Construction training in RuneScape 3 is still very similar to what it was in previous versions of the game. That being said, there are some new rooms and furniture to create that changed the meta a bit. In this guide to building RS3, we're going to go over everything you need to know. Read on and get started with your construction training today! More Skills Guides House Options Before you start any construction training, you need to first buy a house. You can do this by talking to the NPC real estate agent in the game. The fastest to go to is in Falador, southeast of Iodestone. When you get to it, ask to buy a house. Your initial purchase will cost 1000 gold and the house will be automatically placed in Taverly. You can talk to him again at higher levels to change your home location in any of the nine available areas. Along with the ability to change your player-owned location of the home, you can also use a real estate agent to change your home styles. Again, more styles will unlock based on your level and they all cost different prices. You can change your home walls/interior, land style, dungeon style and even lighting. Butlers Training your design will effectively require the use of a butler. Butlers are not available until level 20, but they are not very useful for learning up to level 40. In order to hire a butler, you must have two bedrooms in your house, with a bed built in each one. Butlers can be hired from the Servant Guild, which is located just southwest of Ardougne Iodestone. Below you can find the three recommended butlers and their abilities. Servant Level Cost Time Butler 40 5000 (3750 after love story) 20 boards 12s Demon Butler 50 10,000 (7500 after love story) 26 boards 7s Monkey Butler 50 No 26 boards 7s Each butler can be used to get specific items from your bank. In our case, this means that they can be tasked with getting the boards out of our bank and bringing them to us. Because of this, you do not have to leave your home while learning to build. Each butler can be used to get specific items from your bank. In our case, this means that they can be tasked with getting the boards out of our bank and bringing them to us. Because of this, you do not have to leave your home while learning to build. Monkey Butler can be hired by speaking to a monkey inside the Invention Guild at least level 60 Invention. You will also need to unlock the Monkey Mind Control Helmet device. Two butlers will demand payment. After using their service seven times, you will need to pay the amount specified in the 'Cost' column of the chart above. Equipment At level 44 Construction, you can start using designer equipment for 6% experience enhancement during training. The full set can be obtained from the completion of certain certain in temple Trekking/Burgh de Rott Ramble mini-games. Let's take a look at the amount of time it takes to get a full set. This mini-game can take quite a bit of time to complete compared to the overall bonus experience you get. If you plan to play this mini-game anyway, or want to complete the challenge of Moritania, then it will be a good investment. Item Mini-Games Requirement Designer Gloves Get Pazuzu at Level 85 Boots Designer Get zakari brag at level 85 Designer Hat Total Level 200 (includes all 6 characters) Designer Pants Total level 300 (includes in Itself all 6 characters) Designer Garb Total Level 400 (includes all 6 characters) Scroll of Mastery This Dungeoneering reward can be purchased for 20,000 tokens with a level of 60 Dungeoneering and construction. After you buy, read the scroll to permanently unlock its bar-saving effect. When you build any piece of furniture in your home belonging to a player that requires three or more boards, you will have a small chance to keep one or more boards. The chance of saving depends solely on the type of board you use. Higher board levels have a lower chance than a lower board level. Planck Type Save Chance Normal 50% Oak 25% Tick 20% Mahogany 10% Protean 5% In the grand scheme of things, 2000 Dungeoneering tokens are not very much. I highly recommend unlocking this scroll early on in your construction preparation. You will save a significant amount of money. Sculpture Chisel Awarded for the construction of the same statue of God in the same place for four months in a row in the God Of Statues D.D. For example, the construction of the statue of Guthix in Lambridge for four months in a row, you will be awarded the sculpture of Chisel (Guthix). God makes any distinction, all chisels have the same effect. You can use monthly CAN tokens for reset, and this will be considered another month. The Chisel Sculpture will provide you with a 1% experience of enhancing in construction while wearing. These are stacks with designer equipment of a total of 7%. See this section for more