Black Butler is an anime series adapted from the manga series with the same title by Yana Toboso. Directed by Toshiya Shinohara and produced by A-1 Pictures, Black Butler follows the adventures of Sebastian Michaelis, a demon butler who is forced to serve Ciel Phantomhive, the young head of the phantomhive noble family, because of a contract he has signed. The anime adaptation was confirmed on July 11, 2008 by Gakken's Animedia magazine,[1] and the anime's official website began broadcasting a trailer for the anime on July 26, 2008. [2] The series premiered on October 3, 2008, on the Mainichi Broadcasting System and Chubu-Nippon Broadcasting. Two DVD compilations were released by Aniplex; the first compilation on 21 January 2009 and the second on 25 February 2009. [3] After the sixth episode, the anime begins to move away from the manga story. The second season, which premiered on July 2, 2010, and ended on September 17, 2010, continues this original story. The third season, Book of Circus (執, Kuroshitsuji: Sākasu no Sho), premiered on July 10, 2014 and ended on September 12, 2014. Serving as a soft reboot of the anime, the series adapts Noah Ark Circus arc from manga while ignoring the anime-exclusive events of the past two seasons. The series was followed by a two-episode OVA, Black Butler: Book of Murder, which adapts the Phantomhive Manor Murders bow. [4] The first OVA was released in Japanese cinemas on 25 October and the second on 15 November 2014. [5] Three themed music tracks are used for the first season. The opening theme is Monochrome no Kiss (albeit written as Monochrome Kiss) by Japanese rock band Sid, while the first final theme is I'm Alive! by American singer Rebecca Hollcraft, known as Becca. The second finale, which began airing with episode 14, is Lacrimosa de Kalafina. Two singles containing thematic music and other songs were released; The single containing Sid tracks was released on October 29, 2008, and the single from Becca was released on October 22, 2008. [3] The first single featuring songs from Kalafina has a release date of March 4, 2009. For the second season, the opening track is Shiver by The Gazette, and the final song Bird is sung by Yuya Matsushita, and the single was released in August 2010. The end of episode 8 is Kagayaku Sora no Shijima ni wa de Kalafina. The opening track of the third season is EMAIL by Sid, while the final track is Aoki Tsuki Michite by AKIRA. Aniplex later released the full blu-ray and DVD on May 7, 2014. Sebastian orders household staff, Baldroy, Finnian and Mey-Rin – the cook, gardener and housekeeper respectively – to prepare for Damian's arrival. Their attempts lead to disaster, while Baldroy burns the food, Finnian kills the garden by spraying the herbicides on it, and Mey-Rin breaks all the porcelain dishes. To resolve the situation, Sebastian orders them to rearrange the yard in a Japanese stone garden and has Bardroy make beef. Damian, impressed by the staff's preparations, plays a board game with Ciel in which his character loses one of his legs and is eventually cremated. After dinner, Damian calls his associate, commenting that the factory he owns has been sold and is trying to fraudulently get more money from Ciel. When Damian tries to return to the lounge, the scenario in the board game appears. Damian breaks one of his legs, and Sebastian locks him in the oven to be cooked with dessert; Later, he limps away from the mansion as Ciel and Sebastian laugh in the fun. 2 His butler, the most powerfulTranscript: Sono Shitsuji, Saikyô (Japanese: 執,強)10 October 2008 (2008-10-10)12 January 2011[9] After a visit by Mrs. Red and Lau, Ciel is being briefed and kidnapped for ransom by Azzurro Vanel, a drug dealer and leader of an Italian mafia. Sebastian is targeted for the first time by a sniper and a driver in a forest, but ends up tilting them off a cliff. He then easily defeats a lot of subingitors who guard the mansion, all with the use of various dining materials. As he approaches to retrieve his master, Sebastian is shot several times, but recovers instantly. Ciel asks for Sebastian's help, which allows the latter to save the first from Azzurro. 