have access to all the management options in your city, such as buildings, landscapes, roads, people and so on. Be a good mayor and pay attention to your Sims as they show you their views. Improve your mistake and earn some surprising rewards for being a good mayor. Make smart decisions about your city's investments to take advantage of these. Build your city in a massive metropolis with epic technologies and civilized citizens. Show your work to others that your city is known to others around the world. Here you will find all the interesting features that the game has to offer: Being mayor, you will have the chance to make all the decisions about the issues that are related to your city. Start by deciding what to build using current resources. You can choose to build new resident, manufacturing facilities, stores, and so on. But make sure you take care of the needs of all your citizens properly. Otherwise, they will become less and less happy. And to attract more citizens to your city, you can update the residential buildings for more to move in. The roads in your city would also play an important role in keeping traffic going. Each building will need to be connected to the city's road system so that it works properly. Otherwise, you will not get resources, products or taxes (if it is a residential building) from it. However, having too much construction and small roads will also cause traffic to gather relatively quickly. Therefore, being a wonderful mayor, it is your job to design and build the city in the most efficient ways possible. And if your city gets too crowded, with no space to build new roads and buildings, you can always unlock new construction lots next to your city. There are also two unique areas that are the snow mountains and sunny beach for you to unlock. They have available and have access to the new features in the game. You can hardly find any other city building game that features such interactive aspects in the game, would be SimCity BuildIt. That said, in this builder of Epic and title simulation, players will have their chance to observe people from a full and close-up view. See small Sims walk through the streets, driving to work, or spend their time on beaches, parks, and so on. You can even look at their homes and gather their personal opinions on various topics. Varied. for your sims while talking about politics, city construction, politics, quality of service, and even gossip some housewives. In this completely self-sufficient city, your citizens will not have to interact with outside worlds to gain access to all goods and services. That said, being a loyal mayor, you have to build enough electrical plants, water purification systems, garbage factories, and sewage collectors so that people could live happily. They also want to ensure them good security with police stations, fire protection with fire stations, and some medical facilities to cure their diseases. And don't forget to make sure that traffic is still working properly. Fail to deliver one of these and your citizen will start to become less and less satisfactory with their living conditions. Now, with all buildings and services, you will have to start producing raw goods to serve as materials for various manufacturing facilities. The game currently has all sorts of different resources that you could collect from factories, each has its own purposes and also requires certain amounts of time to produce. Once the raw materials are ready, it's time for you to take it to different stores to make more advanced products. Try your best to provide enough goods and services to people as you're going to need them to make varied upgrades and shipping activities. And you will also need to have money to invest in many of the building activities of your city. The easiest way is to collect money from the citizens of your city, or it is also known as taxes. At first, it should be the main source for money, so make sure you collect it frequently. However, as you progress in the game, you will need to expand your trading services. That said, you can sell goods to online players around the world, as well as collecting the ones you need from their sales list. And as you reach higher levels, more interesting options will be available. You will then be able to carry out transports in different places around the world, such as Paris, Tokyo, London and many more. For those who are simply not satisfied with the normal building, shipping, and expansion activities will entertain themselves in the unique gameplay that SimCity BuildIt offers. Disasters - you can access the Vu Tower and start launching more disasters in your cities. It might seem strange, but you can easily rebuild the destroyed building as well a valuable gold key in this action. Important services - build different buildings, such as Department of Education, Gambling Hall, Entertainment HQ, and so on. Unlock many interesting gameplay as you finish these buildings. In addition, it will be more interesting for your citizen to have these buildings activated. Players who have a passion for the cities in future can have access to a variety of different high-tech construction options, where you will find all kinds of different buildings. Start building Omega residents to attract Omega citizens, offer them new services and make sure they stay happy. Collect the new Omega currency to unlock new features. Spend time researching new technologies as you begin your journey into the future. And if you find the old town relatively tight, no other places to expand. You can choose to travel to various locations and build new cities there. There are currently over 5 different locations other than your capital, which includes varied landscapes. Have the new city built on snow mountain, green valley, scorching desert, and so on. Each location will allow you to gain access to varied gameplay as well as new buildings. All are connected to the Capital, so you can share all the resources between them. Players in SimCity BuildIt will never find themselves as the game allows you to interact with online players in almost everything you do. That said, apart from the taming option, there are also other features that you might find interesting: Join a club - or you could create your own club and be the leader. This option allows players to access the club and allow a variety of different features. You can visit the cities of club members, see the ways in which their cities are built and collect the greeting prizes. In addition, the game will have club challenges where you can work with other members to win valuable prizes for your Club. And most importantly, by being in a club, you will have the opportunity to participate in Club Wars, where you will go against another Club by launching devastating disaster for each other's cities. Choose the right approaches and win your war. Primary competitions - in terms of solo players, you can challenge other mayors in epic competitions. Compete and earn the right to be promoted to another league. Earn valuable prizes as you earn high ranks and so on. To allow players to enjoy their games even more, SimCity BuildIt also introduces players to a lot of interesting daily bonuses and boosts that they could collect from just being an active player. Sign in to your city and win your prizes whenever you're ready. In addition, effective boosts will also make the game more interesting. With SimCity BuildIt, players will have the chance to enjoy the game whenever they want, with or without an Internet connection. Choose a seat, sit down, and you can enjoy the game. Additionally, your Internet connection is not required to experience your normal activities. However you need to connect to the Internet if you want to unlock the features online, would be Clubs and Trades. In addition, being online will also allow the progress of the game to be safely saved online. Therefore, you will not lose even when you've lost or reset your phone. For all its features, it is quite a surprise to find that the game is currently free to play. That said, Android players can easily have the game downloaded and installed on their devices without having to pay anything. However, you might find some of the in-app purchases quite troublesome. And if that's the case, you can take a look at our game mode version. With unlimited money and gold, gamers can easily build and customize their cities according to their preferences.