information about the God of the Statue of D.D. 1-99 Method Before we start training, make sure you atleast purchased the house from a real estate agent. Before you can hire a butler, you will need to bring teleports to get to and from your home to restock on the boards. House teleport tabs and ring kinship work well for this. Now that we are ready to learn, let's look at what we need to build to align our construction in the most efficient way. Levels 1-19: Raw wooden chairs These chairs can be built inside the salon, which will be the first room automatically generated for your player-owned home after purchasing it. They require 2 normal and 2 nails (I recommend using iron - make sure to bring extra because you will bend some) each. This step requires 61 chairs be done without any bonus experience. Levels 19-26: Oak chairs again, chairs can be built in the cabin. These chairs do not require nails, only 2 oak boards for each chair. This requires a step of 40 chairs that must be made without any bonus experience. Levels 26-33: Oak Arm chairs are the same as before, except for the 3 oak boards needed on the chair. This step requires 43 chairs to be made without any bonus experience. Levels 33-52: Oak Larders At the moment you will need to purchase a kitchen for your home. Be sure to build two bedrooms with a bed in each at 40, so you can hire a butler. You can use your butler to get the boards out of your bank, so you no longer have to teleport back and forth. Oak Larders take 8 oak boards to make. This step requires 224 lard to be made without any bonus experience. Levels 52-63/73: Mahogany Table Building will start getting expensive around this point. Keep in mind that while it can be expensive, the experience is incredibly fast. These tables require 6 mahogany boards each. This step requires 1035 tables to be made without any bonus experience. Levels 63-73: Driftwood Prawnbokers Cheaper Method for Level 73 Driftwood Prawnbokers. They can be built in an aquarium room, and require 8 tick boards. This step requires 868 shrimp to be made without any bonus experience. If you decide to do this all the way to level 99 (which is viable, they have over 700,000 experience per hour), you will need to make 17,592 shrimp. Levels 73-99: Flotsam Prawnbokers In the same place as the previous step, you will be doing an upgraded version of the previous furniture. Flotsam Prawnbokers require 8 mahogany boards to be built, and are the fastest method of learning construction. They can reach up to 1,000,000 experience per hour. This step requires 10,752 shrimp to be made without any bonus experience. God Statues of God Statues monthly DDD, which involves solving a small puzzle to build, well, a statue of God. This provides a great piece of construction experience. There are five statues of locations: Lambridge, Yanil, Taverly, Canifas and Prifddinas. Talk to the gnome, Copernicus G. Hipich, next to the statue for more information. Before you start the puzzle, you will need to choose the statue you want to build for an extra prayer or fighter experience. Keep in mind, if you choose Slayer, you will have to kill the NPC after building the statue. In the top left, you will be told how much of the entire forest you can use. In this example, it's 13. To the right of this, you can see the highest and lowest heights of the forest. Here, the highest must be 4 the highest and the smallest must 2 high. This means that each seat must be at least 2, and not higher than 4. I put this in the middle image, just taking a guess where things should go. Click the button Button in the top right for Copernicus to check your progress and it will tell you which places are right and wrong. From this point, it's easy to guess the game until you nail down that goes where. If you have the right combination, the gnome button will glow green. Click on it to complete the statue. Then use the Pray at the statue option to get a prayer experience, or fight with the NPC for your Slayer experience. Building experience scales up to your level, but provides a great free boost experience when learning other skills. Hefin Harps This method requires the completion of the quest End of the Plague. Prifddinas Arphidines are located in the southwest corner of Hefin. They are mostly used for some incredibly AFK Crafting experience, however they do from a small amount of construction experience. After playing the harp for a period of time, they will start to come out of the melody. You can overwork them for some decent building experience. If you plan to train crafting using this method, it is highly recommended to do so before learning your design in the traditional way. You will gain considerable experience in doing so, especially if you plan to use harps for 99 Crafting. Crafting, fastest 1-99 construction guide rs3