3Butler's, OmnipotentTranscript: Sono Shitsuji, Bannô (in Japanese: 執,半)17 October 2008 (2008-10-17)13 January 2011 Grell Sutcliff is requested by Madame Red to train under Sebastian. Tanaka later revealed that the Phantomive estate had been burned three years ago, in which Ciel's parents died in the fire. Elizabeth Midford, Ciel's fiancée, arrives at the property for a visit. Although Ciel does not want to dance with her, Sebastian convinces him to learn to dance for the sake of preserving his social reputation and teaches him the simple Viennese waltz. Later, Elizabeth unfortunately smashes Ciel's family ring on the floor, as she has already chosen a ring for him, although she is absent when she realizes its value to him. However, Ciel throws the family ring out the window, the window, his status as head of the family, with or without her. Ciel then asks a teary-eyed Elizabeth to dance with him. Later that night, Sebastian finds Ciel depressed in bed and restores the family ring unharmed. Ciel wonders how many generations have died wearing the ring. He tells Sebastian to sit next to him until he falls asleep, entertaining Sebastian, who comments on Ciel by showing him his weaknesses. 4Butler's, CapriciosTranscript: Sono Shitsuji, Suikyô (in Japanese: 執,静)24 October 2008 (2008-10-24)14 January 2011 The news of Jack the Ripper terrorizes the city of London. After receiving information from the Undertaker, Sebastian restricts the suspects to a man known as viscount de Drutat. Madame Red creates a plan for Sebastian, Ciel, and Lau to attend a ball to catch the culprit, who involves Ciel, in a dress and wig, posing as her young niece and Sebastian as her guardian. They realize that Elizabeth is attending the prom and must avoid her, lest she blow their cover. The Viscount likes ciel, who flirts with him hoping to learn his plans. Sebastian distracts Elizabeth and the other guests by pretending to be a magician. Alone in a room with the Viscount, Ciel loses consciousness, later waking up to find himself sold in a large underground auction, bound and blindfolded. When the Viscount removes the blindfold to show Ciel's eyes, Ciel holds them in jail, then opens them and calls Sebastian. The lights go out, shouts are heard, and the candles are suddenly re-lit to reveal Sebastian, who takes Ciel home as police arrive at the scene. 5Butler's, Chance EncounterTranscript: Sono Shitsuji, Kaikô (in Japanese: 執,邂逅)October 31, 2008 (2008-10-31)January 17, 2011 Ciel and Sebastian continue to watch Jack the Ripper and reach a confrontation at the home of the latest victim, Mary Jane Kelly. They discover that the killer is a combination of Madame Red and Grell, the latter being a Grim Reaper. While Sebastian is busy fighting Grell, Madame Red tries to kill Ciel, but hesitates and refuses to kill him. Grell kills Madame Red because of this and her life is restored before her eyes, because Grim Reapers can see a person's memories as he dies. She was always jealous of her older sister, who married the Count of Phantomhive, whom she loved because she was good to her. Even after her older sister married the Count, Madam Red still loved him. She decided to go ahead, and ended up marrying another man and conceiving a child. An accident killed her husband, and the internal injuries caused medical staff to abort the baby to save her. The following month, she visited them only to see the once large mansion in flames; colored with that red color she hated for so long. When one of her patients approached her for an abortion, children were a nuisance, Madame Red decided to kill those who would throw such a precious thing away. Later that night, she followed and killed her patient in crazy despair. That's when he met Grell, and the two killed prostitutes who had abortions like Jack the Ripper at the time. Sebastian is then ordered by Ciel to kill Grell. 6 His Butler. Spears, the Grimers administrator. Spears takes The defeated Grell back to his headquarters, ending Jack the Ripper's reign of terror. The next day, Ciel and Sebastian attend Mrs. Red's funeral. At the funeral, Madame Red was dressed in the traditional white dress. As she lay lifeless in her coffin, Ciel appears in a red dress claiming that the dark colors like white did not suit her and said the same words as her beloved Earl of Phantomive. After the funeral, they take care of Mary Jane Kelly's headstone. Sebastian tells Ciel that his nobility is a sign of weakness, seeing that he was afraid to kill his own aunt. Ciel responds by analogizing the handling of chess pieces should not be hesitated. Sebastian promises Ciel that he will stand by him, regardless of the circumstances. 