Quotes from beowulf

Quote 1: His warrior father was wounded around the heart/ With gold rings, tied to their prince/treasure by his father. So young men build / Future, wisely open-handed in peace, / Protected in war; so warriors earn/ Their glory and wealth is shaped by the sword. Pg. 24, lines 20-25 Quote 2: I have never seen./ Of all the people on earth, one greater / How he came with you; no more common carries / Such weapons, if its appearance, and its beauty./ Are both lies. Pg. 31, lines 248-250 Quote 3: reminiscent of / Almighty earth formation, shaping / These beautiful plains marked by oceans./ Then proudly set the sun and moon / Shine all over the earth and light it!... be fast with life, with everyone/peoples now moving on their faces. Pg. 26, lines 91-98 Quote 4: While the monster stirs that demon, that devil/Grendel who haunts peatlands, wild/swamps, and made his home in hell./ Not hell, but hell on earth. He was spawned in that slime/ Cain, a murderous creature exiled/God punished forever for the crime/Abe's death. Pg. 26, lines 101-108 Quote 5: Twelve winter mourning for Hrothgar, King/Danes, sadness strung at the door/ Hell-forged hands, His suffering jumped/sea, was told and sang in all/Men's ears pg. 28, line 147-151 Quote 6: Grendel's hatred began./... The monster indulges in his fierce war / On the Danes, conducting a bloody feud / Alive, finding peace, sacrifice / No truce, accepting no settlement, no price / In gold or land, and pay the living / For one crime only with another. No one / Waiting for compensation from his plundering claws./ The shadow of death hunted in the darkness / He watched Hrothgar's warriors. 28, lines 151-160 Quote 7: They came up with their mail shirts/shimmering, silver-glowing references/Clanking iron song as they arrived / More-tired still, they set their wide/ Battle-hardened shields in rows / Along the wall, then stretched / On the benches of Herot./ Their armor rang/ Their ashes-wood spear stood in line./ Gray-tipped and straight: Geats' war-gear / They were honored with guns. Pg. 33, line 321-330 Quote 8: They saw my strength for myself./ They watched me rise from the darkness of war / Dripping with my enemies' blood. I went / Five big giants into chains, chased / All those races off the ground. I swam/ In the darkness of the night, hunting monsters / From the ocean, and killing them one / by one: death was my errand and destiny! They earned it. Now Grendel and I have called/ Together, and I'm here. Pg. 36, line 417-426 Quote 9: And if death takes me, send the hammered/ Mail of my armor to Higlaca, return/ Legacy that I had from Hrethel, and he/ Z Wayland. Fate rests as it must! pg. 37, line 452-455 Quote 10: Beowulf, you came to us in friendship, and because / From the reception your father found in court./ began a bitter altercation./ Killing Hathlaf, wulfing warrior: / Your father's compatriots were afraid of war./ If he returned to his home, and they turned him away. Pg. 37, lines 457-462 Quote 11: I bought the end of Edgetho / Hassle, sent ancient treasures across the ocean / Furrows to Wulfings; your father swore/ He would keep that peace. Pg. 38, lines 470-473 Quote 12: How many times have my men.../ sworn, that they will remain after dark/ And that horror would stop by sweeping their swords./ And then, in the morning, this mead-hall shimmering / With new light would be drenched in blood, benches / Stained red, floors, all wet from that fiend's / Savage attack-and my soldiers would be less / Still death taking more and more. Pg. 38, lines 480-488 Quote 13: But the truth / Is simple: no man swims in the sea / How can I, no power is a match for mine: pg. 40, lines 533-534 Quote 14: my mailing shirt, these glowing pieces of metal/wordy over my breasts, saved me/From death. The monster caught me, drew me to the bottom quickly, swam with its claws/ Firmly in my body. But fate let me / Find your heart with my sword, hack myself / Free; I fought the beast in the last battle./ I left her floating lifeless in the sea. Pg. 40, line 551-558 Quote 15: God's bright lighthouse/ Appeared in the east, the water lay still./ And finally I saw the earth, wind-swept / Cliff-wall to the coast. Fate will be lifesavers/ Alive when they die alone! Pg. 41, lines 569-574 Quote 16: When we crossed the sea, my comrades/ And I, I already knew that everything/ my goal was this: to win the good of your people or die in battle, pressed/ In Grendel's wild grip. Let me live in greatness/ And courage, or welcome here in this hall / My death! Pg. 43, lines 632-638 Quote 