Go to the main content of Barcelona commuter service DESCRIPTION AND FEATURES R4 line is part of rodali de Catalonia in the suburbs of Barcelona and operated by renfe. It was established in 1989 as the C4 line of the genus of Barcelona RENFE, already with the route of Saint-Vicente de Calders-Manresa. Between 1995 and 2005, the R4 branch reached Cerdanyola Universitat. The R4 line is located on the perimeter and connects Penedes with Baix Llobregat, Barcelona, Waltz West and Bages, is the longest commuter line in Barcelona service, with a total of 143 km. The route starts at St. Vicente de Calders, where it runs along the Tarragona-Barcelona line or from the inland territories of the so-called 8 Catalan towards El Vendrell, Vilafranca del Penedes, Sant Sadurn d'Anoella and Martorell. From Martorella the interval of passing trains is intensifies and the route goes down the left bank of the Llobregat River towards the capital region of Barcelona. From L'Hospitalet de Llobregat enters Barcelona Sant and continues through the tunnel Plaza of Catalonia and Avengud Meridian towards Sant Andreu Arnal and Montcada Bifurcasio. Circulating on the Barcelona-Manresa-Lleida line serves several important cities in The West Wallis, such as Serdanola del Valles, Sabadell and Terrassa, where part of the services of the R4 Nord end. The R4 line continues towards Manresa, taking as the most remarkable intermediate population of SantVice de Castelle. It runs north from the northern borders of Tarragona province to Barcelona, passing through the inner region of Alt Penedes. The line then continues towards central Catalonia, describing a U-shaped route through the Barcelona area. According to 2008 data, the average working day highest on any Barcelona commuter rail line after R2. R4 trains use the Meridian Tunnel in Barcelona, where they share the rodalies de Catalunya rail line in Barcelona R1, R3 and R7, as well as the rgo1 commuter rail line and the R12 regional rail line, causing the stations of The Sants, Plaza de Catalunya and Arc de Triomphe. South of Barcelona they operate on the SantVicen de Calders-Vilafranca del Penedes-Barcelona railway, using SantVicente de Calders as their southern end, north of Barcelona they operate on the Lleida-Manresa-Barcelona railway, with no services ending north of Manresa. Along with the R1, R2 and R3 lines, the R4 (then just the 4th Line) began service in 1989 as one of the first lines of the cercan'as commuter rail system for Barcelona, known as Rodalies Barcelona. In 1995, the branch to the Cerdanyola Universitat train station was opened to serve passengers and was incorporated into the R4 line. With the establishment of the commuter rail line in Barcelona R7 in 2005, the branch was transferred to R7. In the long term, it is projected that the R4 route south of Barcelona will be moved to R2 and all its services will be discontinued at Barcelona-El Prat airport.