7Butler's, MerymakingTranscript: Sono Shitsuji, Yûkyô (in Japanese: 執,興)14 November 2008 (2008-11-14)19 January 2011 Under the command of Queen Victoria, Ciel is to secure Houndsworth, a village controlled by a noble Henry Barrymore. The alleged resort is, in fact, a dark and sad place inhabited by a demon dog, Angela Blanc. Henry's maid, warns Ciel and Sebastian to leave the resort immediately, only for them to witness a death caused by the demon dog, Finnian intervenes when a dog wrongly accused is sentenced to punishment, forcing him and Bardroy, Mey-rin and Tanaka to be tied to a post, while Ciel is tied to a wall. He and Sebastian are heading to the castle to investigate. There they meet the ghosts of two princes who were assassinated four centuries ago, Edward V and his younger brother Richard, Duke of York. Ciel plays a game of chess against Edward V to pass the night, but the first loses, and the latter claims Sebastian as his winnings. Sebastian must serve as a butler for both Edward and Richard, an order made by Ciel himself. At nightfall, Ciel and Sebastian find a secret passage inside the castle library. Edward shows them his family's skulls on a chessboard, revealing that Richard has the missing knight's piece. After a struggle to get the skull out of Richard's clutches, it is revealed that Edward was holding a grudge against the two princes. Once the mystery is solved, the princes thank Ciel and Sebastian before leaving for the afterlife, and Ciel says he will leave the castle so it is without further renovations just before he leaves. The two princes, however, disappeared from the Tower of London. 17Butler's, OfferingTranscript: Sono Shitsuji, Hônô (in Japanese: 執,奉納)February 6, 2009 (2009-02-06)February 2, 2011 Ashe informs Ciel that an abandoned monastery in Preston, Lancashire has been taken over by a cult that is possibly planning to overthrow the government. Season 2 Episode Title Original Air Date 1 (25)Claimed ButlerTranscript: Kuro Shitsuji (Japanese: 執)2 July 2010 (2010-07-02) Earl Alois Trancy is awakened by his butler, Claude Faustus, who announces that his uncle Arnold Trancy, the Viaccount of Druitt, and a priest come for a visit. Although the mansion has already been redecorated, Alois orders Claude to restore him to his original state because his uncle suspects Alois' legitimacy as the son of the former boss. Alois tells the three of his traumatic childhood, when he was kidnapped at birth and sent to a village in slavery, until he realized that he was the only survivor of a plague that later spread throughout the village. Alois gives Arnold a large sum of money as a parting gift. A storm breaks out soon, and a camouflaged man appears asking for shelter. In exchange for revealing the contents of his luggage, camouflaged requires entry to the basement of the mansion. Alois shows him a special box of black tea, said to help an aromatherapy of darkness. However, a suspicious Claude attacks him, revealing his identity as Sebastian Michaelis, hiding Count Ciel Phantomive's lifeless body in his suitcase. Surprised to see Ciel in the suitcase, Alois orders Claude to capture Sebastian, while the two ascend to the main hall of the mansion. Sebastian breaks the chandelier, revealing Alois has nyctophobia, begging Claude not to walk away from him. Sebastian escapes by breaking the window as he passes through the woods in the storm. As the storm clears, Sebastian opens the tea box containing a blue ring. Once it's put on Ciel's finger, Sebastian tells him to wake up. 2 (26)Solo ButlerTranscript: Soroshitsuji (Japanese: 執)9 July 2010 (2010-07-09) Ciel, now awakened, is taken to the newly built bridge, where he gives his speech at the grand opening. Ciel then comes across Elizabeth Midford, who wants to look for a rare white deer that lives in the woods. Ciel immediately refuses, but eventually agrees once Elizabeth starts crying. Meanwhile, Lau and Ran-Mao bet on whether or not they find the deer. When a downpour occurs, Ciel tries to convince Elizabeth to stop the search for the moment and resume at another time. However, this just upsets her, as she runs away saying that he doesn't understand he feels about this. It was later revealed