It's time to help someone else teach the alphabet. In this project, the class will create an electronic ABC book with letters, pictures and sounds! Engage has probably been sharing books on the alphabet, such as Chicka, Chicka, Boom, Boom and Dr Seuss's ABC. These help make learning and using the alphabet fun, and help students start thinking about how letters are associators with sounds and words. Once students have developed some expertise in the alphabet, let them know that they will create a book to teach other students. Share the book from A to Z in online sources and read Chris Van Allsburg's The Z was Zapped (it was Z). To finish your class ABC book, explain to the class that each student will be responsible for one letter of the alphabet (or more if your class size is smaller). Allow students to select their letters or assign them based on student ability. Allows students to create a page in a vehicle such as Wixie and add pictures of additional objects that begin with that letter. The Wixie Stickers Library (Alphabet>Images) contains a folder of images for each letter of the alphabet. Record a sentence about each student's letter and what starts with the letter. Save the letter files and share Team Project from the Wixie button or the Projects button on Pixie. Share Unite students work together to create a class of ABC books! You can easily merge individual student pages using Wixie's Import Pages feature. Create a title page and use Storyboard view to rearrange pages in alphabetical order. Print a copy to place it in your class library. Create a PDF version and send it to parents along with the project URL. You can also embedd the project in your class web page. Put your ABC book in another class. How students discuss the page they create and choose each tag When you start this project, you will have already introduced each letter of the alphabet. Creating an alphabet book requires students to practice what they know about a letter. rubric-maker.com first opportunity to evaluate the understanding that your children create their rubric with a selection of pictures for their cool letter. When students are looking for art and stickers with the same first voice, ask them about their choices to help determine understanding and identify misunderstandings. Each student's audio narration of their choices will give you an idea of verbal proficiency and reading fluency. Sources Seuss, ABC by Dr. Seuss: An Amazing Alphabet Book!
