But the more Hardin's past pops up, the more he worries and grieves, and the more he repels Tessa and everyone else. Tessa isn't sure she can save him without sacrificing herself. She refuses to leave him without a fight, but to fight with whom: Hardin or herself? A spin-off in June 2015, Anna Todd announced on her Instagram account that she would release a new book. Before, this is Hardin's point of view in the first volume after. However, Anna Todd claims to have previously contained elements of the past (before Hardin met Tessa) as well as elements of the future in addition to the point d'Hardin in the first volume of the saga. The book was released on December 8, 2015 in the United States. In France, it was previously divided into two parts: the first part was released on January 7, 2016, and the second part was released on February 4, 2016. Later, in September 2015, Anna Todd announced that she would release two novels, Landon in VF and Between in VF, which will focus on the character of Landon Gibson. Tessa and Hardin's best friend. These two novels revolve around his love affair in New York for two years of ellipses in the last volume of After. Nothing More was released in September 2016, and Nothing Less was released in December 2016 in the United States and France. Before that, Seasons 1 and 2 of Hardin's Summary keeps a secret diary. He tells his story, before meeting Tessa and in a few weeks that will change his life. The newspaper where the girls in his group - Natalia, Molly, Melissa and Steph - play a key role. This diary allows him to express his anger and analyze his feelings. We reveal his secrets, his doubts, his soul... maybe not as black as it sounds. Will Hardin's point of view inspire us to engage? Hardin did not spare him for the rest of his life. He suffered a trauma that a child should never experience without the love of his parents to help him overcome it. Fury took possession of him and never left him. He is dark, lonely and does not give himself any emotions, except the adrenaline of his atrocities. He doesn't care about anything, not even himself. Until the day when her path crosses Tessa's path... Will he be able to love him? Nothing more, seasons 1 and 2 Abstract In these two seasons, we follow, in particular, the adventures of Tessa's best friend: Landon. He went to live his student life in New York, and he will have to face this new life. He divides his time between working on coffee and studying. Despite his new encounters, a sense of loneliness pulls him after breaking up with his longtime girlfriend, Dakota. The latter will return cruelly in her life, and uncertainty will come with it. However, another encounter is likely to upset him: bubbly Nora, Tessa's friend, who will continue her daily life upside down. What choice will Landon make and will he be able to realize himself as a human being? In this new spin-off, Landon is obviously followed by Tessa, because it's the period when they live together in collocation. So he completes other volumes after, as we can follow Tessa's descent into hell, as well as her gradual reconstruction. A screen adaptation on October 16, 2014, five days before the novel's release, it was announced that Paramount bought the rights to work to make a movie. The author stated that Harry Styles would not play Hardin, but Anna Todd expressed a desire for Australian actress Indiana Evans to play the role of Tessa and British actor Douglas Booth to play the role of Hardin. However, on social media, fans of the saga say they would like British actor Daniel Sharman to play the role of Hardin. In late September 2015, Anna Todd announced on Twitter and Instagram that screenwriter Susan McMartin had just finished writing the script for After: Chapter 1. In January 2016, Anna Todd responded to the rumors by stating that American actress Diana Agron would unfortunately not play the role of Tessa and that she would love to see Daniel Sharman and Indiana Evans play the roles of Hardin and Tessa. In February 2016, Daniel Sharman confirmed on Twitter that he would play Hardin, but in June 2017 he announced that he was leaving the film. Indiana Evans, due to lack of time, also withdrew from the cast. Anna Todd, who reclaims the rights to the film, reveals that the film's official release is scheduled for April 12, 2019 in the U.S. and April 17 in France. Adam Schenkman and Jennifer Gibgoth (who produced films such as 17 years ago or The Last Song) will produce the film. On May 8, 2018, she announced via social media that Hero Finnes-Tiffin would play the role of Hardin Scott. A few days later, Anna Todd announced on Instagram that Josephine Langford, the younger sister of actress Katherine Langford, would play the role of Tessa Young, who originally auditioned for the role of Molly. Filming for the first film began on July 16, 2018 in Atlanta, Georgia. The number of records in France exceeds 1 million in just 3 weeks.