17: Grendel is not bolder, not stronger than me! I could kill him with a sword; I will not, / Easy as it would be. This devil is a courageous/and famous warrior, but his claws and teeth... / Beating on my sword blade would be powerless. I will meet him / With his hands empty-if his heart / fails him, see the soldier waiting / Without weapons, do not worry. May God in his wisdom/ Spread your hand where he wants, reward/ Who he chooses! Pg. 44, lines 677-687 Quote 18: He strode quickly through the set / Floor, snarling and wild: his eyes / Shone in the dark, burned with terrible / Light. Then he stopped when he saw the hall/ Crowded with sleeping warriors.../ And his heart was laughing, enjoying the sight./ He wanted to tear his life away from those bodies/ By morning. lines 724-732 Quote 19: Danes began / In new terror, covering in their beds like terrible / Screams of the enemy Almighty sang / In the dark, terrible cries of pain / And defeat, tears ripped out of Grendel / Strained throat, hell in captivity caught in his arms / From who of all the men on earth / was the strongest. Pg. Line 783-790 Quote 20: Hanging high/off the rafters where Beowulf hung up was /monster/Arm, claw, and shoulder and all. Pg. 49, lines 833-836 Quote 21: carved without meaning / sadness, did not feel remorse for his suffering./ Went to watch his bloody tracks, his beaten / And lonely flight, on the edge of the lake / Where I would drag his corpse way, doomed/ And already tired of his disappearing life. Pg. 50, lines 841-846 Quote 22: Swirling/Surf obscured his death, hidden/Deep in the dark of his miserable/End, as hell opened up to get him. Pg. 50, lines 849-852 Quote 23: His vanity magnified him so abhorrent and rank / That he could not hear any voices but his own. He deserved to suffer and die. But Beowulf was prince/well-loved, followed in friendship, not fear, pg. 52, lines 911-914 Quote 24: May God thank you! Grendel is terrible/ Anger hung over our heads for too long./ Toppling misery; but the Almighty does wonders/ If he likes it, wonder in amazed and this world/ Rests in his hands. I gave up hope./ Exhausted prayer, did not expect anything/ But misfortune forever. 52, lines 928-934 Quote 25: not even the sharpest swords could have cut / Is [Grendel's hand] over, broke him monster / Arm and ended his life like Beowulf / He did armed with only his bare hands. Pg. 54, line 987-990 Quote 26: They want to stay, we go./ All beings here on God's land, wherever it is written that we go, we take our bodies/ From the cold bed of death to uninterrupted sleep/ It follows a life banquet. Pg. 54-55, lines 1004-55, lines 1004-55 1008 Quote 27: and for one / Murdered Gold Grendel was carefully / Paid. Pg. 56, lines 1053-1055 Quote 28: Wear these bright jewelry, beloved Beowulf./ Enjoy them... oh lucky young warrior, get rich, leave your glory and your strength/ Go hand in hand, and lend these two boys/ Your wise and gentle heart! I'll remember your kindness. Your fame is too great to forget /... Expand your blessed protection/ Through my son, and my king's son! Pg. 61-62, lines 1216-1221, 1225-1227 Quote 29: She would be tense at her loss, suffering to be cooked / In her heart, that woman's horror, Grendel's / Mother, living in a murky cold lake / Assigned to her because Cain killed his only / Brother, killed the son of his father / With an angry sword. Pg. 63, lines 1258-1263 Quote 30: She took revenge for your victory over Grendel./ For your strength, your mighty grip, not the monster/Death, pg. 65, rows 1334 -1336 Quote 31: Steam like black clouds, and groves of trees / Grow up above their lake are covered / With frozen spray, and the wind with snakelike / Roots that extend up to the water / And help keep it dark. It burns like a torch at night. No one knows its bottom./ No wisdom reaches such depth. Pg. 66, lines 1361-1367 Quote 32: Let your sadness end! It is better for all of us / to avenge our grievance for them forever./ Each of us will come to the end of this life! On earth: one who can earn it should fight/ For the glory of his name: glory after death / Is the noblest of goals. Rise up, Guardian/ From this kingdom, let's go as fast as you can./ And look at this lady monster. Pg. 67, lines 1384-1391 Quote 33: She brought him to someone's battle hall./ And there... [not] anything in the lake [could] attack him through/building a high-domed roof. Brilliant / Light burned all around him, lake / alone like a fiery flame ... he turned the sword /... directly on her head; Iron sang his wild song pg. 71, lines 1512-1521 