that Elizabeth was trapped on a boat in fast river currents. Lau points out that the old dam is about to explode. Ciel orders Sebastian to stop the flood and promises to save Elizabeth on her own. Surprisingly, Sebastian breaks the dam upstream, causing a huge amount of water to hurry. The boat capsized, but Ciel manages to catch Elizabeth. Ciel wakes up in Sebastian's arms and Elizabeth hugs him, apologizing in tears. Ciel shouts at Sebastian for not stopping the flood, which prompts Sebastian to say he changed the shape of the river to prevent future flooding. Elizabeth is still upset that they couldn't find the white deer, but Sebastian replies that the white deer is just over the hill. The group runs to look and discover that the white deer is a hill figure. While Ciel and Elizabeth hold hands, Elizabeth explains that if they find the white deer, their lives will be full of happiness. Ciel and Sebastian approach Scotland Yard any records, but it is not helpful because they remain classified. Ciel and Sebastian then turn to for information. He shows them a bunch of foamy ash in a small vial. At the funeral, the photographer and his overweight wife, Turner and Margaret, present the groom with the last photo the couple took along moments before his bride's death, but the groom drops the frame because of his bandaged hands. After further investigation, Ciel and Sebastian learned that all the victims were newly wedded women and went to the photographer's studio for the wedding photo. The pair also discover that the sparkling substance in the ashes of the latest victim is the magnesium powder which is likened to the powder used in flash pans for photography. It is also mentioned that Lau recently sold the largest shipment of magnesium to Turner. When the two arrive at the studio, Margaret destroys the studio by sprinkling powdered magnesium all over the place and lights it with the camera flash. She became completely insane because Turner made her life miserable without passionate love for her. Ciel follows Margaret and finds her at the top of the Big Ben Clock Tower by throwing barrels of magnesium powder out the window and the streets of London. It begins to attack Ciel, but is stopped by Sebastian and Grell before it can do more damage. When Ciel tries to question her, she suddenly bursts into flames, stating that the golden-eyed man told her to do so to find passion. Later, Ciel discovers that the records of previous cases were classified because the Trancy estate had investigated them. Sebastian explains to Ciel that three years ago, the head of the Trancy family died, leaving his son, Alois Trancy, to take over as Count and head of the family. 4 (28)Terrorist ButlerTranscript: Terōshitsuji (Japanese: 23執 July 2010 (2010-07-23) As Ciel and Sebastian board a train, they see a crate being carried on the train. After the two meet a group of strange passengers, a policeman resembling Fred Aberline provokes mass hysteria when he reveals that there is a criminal detained by police on the train. Later, he reveals himself as Aberlina's twin brother in the restaurant wagon, but Ciel doesn't remember him. After that, Ciel meets the station porter who carried the crate on the train, recognizing him by the scratches on his hand, and concludes that he is the kidnapper. The doorman runs to the lounge car caboose, disconnects the cable, and asks for the money from a nobleman, whose son is being held hostage. Sebastian stops this from happening, but is soon troubled when the kidnapper explains that he has a bomb inside the train that detonate the train once it stops, urging it to follow the train. Meanwhile, Ciel finds the boy kidnapped in the sarcophagus, but is taken hostage by a killer mentioned above, who demands that the train be stopped. However, not only it is revealed to everyone that the train cannot be stopped because of the bomb, but the train is heading towards a broken bridge, and there could be an outbreak of cholera. Many of the strange passengers stand up to help the situation, but Sebastian denies their offer and insists on taking care of everything himself. He alters the crisis by eliminating the killer, tearing the roof of the dining machine containing explosives, and stopping the train just before reaching the broken bridge. Ciel warns Sebastian to be on guard, because he feels anxious