[1] YBN was a collective of rappers, record producers, social media personalities and promoters. [2] The collective includes members from Africa, Alabama, Texas, California, Maryland, Narberth and Connecticut. [citation required] On September 7, 2018, YBN released its first full-length project, YBN: The Mixtape, which partnered with Gucci Mane, Wiz Khalifa, Lil Skies, Machine Gun Kelly and Chris Brown. [3] [4] [5] History In 2014, Nick Simmons, better known as YBN Nahmir, met YBN Almighty Jay in the video game Grand Theft Auto V.[6] Nahmir later introduced Almighty Jay to his close friend YBN Glizzy that he met san andreas in a role-playing game at Grand Theft Auto Online through xbox looking for group release. [7] YBN was originally a gaming collective where Nahmir and his friends played video games, recorded videos and uploaded their videos to YouTube and streamed on Twitch. [8] In 2015 Nahmir Almighty Jay finally decided to record the song after freestyling in Xbox Live group chats. A song called Hood Hood was the first song by both artists, and the collective's move away from video games towards music. [9] In 2015, crew member YBN Valley died of a heart attack. On September 18, 2017, Nahmir's debut single Rubbin Off the Paint was released, and the music video premiered at WorldStarHipHop. The single featured a production of Izak[11] and went viral, and was number 46 on the Billboard Hot 100 chart. Nahmir used the song's financial success to move to Los Angeles, California, and help the collective's friends move to Los Angeles as well, marking the first time they met in person. [1] Colleagues of the Collective soon began to have viral songs, although none of them had been mapped. YBN Almighty Jay's Eating Sticks in November 2017,[12] YBN Walker's Gutta in February 2018 and YBN NickyBaandz Been Tripp in April 2018. [2] YBN Nahmir and YBN Glizzy met Cordae Amari Dunston, better known as YBN Cordae, online in 2017. Although Cordae did not play video games, he had rapped longer than any other member of the YBN and was older than the rest of the collective. He decided to officially join the collective in 2018 and in May 2018 released a remix of Eminem's My Name Is[13][14], which quickly went viral. He continued his breakout single Old, a remix and a direct response to J. Cole's 1985 song (Intro to The Fall Off). [15] The song was mentioned in several publications, including XXL[16], Complex[17] and HipHopDX. [18] The group announced its first world tour in July 2018, scheduled for autumn 2018. [19] The group's first full-length project called YBN: The Mixtape, starring Nahmir, Almighty Jay and Cordae, was announced in August 2018 and released on September 7, 2018. [20] [21] It included singles Rubbin Off The Paint (Nahmir), Bounce Out With That (Nahmir), Chopsticks (Almighty Jay), Bread Winners (Nahmir and Almighty Jay) and Kung Fu (Cordae). On August 6, 2020, Nahmir took to Twitter to announce that the collective had officially disintegrated. [22] Cordae implied that the collective broke down and that he changed his name from YBN Cordae to Cordae only. He also did this on all his social media pages and streaming services. The young rapper has only been in the game for a few years, but he already understands the value of his platform and wants to make a difference through his music. Cordae Dunston was born in 1997 in North Carolina. At just 15, Cordae decided to try out his rap career, and he's mentioned OO's like Jay-Z, Dr. Dre, Mos Def, Talib Kweli, and more as early influences. She showed promise in early mixtapes such as 2014's Anxiety and 2016's I'm So Anxious, which were full of thoughtful and creative songs that included funny anecdotes in commentary on contemporary events and pop culture. But it wasn't until 2018 that Cordae achieved widespread attention with remixes and freestyles over classic rap songs (we'll get there later). With the release of their debut solo album, The Lost Boy, it's time to go over the most important facts about YBN Cordae that you need to know. Know.
