The grand California Disneyland Hotel Paradise Pier Downtown Disney District Downtown Disney Back in 1955, when Walt Disney opened its park called Disneyland on 160 acres of former orange groves in Anaheim, California, you don't need a map to get around. It had only 12 trips and three main areas. Today, Disneyland Resort includes a much larger Disneyland Park and Disney California Adventure theme park, a Downtown Disney shopping and dining area, and three hotels owned and operated by Disney. Our Map of Disneyland Resort is designed to give you an overview of the resort. To navigate while you're there, you can pick up a printed card in one of the Parks. To get an overview of the Disneyland resort, you can take a guide to the Disneyland California resort. 01 of 04 Adapted from Google Maps Map Hotel Disneyland May Look Too Little be helpful. I wish it could be more right here, but don't worry, there are other options. You can go to the interactive version where you can zoom in and out, see where everything is and get a brief summary of each hotel's performance. This map shows the location of all our recommended Disneyland hotels. Those with dollar signs are the cheapest. Blue pins are Disney-owned hotels, and the greens are a 10-minute walk from the entrance to Harbour Bull Boulevard. You can use the guide to find your perfect Disneyland joker along with this card. If you're looking at those green pins and wondering why some of the hotels that look close - and whose hype might say across the street from Disneyland isn't on it, you're not going crazy. Don't believe what hotels say. Check them out on the map and know that there is only one entrance to Disneyland, on Harbour Boulevard. Continue to 2 out of 4 below. 02 of the 04 Adapted from Google Maps Disneyland was the original theme park, one that everyone else took inspiration from. After more than fifty years, you could call his grandfather of them all, still popular and for many, still the happiest place on Earth, as Walt Disney called it. Our Disneyland map is designed to give you an overview of the theme park. You can get a detailed map when you get to the park, or find one online or in an app that will help you get around. This map of Disneyland shows the main areas and some of the most popular attractions, but it's not enough to get around all day long. To navigate while you're there, pick up a printed map of Disneyland when you enter the park to help you get around. This guide will help you get to know Disneyland. Continue to 3 out of 4 below. 03 of the 04 Adapted from Google Maps California Adventure is the sister park of Disneyland, their entrances are located directly opposite each other. Our Disney California adventure map is designed to give you a review of the theme park. To navigate while you're there, pick up a printed Disney California Adventure card when you enter the park to help you get around. To give you a sense of scale, it's about 35 miles from LAX to Disneyland. It is not intended to be used as a roadmap for driving or navigation, but this simplified version cuts out a lot of distractions and shows you lying ground. If you need to get to Disneyland, there are many ways to do this. You them all in the guide to getting to Disneyland. At just 500 acres, the Disneyland Resort is a dwarf and hemmed in the vast sprawl of Greater Los Angeles. It consists of two themes (Disneyland and Disney California Adventures), three on-site resorts, and downtown Disney Entertainment and Dining Area. This map shows Disneyland in the middle of Anaheim and California's Interstate 5, which runs from the Mexican border to the Oregon border. 01 of 03 Google Maps Once upon a time at the Disneyland resort, you can easily walk between two theme parks, Downtown Disney, and all three hotels in place. The entrances to the two theme parks collide with each other, separated by about 75 yards. This map shows the relative proximity of two theme parks within the Disneyland resort. Now you can download the official Disneyland Continue app 2 of the 3 below. 02 of 03 Walt Disney Parks Is the original Disneyland. It opened on July 17, 1955 and was the only theme park designed and built under the direct direction of Walt Disney. Since its opening, Disneyland has seen a number of extensions and overhauls and upgrades and now covers about 85 acres.
