Song Info The rhyme "Baa, Baa, Black Sheep" is known from the first half of the 18th century. One of the theories about the explanation of its meaning is political and related with the medieval taxes on wool and the slave trade. The song gave its title to a period military television series that aired on NBC from 1976 until 1978. Its premise was based on the experiences of United States Marine Corps aviator Gregory "Pappy" Boyington and his World War II "Black Sheep Squadron".