in the mansion. During the costume ball, a passing maid spills red wine all over Ciel's costume, so she takes Ciel to a private location to clean up the mess before the stains. After Ciel notices that the spill has not been thoroughly cleaned, the housekeeper begins to act strangely, commenting on his blue eye. She licks the ear before finally running away with eye patches. Ciel follows her, eventually reaching the cellar, where Ciel begins to hallucinate, hearing and seeing when Sebastian was first there for the special box of black tea. The visions make Ciel get frantic, so much so that he vomits before he runs off into the woods outside. Ciel already realizes that the housekeeper was indeed Alois the whole time. Claude and the triplet servants join Alois as Sebastian returns to Ciel. Confident his butler is superior to Ciel, Alois threatens to slaughter everyone who attends the costumed ball if Ciel does not surrender voluntarily. To Alois's surprise, Ciel agrees. On the way to the Phantomive estate, it reveals in a flashback that his real name is Jim Macken, and that he had a younger brother named Luka Macken. Alois confesses to his younger brother that he wants the villagers to die because of the way they were treated after becoming orphans. Later that night, they discover that all the inhabitants of the village were dead, which causes Alois to erupt in a delirious joy. After attacking the dead for their personal belongings for a while, Alois searches for his brother only to find him dead, causing him to sing in pain. Years later, Alois, among a group of male slaves, are brought to former Cap Trancy, recognized as a pedophile. Although he was first rejected by Trancy, Alois hears a method of calling a fairy who grants wishes. He meets Claude in the form of a spider, but cannot think of a desire. Alois later uses his sex appeal to defeat Trancy, as well as his inheritance, and soon enters into a contract with Claude some time later. Claude tells him that Sebastian was the one who destroyed the village as an order from a former master. After discovering that Ciel Phantomhive is Sebastian's new master, Alois intends to look for Ciel and make him suffer so as to make Sebastian suffer for Luka's murder. Currently, Grell blocks the carriage and gets to take Alois' soul. Alois begins to crawl as Hannah defends herself from Grell. Later, he breaks down his hands and knees in despair for Claude, when the latter arrives just in time to get him from a hungry wolf. For his part, Claude suddenly crushes his master's head, because he loses his appetite for a soul which would give him the love of a mere butler. Taking Alois' ring, Claude, Claude, that there is still a use for Alois's soul. Grell appears and shows no hostility towards Claude, but he was interested in the state of affairs. Hannah, who was impaled by Grell, spreads over Alois' body, removes her left eye and appears to absorb her desire. 9 (33)Hollow ButlerTranscript: Uroshitsuji (Japanese: 虚執)August 27, 2010 (2010-08-27) At the Trancy estate, Claude gathered his fellow household demons and informs them that his plan is in motion. He explains that Ciel and Alois are more similar than they seem, which he intends to use to his advantage. At the Phantomive estate, Ciel is called to solve a case in which a poor boy had his eyes drawn by a rich boy. After being attacked out of the blue, Sebastian asks Ciel to stay hidden in a crate. Sebastian meets and fights both William T. Spears and Ronald Knox, who is still investigating Alois' soul. Meanwhile, Ciel slowly remembers his memories of himself, even when Sebastian put him in a trunk and told him to stay there. He bursts out of the crate and flees the scene because of it. Ciel is soon framed by the crime he is currently investigating, to which Hannah tells the police that he is an Alois psychopath. Sebastian will soon be able to get rid of Spears and Knox. Despite Ciel's protests, he is taken to three psychiatrists, who torture him to escape his confusion. Claude, who later killed psychiatrists, uses the shock induced by torture, hypnosis and Alois's ring which contains his soul to reveal that Luka made a contract with Sebastian to burn the village, thus combining the memories of Ciel and Alois. Then this makes Ciel believe that Sebastian was the one who killed his parents. After Sebastian defeats Hannah, who served as a diversion, he ends up discovering an angry Ciel. After Claude's intervention, Ciel commands Sebastian to disappear from his sight. Claude then takes Ciel back to the Trancy estate as his new young master. Meanwhile, Sebastian begins to radiate demonic energy, indicating that the struggle for Ciel's soul has escalated to higher depths. 