In our entertainment you will find over 500 games – free, directly playable on smartphones and computers! When the new iPhone update was released a few days ago, there was hardly any innovation that aroused the envy of Android users. But one thing: the ability to create your own emojis. Now everyone wants to know: Is there android-memory? not directly . But: There's a little trick! We will tell you how Android users get their memorabilia. What's the note? Let's start from scratch with the question of what emojis are actually. You know emojis you'd probably like to use in your messages via WhatsApp, Facebook chat, Instagram chat and company. Yellow round faces are ideal for expressing your feelings. There is a grin, the mouth sends a kiss on the journey of the heart, the eyes open in horror or tears laugh at it. And then there are numerous other symbols, animals, objects and company. But what are the memorabilia? Apple has created a way to personalize emojis. Say: It can give them their facial features, their hairstyle, maybe their beard or glasses - just due to their appearance. And Apple has named these individual and personal emojis memoji. his name is great . Finally, cleverly link the words me and emoji. So you can translate everything a little less subtle than my emoji. That's what the Memoji regulator looks like on the iPhone. And with a trick there's an Android note as well. Picture: PC-SPECIALIST Memoji-Hype on Twitter & Co. When Apple rolled out the iOS 13 update on September 19, 2019, Apple's note quickly turned out to be among the latest features of the operating system of absolute interest. On Twitter the euphoria was great among Apple users. It goes on to say, #Memoji #iOS13 From now on there @whynotbealion #Memoji @AxelTelzerow (@DeepaRajan23@DeepaRajan23). You said, I do well like I do but deep down I also want #memoji (I pretend it's #Memoji #jealous good, but deep down I also want a memoji, @charlottepalesa). (I'm not usually someone who's @themixedmama jealous. And: yo tmb quiero #memoji (I also want memoji, @florkiux). Android-Memoji - Is there? Good news for Android users among you: With a little trick you can get Android notes as well. However, you need a little deviation to get your Memoji sticker packages. Because: You need to find a friend or acquaintance who owns an iPhone with iOS 13 or borrows his phone or five minutes of his time. And how exactly does this work now? Memoji is easy to configure – and the owner of the iPhone probably already knows about it. However, in a nutshell: You go to the WhatsApp chat and find the ability to create a Memoji tag using an open keyboard. then lets get started . You choose skin color, hair color, hairstyle, eye color. eye shape, shape and lip color as well as facial contour, and then you can complete other features such as holes, braces, moles and co. Once you're done, the label set is automatically created with different emotions. Sending sticker sets via WhatsApp the owner of the iPhone can send you the tag collection, but he will have to send each label individually. Once they've all arrived, it's a good time to have your iPhone partner in crime remove memojis that are personal for you, otherwise They continue to save Memoji as a favorite now you can tap one memoji posted on your Android phone and get the opportunity to add it to your favorites. You do the same with all the other tags – and you already have your personal collection as an Android memorabilia! In the future, you can use them as normal in your messages. Even if you can't change your Android emoji again and again and play with options and the way to your personal memoji is a little awkward, the principle is better than no definitely true here. Or you can use Facebook's new avatar instead. Quickly and easily you create your own memoji. Pictured: Computer Expert Help for Android Memoji and install the app What do I think of the hype around memojis? Are you an iPhone user and you already have some creation? Or do you own #teamandroid want to find an iPhone owner who also creates a memoji? Let us know in comments. You may also have an iPhone, but you have no idea how to play the iOS 13 update on it to create a memoji for you or an Android-friendly user. Then it's best to get past the expert computer near you. There you will find a professional who can update the new iPhone game rucki-zucki. Or do you even buy the new iPhone 11 and need to set it up before you can start creating memojis? Then you'd definitely like to transfer data from the old to the new iPhone. Also in this case our expert is happy to help you and take over the data transfer for you. Update from 07.02.2020: iOS 13.4 brings new memojis as you may know, Apple will provide beta versions of the next scheduled update so that testers can test new features, provide feedback, and add increased offers to Apple developers before rolling updates to all Apple users. Now it's leaked: the iOS 13.4 beta version has new memojis in your luggage. In the future, you can equip your memorabilia with a disturbing face, use the No gesture with cross arms in front of your body, pretend that a computer is a backgammon, or let hearts fly around your head. This means that for all Android users, after the official release, you have to oblige an Apple user-friendly to take over the Android memoji configuration for you and then send you new tags. have fun!
