Here are some very basic umpiring rules. Whether you're a first time judge or just want to update yourself with the rules come along with our first steps to Umpiring Classes, which are a great way to learn basic umpiring along with people of the same umpiring level as yourself. Where and from what part of the court can I judge? The games will be judged by two judges who stand on opposite sides of the court (outside court lines). Always the judge to your right from the center circle. You are also umpiring the entire sideline from the side (throw ins) court on your side of the court. You work with the ball game right up to your goal end. Who blows the whistle for the Center Pass? The whistle blew for each centre to pass the referee, who had a goal scored in their goal end until the centre's next pass. How do I know who has a Pass to the Center? The easiest way to remember who has a central pass is to have a tie on your hand, showing which way the next central pass goes, that is: you have a tie in your right hand if the team on your side of the court has the next central pass and vice versa. What are the penalties for violations? Penalties for violations are: Free pass Penalty Pass Throw in throw free pass awarded for: Offside Breaking Ball More than a third (the ball must be touched by the player in each third of the court) Footwork Held the ball (the ball must be released within 3 seconds) Replayed the ball Where and who takes a free pass: Free pass is awarded to the team. It is accepted where the violation occurred, and the pass can be taken by any player allowed in this area of the penalty pass awarded for: Contact (with the ball or player) Obstacle (being within 0.09 m from the player with the ball) Where and who takes the free pass? A player who breaks obstruction by defenders occurs in the circle of the goal, a penalty is awarded. A player can choose to shoot or pass where the intruder stood INTERNATIONAL RULE BOOKS ARE AVAILABLE from NETBALL NORTH HARBOUR - $7.00 BEGINNERS UMPIREAttadale Netball Club trains new junior referees each season with the help of the Umpiring Coordinator and a team of dedicated senior referees. The training program is random and flexible, but it is limited by numbers, and in some cases applicants may be on the waiting list. Expect referees tend to have the opportunity to learn to judge in the same season that they apply. If you are interested in learning how to judge this season, please write to the Umpiring Coordinator as as much as possible. You must be aged 13 and over in a year when you want to take part in the club's umpiring training program. If you are younger and still want to participate, please email the Umpiring Coordinator to discuss what steps you can take. The club's umpiring program is not an accredited program, but you will have the opportunity to obtain accreditation during participation. IMPORTANT INFO FOR BEGINNER UMPIRESE, it's very important that you know the rules! This may seem really obvious, especially if you've been playing for a while, but the game may seem completely different when you hold the whistle instead of the ball. You will learn all kinds of new things as a judge! In order to be really aware of your rules, it is a good idea to read the official rule book that you can access on the Netball Australia website. It's also a good idea to learn how the new rules work that you can do with netball Australia resources on the above link, or on the page of our club's new rules. The rule book isn't very long, but if you've never read it all, it may seem a little complicated. If you are having trouble with anything in it, or you have any questions about applying what you read, then please contact Umpiring Coordinator. Secondly, it is a must that the trainee referees complete the online Netball Theory Exam Rules: you will only be allocated for games as an intern if you have completed it. The Rules of Netball Theory Exam is a test of your knowledge of the rules. You can access the exam through your MyNetball account. Once you've logged in, click on the online learning tab and then click on Green Enrol on the Rules Netball Theory exam. Passing the exam will show you that it is very important to read the rules! You can have a copy of the rule book with you when you take the exam, but knowing that the rules before you take the test will definitely make it easier. It is important that you receive a score of at least 70% and then email the Umpiring Coordinator copy of the certificate (this should be available to you after you have completed the exam). You can take the test several times to get the required score if you need to, but please do it yourself! If you don't complete the test, we won't let you take the court to judge for the club. This is because it is very important that you are confident in the rules and it is a great way to do that as well as get official accreditation. Thirdly, we recommend that all new referees of the club pass the tests before the start of the season. This is a great way to get the initial nerves aside in conditions of very low pressure, while learning the very basics and getting a sense of how umpiring works. This is organized by the Umpiring Coordinator after registration has been closed and up to Trials. Processes. Contact the Umpiring Coordinator if you have not received any messages to arrange umpiring on trials by the weekend before the trials