How to sign in to Hotmail In this article, we'll show you how to sign in to Hotmail so you can access your email account through the new Microsoft portal that integrates Outlook services. Signing in to Hotmail can be a somewhat tedious process. Since Microsoft decided to integrate all of its services into Outlook in 2012, the procedure to follow goes beyond entering your Hotmail email account and password. Specifically, this system changed its name on July 31 of that year because the Redmond boys decided to turn Microsoft's mail service around—dating back to 1996. Thus Outlook.com, which offered a makeover and a more current interface (although in other respects it remained the same). Since then, all MSN Hotmail, MSN or Live Hotmail customers have started receiving alerts from multinationals urging them to move to the new name: outlook.com. Many chose it, but others preferred to remain with the original direction. In fact, to this day it is still possible to create a Hotmail email account, as well as access to the old one that was created at the time. You want to know how? Watch out for these directions. How to log in to Hotmail To log in to Hotmail, just follow these steps: Go to Live.com the home page in the section under 'Sign in', enter your Hotmail email account. At this point, it is important to note that the full address must be written, i.e. the address must be entered. then on 'Next'. Finally, enter the password and press 'Login'. Et voila! That's how easy it is to get into your Hotmail email. But to access from your smartohone, it's best to download the official Microsoft Outlook app from your official app store—whether you're using an iPhone or an Android—and getting in there. How to recover your password in Hotmail In you may have forgotten your Hotmail password, but do not worry, we have good news. Microsoft's email service allows you to restore it in a few simple steps: Go to Live.com home page in the section under 'Sign in', enter your Hotmail email account. At this point, it is important to note that you must enter the full address, that is, the one ending in @hotmail.com. Click 'Next'. A screen will then appear in the section that says 'Enter password'. Tap 'I forgot my password'. Here, check the first option, the I forgot my password another screen will appear that says: We can help you reset your password and security information. First, enter your Microsoft account and follow the instructions below.. Type the characters you see and follow the prompts. How to create a new Hotmail account As we told you at the beginning of the article, even today you can create a new Hotmail email account. In fact, Microsoft allows you to create three different email domains: @outlook.com.outlook.com.com The only thing you need to do to do this is go to the page to create a new Microsoft email account. Select the one you're interested in from the drop-down list on the right and enter the name you want. What Outlook In 2012 offers, Microsoft introduced Outlook to give Hotmail a twist. The design and interface change was obvious, and there was an improvement in mail handling and agility in handling it. Over the years it has matured, offering an interface that has nothing to envy its competitors. In addition, there are also official apps for each operating system (iOS, Android), so keeping your Outlook emails up to date will be an easy task. In addition, your contacts will be linked to Skype, a very useful tool when it comes to doing online video meetings. It also has a warning system for fraudulent messages, not to mention that your search system works quite well. In short, Outlook is one of the best options for creating a new email account.