Quote 34: like ice, when the world is / The Eternal Lord releases the invisible / Fetters and unfolds / valuables and frost / As only he can, He who rules / Time and seasons, He who is truly / God. 73, lines 11607-1612 Quote 35: Our Eternal Lord/Grants some men wisdom, some wealth, makes others/Great. The world is Divine, he allows / man to become famous, and his family rich./ Gives him land and cities to rule / And joy in ... and who / In the human unwisdom, in the midst of such power, / Remembers that it all ends, and too soon? Prosperity ... nothing / Problems him, no disease, no time passes, / No misery, no sudden war breaking / Out of nowhere, but the whole world turns / When it spins. How does he know when he's going to have a good time? 77, because he can't/ He doesn't remember how he leaned toward rotting wealth/ This world, how he liked it, how he deserved it/ No honor, no glory, no glory, no glory, how he forgot about future glory/ God gave him at his birth and forgetting didn't matter. 78, lines 1747-1752 Quote 37: All-knowing, God/ I had sent you such words; nothing so wise / From a warrior so young when reached / These ancient ears ... If your master, / Hrethel's son, is killed by a spear, / Or gets sick and dies ... I say that the Geats / Could have done no better, find no man better / Fit to be king, guardian of warriors / and their treasure than you ..., Beloved Beowulf. Pg. 80-81, lines 1841-1852 Quote 38: She and that maturing soldier will be married / ... Hoping his altercation with Hathobards can be resolved/woman. Wrong: how a man of war / Were they put to rest in the prince's bed?/ Little. The bride can bring a little / Peace to keep the spear silent for some time./ But not long. Pg. 86, lines 2025-2032 Quote 39: His pouch hung / By his side, a huge bag sewn / Made of dragon skin, worked with the devil / Skill. Pg. 88, lines 2085-2087 Quote 40: Beowulf brought his king / Horses and treasure-like man must, / Not weaving networks of malice for their comrades./ Preparing their death in the dark, with mystery, / Cunning tricks. Pg. 91, lines 2165-1 2169 Quote 41: So Edget's son proved himself./ He did as a famous soldier must do / If fame is what he seeks: not killing his comrades / V raging, his heart is not wild./ But guard God's gracious gift, his strength./ Use it only in war, and then use it / Bravely. Pg. 91, lines 2177-2183 Quote 42: He was someone's slave, he was beaten / His masters, escaped from the eyes of all men./ But without a place to hide; then found the hidden path and used it. Pg. 92, line 2223-2226 Quote 43: countdown/clock until an almighty candle came out./ And the evening came, and wild with anger / It could fly burning all over the country, killing / And destroying breath. Then the sun disappeared, / And his heart was glad; glowing with anger / ... impatient to repay / His enemies. People suffered. Pg. 95, line 2302-2309 Quote 44: When it comes to me / I want to stand, not run away from his shooting / Flames, stand until he decides on fate/ Which of us will win. My heart is firm, / My hands calm: I don't need any hot/words. Pg. 101, line 2524-2529 Quote 45: Took us / For soldiers, for men. Wanted to kill / This monster alone, our mighty king, / Fight this battle alone and without help./... Almighty God,/ I'd rather burn than see / Flames swirling around my master ... I swear nothing/ Never deserved an end/ Like this, dying disappearing and alone./ Butchered by this wild beast. Pg. 105, lines 2641-2644, 2650-2652, 2656-2659 Quote 46: My days/ went as fate.../ As I knew how, I scolded for no integrity oaths./ I seek to glory. I can leave / This life happy; I can die here./ Knowing the Lord of all life never/ I watched me wash the sword with blood/ I was born from my own family. Pg. 108, line 2735-6, 2638-2743 Quote 47: The old man's mouth was silent, they said/ Nothing more, they said as much as they could./ He'd be on fire soon. His soul/ He left his body, flew to glory. Pg. 110, lines 2817-2820 Quote 48: stretched out in front / His lower, strange, cheery beast / Glowing dozen colors dulled and / burned from its own heat. From the end / To the end of fifty feet, it flew / In quiet darkness, a fast traveler / Tasting the air, then gliding down / Into your den. Pg. 117, lines 3038-3045 Quote 49: In ten long days they made his monument./ Sealed his ashes in the walls as straight / And high as wise and willing hands could raise ... / And the treasures they took were left there too, / ... Earth back in the earth. Pg. 121, lines 3159-3163, 3165-3167 3165-3167