10 (34)Zero ButlerTranscript: Zerōshitsuji (Japanese: 執)3 September 2010 (2010-09-03) Sebastian is obliged to follow the Trancy estate in the woods around the mansion. While having a picnic, Grell explains that Claude is responsible for The Killing of Alois and the Merging of His Memories with Ciel. Claude tries to convince Ciel to break his contract with Sebastian and make a new one with him as a servant, but Ciel quickly refuses. Ciel wonders why Sebastian allegedly betrayed him, cutting the roses in the garden and finding Hannah there. Sebastian convinces Grell to help collect information on the village where Alois lived Luka, that was destroyed. Ex-prostitute informs them of the carnage she witnessed Luka, saying she spared because of the kindness she showed him. The triplet servants suddenly cut off the former prostitute in the lead, in which Sebastian immediately engages in the fight against them. The servant triplets are easily defeated when Sebastian hangs them from a tree, while Grell finishes them with the scythe of his death. The film recording of the triplet servants plays, showing that they were present during the destruction of the village. The recording also shows Ciel and Hannah in the garden as the last scene of events. An aggravated Sebastian sprints back to the Trancy estate in response. Ciel smashes the bathroom mirror under the impression that he saw Alois' reflection. He orders Claude to clean up the mess while taking Hannah with him to the bed bedroom, to the surprise of the former. Ciel complains to Hannah that she wants to go back to her own mansion. Hannah opens her mouth and reveals a yawning abyss. In her mouth, Ciel looks at Alois' eye writhing and looking at him, seeing a frightening reflection of himself, to the point of fainting due to terror. Outside the mansion, Sebastian confronts Claude, and their contract with the rose is broken. As they begin to fight each other, Ciel's voice can be heard from a tower clock covered with thorns. While Ciel calls Sebastian, informing him that he will climb to the top, Claude claims that Sebastian is no longer a butler because he violated the order not to be seen by his young master. However, Ciel's voice gradually becomes that of Alois, revealing that Alois's soul has taken over the leadership of Ciel's body. Alois taunts Sebastian from the edge of the clock tower, shouting that he will inevitably fail. Before the two can play, Hannah appears in front of the two butlers and smiles. 11 (35)Crossroads ButlerTranscript: Kiroshitsuji (Japanese: 岐執)10 September 2010 (2010-09-10) After explaining that Alois's soul had taken over the leadership of the body of Ciel, Hannah Sebastian and Claude to venture competitively through a maze of hedge, collecting stamps along the trivial road in order to reach the clock tower. Ciel realizes that he has been picked up and sifted through the memories in his head to decide which ones are his. Butlers realize that the answers to the questions are changed during their journey. Ciel begins to remember some of last season's events, and Alois notes that Ciel is struggling to recover his body. As Ciel recalls that his revenge is complete, the labyrinth begins to change. Ciel begins to wonder why Sebastian didn't eat his soul, so it appears as a question in the maze. Sebastian couldn't eat Ciel's soul because he lost his arm with the contract seal on him, which provided a window of opportunity for Claude to Ciel's soul. Claude is asked why he killed Alois, and replies that he killed him because it could eventually be used as a tool to get Ciel. In L a disappointed Alois sends Claude on a parachute back to the beginning of the garden. Claude reveals in his answer to a question that it was actually Hannah, and not Sebastian, who contracted with Luka. Hannah confirms and said she's tired of eating human souls because they've become boring. She tells him that Luka was different and that when he fulfilled his wish, he thanked him for killing