It is the most up-to-the-top of the three urban high schools run by Peoria Public Schools. Manual was opened by Manual Training High School in 1909 and moved to the Lincoln Avenue site of a new building located at 811 S. Griswold in January 1963. Manual is nicknamed the Rams, and the school's colors are orange and black. In the 1950s and early 1960s, Manual was a central Illinois football powerhouse. Manual was undefeated in 1958, 1959, 1960 and 1962 in the mid-state eight conferences. The highlight of the season was the traditional Turkey Day Thanksgiving game against Peoria High School, often drawing 10,000 Peoria Stadium (where all of Peoria's high school home games were There were no state football playoffs in those years. Ken Hinrichs was the football coach and the Illinois Coaches Hall of Fame. For 17 years, he won 121-40-7 (.752) for Manual. This record is the strongest ever compiled by an area coach in his tenure for more than ten years. Manual won the IHSA State Boys' Basketball Title in 1930 and four Class 2A titles in 1994, 1995, 1996 and 1997. The 1994 team was coached by Dick Van Scyoc. The 1995–97 teams were coached by Wayne McClain. Manual alums number in the many thousands and participate in all areas of life in Peoria and elsewhere. In recent years, Manual has increased student enrollment, in years that have passed enrollment is as low as 450 students. I just went back to where I had in the past 1,200 students in the next school year. Manual High School improved its testing scores during the 2009-2010 school year to meet the federal safe harbor.
