Go to the Airfix Tribute Forum website 28. lokakuuta 2013 kello 12.33 #airfixloyalfan I'm a long time builder of Airfix kits, starting with my youth with a ceiling full of pocket-money Airfix aircraft kits. We were lucky enough to have a model building club in my primary school and I enthusiastically attended, even building a great Battle for Britain display at the school entrance with my best friend to celebrate my 40th birthday. I even won a contest with my Airfix Nightfighter Hurricane and then displayed on The Hendon Airshow. Later I returned to the model building and was an active member of the original Airfix forum and a member of the Airfix Club. When Airfix went into administration in 2006 I joined the newly formed Airfix Tribute Forum and have been active there ever since, helping as an administrator to run the forum and maintain the history of Airfix and the art resource window - the forum celebrated its 7th birthday this year and has over 6,000 members. I also help organize group builds on a forum where members join and build Airfix kits on the theme or to mark an anniversary, they are very popular and for 7 years have seen thousands of airfix kits built. I also support the ATF Facebook page. I joined the new Airfix Club as soon as it was formed by Hornby and have been a member ever since, I'm collecting all the limited edition and club kits in addition to my cache of general release Airfix kits - a collection now in a few hundred. As well as making kits for my personal display I also do in-box and build reviews for ATP, as well as airfix kit builds published in the journal Airfix Model World - including the Airfix TSR2 Stratos4 Meteor Sweeper with a fully zero built TELAR launch vehicle. In 2009, I and four other ASF members decided to form an IPMS (UK) Special Interest Group dedicated to Airfix. I served as President of SIG for the first year and organized our Airfix 60th Anniversary display at the Scale Model World this year. I flew back and forth 4,000 miles from Cyprus to the UK with a suitcase packed with several clothes, a newly constructed test shot, then a new 1/350 HMS Illustrious, 1/144 Saturn V, 1/72 Sea King, 1/76 Matilda most of which were finished in all night sessions a week before the show (paint still from the illousous show). The display has been a great success and Airfix Simulation SIG has gone from strength to strength and is now one of the largest and most active, recently participating in its 70th model show. This year's Scale Model World SIG will be making special IPMS 50th anniversary display of Airfix kits from 1963 and 2013. In Cyprus, where I live, there is an active group IPMS Cyprus, which organizes a two-year show and competition. In addition to participating and displaying my Airfix models, I will also organize young model builders - Airfix and Humbrol have generously sponsored this for the last two shows. I also try to encourage new builders with Airfix Make and take events with project Airfix packages with were very popular with children. I think it's important to involve children in hobbies as it teaches them valuable skills and patience, and gives them an understanding of the story by allowing them to hold a piece of it in their hands.