begin. Fourth, you have the option to take the Foundation Umpire Educational Course (it's also available in your MyNetball account under the online learning tab). The Foundation Umpire Educational Course gives you a more hands-on understanding of the rules and how to apply them, as well as other umpiring elements such as the direction you need to work when you are umpiring. If you decide to take the course, you must send your certificate to the Completion Of Umpiring Coordinator when you graduate. It is highly recommended that you take the course if you can. However, if you already have, or are not able to, or you just like some extra reading, then there are a lot of resources on our site that you can look at, both on the Umpire Development page and the rules page. Fifth, if you are part of the current season's intern group, you will take the court for several games during the season. The number of games you are placed on will vary depending on your availability, availability of appropriate ratings for the referee, and availability of our team umpiring coaches. We want you to have a positive experience while you learn the ropes, so during the workout, you'll have a umpiring coach with you at your games. You will get your coach's support throughout the game, so you can ask questions and learn about applying your umpiring knowledge until you are ready to make your own games. This will continue until you, your coach, and the Umpiring coordinator all agree that you are confident enough and qualified to referee the game yourself. While you have your umpiring coach and are still training, they will get paid per game. Once we confirm that you are ready, you will be placed on the team list and contacted for games when our experienced squad is unable to do so and you will get paid per game. These games will change and not necessarily be every week. Then, next season, you can put yourself forward to join an experienced squad for regular games. Questions? If you have questions about this process or umpiring training in general, please feel free to email the Umpiring Coordinator to help you. USING MYNETBALL FOR ONLINE LEARNINGIf you're new to MyNetball online learning, feel free to use this walk through the guide. It has instructions to access online training through your MyNetball account. If you have any additional questions about using MyNetball for online training, you can contact the IT coordinator to help you. USEFUL LINKS Contact us with The Privacy Store Policy Site Follow the Rules and Interpretations Have you read/understood the Book of Rules? Request the referee coach to look at you every few tips and tricks. Maintain accreditation/attend umpiring courses. Watch NNL judges on TV for attitude, positioning, etc. Be in shape as players/warm up wearing appropriate uniforms - WHITE - as it gives a sense of power and pride. Don't be lazy. This can be interpreted as disinterest. Do not be late for the start of the match - this can be interpreted as disinterest. Do not talk on your mobile phone or other people during the match. Blow your whistle LOUDLY and assertively. Make sure you are always able to SEE, RESTOWN for the whole block. Don't change your initial umpiring solution - even if you realize it was wrong. Don't make up for the wrong decision. You will make mistakes - so will AA judges. Accept this and move on. Be SURE - even if you don't, but don't be ARROGANT - it's not POWER TRIP. If you're umpiring purely for money, don't judge at all. Don't have the attitude that you do all the favor umpiring. You have to want to be umpiring because you are enjoying the opportunity. Be prepared for the fact that players, coaches and spectators do not agree with some of your decisions. If you are unable to accept criticism, maybe you should reconsider your choice of judge. There is no referee who would please every player, coach and fan throughout the game at any level or in any sport. Be prepared to admit that you will be wrong in some cases. You will have good games and bad games just like players and coaches. Always SMILE - you are not the enemy. You work with players to create a fair and competitive game. Don't make this negative experience for yourself. Focus on the positives. Put it all in PERSPECTIVE - it's sport/fun. Advising parents/coaches/players of the correct complaints procedures - Report complaints Ask Umpire executives if you are having difficulties. Never mediate arguments without a judge's supervisor present - just walk away. Be aware of your rights with players and parents in accordance with the Codes of Conduct. Don't be afraid to warn players and spectators /follow the advanced penalty/ask to leave the court. Recognize what makes ugly parents abuse you: Their own lack of knowledge about the rules of their frustration at losing a match Their daughter performs poorly, and the blame should lie elsewhere They have other issues and stressors They are bullies who feel empowered, especially when you seem unsure of yourself you are not actually umpiring well and need help. Remember that ugly parents are everywhere and it is they who look stupid and embarrassed for their children, not you. You have to learn to ignore them and have confidence. These people are unpleasant to all of us, but fortunately in MINORITY. The association will ALWAYS support you (unless of course you have shown obvious for the procedure). procedures).