the townspeople, which no one had ever done. Hannah, very attached to Alois and Luka, asks Alois to make a new contract with her to be reunited with Luka. Sebastian and Claude gather at the site of the last question, and Ciel takes over his body, saying that until Sebastian eats his soul, he is his butler. However, Alois quickly kidnaps Ciel's body, saying he has found those who love him. While the butlers race him, he makes a contract with Hannah. Alois faints after telling Claude that she wants his love, and Hannah informs the butlers that she has entered into a contract with Alois as well as With Ciel. 12 (36)Black ButlerTranscript: Kuroshitsuji (Japanese: 執)17 September 2010 (2010-09-17) Sebastian and Claude rowing a boat to a remote island, while Hannah holds Ciel's body. After removing the demonic sword from her body, Hannah places it on the ceiling in a cave, thus beginning the duel. Even the butler fails to deliver a fatal blow during the battle, after passing the sword back and forth, it seems to be a stalemate. Sebastian uses the sword to split the island in half creating a large crack in the ground. In oblivion, Ciel says that Alois would never understand what motivates Sebastian to fight. Claude loses his balance after landing on a cliff that breaks under him, and Sebastian throws the demon sword through Claude's body. Sebastian comments that Claude didn't realize that Alois played with him the whole time. Claude then replies that Alois was able to make his long life interesting and therefore Alois' soul was more precious than he thought. Alois gives in to Ciel and apologizes for what he did before he disappeared. Hannah sheds tears of joy and reveals that the contract Alois made with her was for Claude to recognize him. Hannah falls into the ocean below with Ciel in her arms, urging Sebastian to dive and reach Ciel, only to kill him just as he wakes up. Meanwhile, Hannah moves back to the island with Claude's body, reuniting them with Alois and Luka. Some time later, Ciel wakes up in bed with Sebastian preparing him New Moon Drop tea; however, it is shown that he only goes through the movements, as the kettle and cups are empty. Ciel sends farewell to all whom he knew, dismisses his servants by leaving them in charge of the mansion, the mansion, He's leaving with Sebastian. It is discovered that, as a condition of Alois' desire, Alois demanded that Hannah make Ciel's soul untouchable by either Sebastian or Claude. She did this by making Ciel reborn as a demon. As a result, Sebastian cannot consume Ciel's soul, but is still bound by their contract. Sebastian later carries Ciel through a field of black-and-white roses to a rock. Ciel says he is blessed forever to have Sebastian the butler, because Sebastian replies that he is forever obliged to serve a fellow devil of Hell. Ciel notes that the butler has only one answer to give. Sebastian asserts his master's service as he jumps off the cliff into the depths of the underworld. Soon, it becomes apparent that one of the murders was made by mistake by a snake that was trained to go after The smell of Ciel, later revealed to be sent by Snake from Noah's Arc Circus in an attempt to avenge his friends. The Reverend deduces, also that Siemens jokingly falsified his own death, but killed shortly afterwards by another guest - Woodley, who wanted to frame Ciel to prevent him from destroying his diamond business. The case is considered closed, but soon, Arthur Conan Doyle observes the inconsistencies in the theory and reveals the truth. Jeremy Rathborne is Sebastian. Sebastian acknowledges and reveals that the identity of the culprit was known all along – it was Earl Grey, the Queen's butler, whom he sent to kill Siemens, to disrupt Germany's financial stability and, at the same time, jokingly frame Ciel for murder as compensation for Noah's Arc Circus accident. Ciel and Sebastian simply used the opportunity, knowing that Siemens would be killed anyway, and framed Woodley, who deserved to go to prison. For this, Sebastian managed to orchestrate the entire ordeal - to make the Queen's secret task, to clarify the Phantomhive name of any possible charges of murder, and send a guilty businessman to prison. This experience influences Arthur Conan Doyle and he embarks on his career. Finally, Ciel invites Snake to live in the Phantomhive mansion.
