Download Dolphin Add-ons Dolphin Browser was quite a godsend when it first broke the surface of the largely innovative alternative browsers on the Android platform. Since then, alt-browsers have become plentiful and sophisticated, and the Dolphin team has responded with a high def, a redesigned version of its app designed for version 2.0 and above the Android operating system. The dolphin's feature set is definitely its strength. In addition to tabs viewing, bookmarks (which syncs with Google bookmarks), and multitouch scaling, it can also flag sites reading later, and tethered to Delicious. You can search for content on the page, subscribe to RSS feeds through Google Reader, and share links with social networks. The ability to upload YouTube videos is another plus, as are the swipes for switching open tabs. It also has a voice search on the new tab page, and you can choose if websites see you as an Android, iPhone or desktop user. There are additional themes and additions (only one at the time of writing) that can be downloaded for free. It has its pros, but the Dolphin Browser HD - like its old Sib - may take some getting used to. Its search bar is fairly intuitive, but there's a tiny learning curve to navigate through the list of options you see when you open a new tab. The area of gestures, though a neat option, is not for everyone. There is some setup time, since you will probably need to identify many of the most useful gestures. Its performance can be a bit laggy, and some actions aren't as intuitive as they should be - such as installing and changing the homepage and navigating to a new page from an open tab. The biggest drawback so far is that Dolphin HD takes over as the default web browser without asking permission. Overall, Dolphin HD looks good and there are some smooth features, but there are also a few drawbacks that will turn off some users. The ad-supported Dolphin version is free; But for a $5 fee, you get a version that cuts ads. Show reviews of Dolphin Browser for PC is one of the most interesting browsers in Google Play that will allow you to fully experience and enjoy in all the games available in Google Play. It has a highly interactive interface and provides Last Pass support when synchronized on Google bookmarks. If you use this browser, you'll be able to use gesture and voice navigation. Dolphin Browser for PC is not the first in speed when it comes to Google Play browsers, but it compensates for the lack of in this section with the added quality and universal choice of add-ons that include custom agents and gestures that allow you to download both desktop and mobile versions of web pages. While other browsers have added some of the Dolphin features to them, Dolphin has stayed ahead of the competition thanks to the addition of interesting items that have greatly improved its overall performance quality. Dolphin Browser features When you download Dolphin Browser on your computer the first idea may be that the user interface is basic and simple. You'll see tabs that will allow you to open many websites, just taping on the plus sign. What's in this impressive right?! But hang with us- you'll find that you can incredibly quickly and easily go through all the open pages, just by sharing to separate windows. This ease and quickness of reaction is something you won't experience while doing the same action, such as Firefox, Chrome or Maxton. The tape from left to right will give you access to the available bookmarks that are installed there by default, but you can delete them as you like. If you start on the right side, you will see available themes and add-ons, so you can quickly and easily change the look of the browser as you like! The Dolphin browser is constantly customized and improved. The latest version comes with a sharpened and visually improved unser interface. The menus come with interesting backlighting in the fluorescent green and sidebar on the left provides quick access to important features (such as settings), find a button and bookmark with just one click. On the right side, the settings button moves to make space for very graphic and visually appealing tabs. Supplements allow you to fully enjoy and make the best settings. You have: SpeedTest LastPass Evernote Web in Amazon Search Pdf Another appealing quality - Dolphin Connect, which allows you to sync bookmarks for all your mobile devices with your computer. Gesture-enabled navigational gestures Gestures on Dolphin Browser is a feature that allows you to design characters for actions you often perform. When you click on the designed symbol, you will perform a certain action. For example, if you are you circle as a page update symbol, when you click on the drawn circle, a certain page will be updated. You'll get 8 pre-designed gestures to get an idea of what you can do, and then you can let your imagination lose: start creating your own gestures for different functions and settings. Dolphin Browser comes with Sonar, an attractive navigation feature that allows you to access through the dolphin. Dolphin Browser is equipped with well-designed add-ons that will improve your PC browsing experience. For example, Dolphin Webzine brings you various publications available online all on one page, available through a sketch display. You select individual sketches to read a news feed of a particular publication, getting all the basic new information in it. The Battery Saver feature in Dolphin allows you to continue working longer by enabling energy-saving techniques such as blackout screen light and sleep mode. Dolphin Browser delivers solid and quality performance, and it actually feels more reliable than some other browsers, but it doesn't crash and we all know how frustrating it can be! Although Dolphin isn't the fastest browser, it provides an excellent balance of performance and elements, making it one of the best browser options for your PC. Give it a try to decide if this is the browser you've been waiting for all your life! If you are primarily a fan of speed, this will not be your number one choice, but in all other aspects, we are sure that you will be delighted.
