Timbuk2 bags washing instructions

Forum home> Commuter cycling forum> Commuting chat As the title says, can anyone offer advice on cleaning timbuk2 courier bag? My faithful companion has been through a lot and didn't need more than a bizarre wipe, but the unfortunate encounter with the cat leaves me with no chance but a complete wash. Am I going to ruin it in the washing machine with a warm cycle, should I sling it in the bath and make it like I'm treading grapes (do I want a cat st on my feet?)? Help! Previous Post | Next Post rvacarloi came home to visit with my family today and my mother's dog greeted me peeing in my Timbuk2 laptop messenger bag. Needless to say, it must be cleaned. In the past, I've just cleaned stains, but I've never had one of these... absorbent one. I bought a bag from a friend, so I'm not sure what style it is, but it looks like it's this one. In the FAQ section, he says ballistic bags can be tossed into the wasa, but then he says those upholstery should just be washed by hand. Does anyone have experience washing their bags? All specific products that have been removed from pet smells? Tags: Time Required 15-20 minutes Awesome member of our community made this guide. It is not managed by iFixit employees. Q: Can I put my Timbuk2 bag in the washing machine? Can you wash your bag in the washing machine? No, and here's why; Some of the fabric has a waterproof coating inside, which can dissolve in the washing machine. Some of the colors in the bag may bleed or work. This will override the warranty. NEVER put your bag in the dryer. Never. Instead, we recommend spot cleaning your bag;- Take a damp towel or sponge with a soft detergent and wipe clean.- Greasy, stubborn stains - try a plain cup of soap or a gentle cleaner like Simple Green.Q: My bag is broken or damaged. What am I supposed to do? Although Timbuk2 bags are almost indestructible, strange things happen. Lucky for you, all the information you need is on our warranty card. Believe us, we really want your money, so hold on tight and we'll figure it out together. Do you see a red message that said to check your payment or billing details? Have you moved in the last 8 to 10 months? If so, our billing address verification system is likely to use your previous billing address. Try it! Or do you have abbreviations in billing information? Check your statement and see exactly how it's listed: apt vs. # or Street vs. St. Saad idea. Our control can be super strict. You have to do it right. No, I didn't get the message, the contents of my cart just disappeared! Aha! Old disappearing content trick. Call customer service so we can try. We often have a touch of magic! I didn't get confirmation. Did you check your spam folder? Still no confirmation? This usually means that you incorrectly entered your email address. I can't believe you did this. contact us and we will help you find it. Also, having an item in your shopping cart will not be reserved for it, nor will it save the sale price. If we sell out of the item or the sale ends, this change may prevent your order from going through. I think I got billed twice! or more ... It's possible, but you'll probably see just 2 or more authorizations. Keep in mind that every time you try to place an order, your card will be authorized up to the total order. But permission is not a reward! Any unnecessary authorizations will be dropped from your statement as soon as your bank verifies that we did not process the indictment. It may take 3-5 working days to retrieve authorizations. We know this whole thing can be very confusing, so call us and we'll check it out! Contact us with the dollar amount and billing address details so that we can verify that there are duplicate orders on your behalf. Can I cancel or change my subscription? We want to say yes, but we have to Unfortunately, we cannot make any changes to this after placing an order. Your order may be being rejected. Please call us as soon as possible if you want to do so because we are working hard to get your order delivered quickly and have a very short chance to cancel orders. Our window is tiny, so the timing is essential. Please note, during sales and flash promotions, that cancellations are not possible, the elevated volume does not allow you to find your order to pull and cancel ready made/stock bags. Do I get VAT? Orders shipping within the United States: Local sales tax is estimated for orders shipped to addresses in the United States, where we have a brick and mortar Timbuk2 store. All gift cards and e-gift orders are exempt from all VAT in the countries where we collect tax! In these countries we do not have operations, you are required to pay sales/user fees to your national tax office. Orders shipping international address: All orders Timbuk2.com are named in US dollars. International orders are subject to customs duties, tariffs, customs duties and VAT, which are not reflected in our prices or shipping prices. You or the recipient are responsible for paying these fees upon receipt of the order. We are required by law to disclose the full value (in US dollars) of package content and cannot change this value, it includes the promotional values of advertising items such as gift purchase and purchase one to get one of the free items. Ask your local customs office for these taxes. Many destinations can be estimated as an additional handling fee for brokering these payments before delivery. Back to Top Shipping and Return Can I Get Free Shipping? We offer free shipping orders over $50 USD within 48 contiguous United States. There are some exclusions. Please see the latest terms and conditions on our promotions page. When's my bag going to go on the ship? Most of the year we ship finished items within 1-3 business days from the placing of the order. During promotions or high volume times it may increase processing time, the most up-to-date processing times please check our shipping page or final checkout page. The exact timing of the shipment depends on how many orders are in front of you. Oh and just be super clear business means Monday to Friday and excludes most U.S. holidays. You want to know your tracking number or, if your order has been shipped, follow it here. Can I return my belongings? Ok, we will give you if it is not customized, ordered within 30 days, not used, and have all the tags still added! Just follow the instructions here. I ordered my bag with accelerated shipping, so why don't I have it yet? As you may have to read when choosing your shipping method for email while processing all orders, this means that your order may not be sent out on the same day that you even if you chose to send the next day. Please be sure to take into account the time of processing the order (not just shipping time) when ordering the bag you need for your flight, which leaves in 30 minutes. Can I trade my bag for another? Our exchanges are processed in the same way as our returns - you would return the bag to us and we will refund you to your original payment method. Need store credit instead? Don't you want the gift-giver to know that you prefer an alternative product? Contact us directly and we'll get you ready. You can buy a replacement before or after receiving a refund, depending on your timing and needs. Click here to set up a return. Are you shipping the ship internationally? We offer shipping in most countries for a fee. All orders Timbuk2.com ordered and shipped from the United States and orders are denominated in US dollars (USD). Our shipping page shows all the details of where we ship, the shipping methods and costs available. Back top warranty, repair and bag maintenance My bag is broken or damaged. What am I supposed to do? That? No way! Although our bags are almost indestructible, strange things happen. Lucky for you, all the information you need is here. We have a repair program that could get your bag back into action. For more information about our lifetime warranty and paid repair program, please visit our warranty and repair page. Need a part? Check out our Spare Parts to see if it can be ordered. Do you have any spare parts? Yes, we stock spare parts for our website, which is available to buy. Spare parts are available if you want to make the repair yourself or if the broken part is not covered by our warranty. Our warranty policy does not cover accidental damage, such as broken wheels caused by the misuse of luggage, the straps your dog chewed, or lost parts. If you don't see the part you need here, or you think the broken part is covered by our warranty, email the image of the damaged part of the repairs @timbuk2.com My bag is looking a little dingy, what can I do? So your Timbuk2 Bag is no longer looking your best and you want to make it a sparkling new again. We recommend cleaning your bag on site. Take a damp towel or sponge with a soft detergent and wipe it clean. Greasy, stubborn dirt - try a plain dish of soap or cleaner like simple green. Natural fabrics such as wool or cotton canvas are best cleaned with wet rags, synthetic fibers such as nylon or polyester can be cleaned with a plastic brushed brush. Can you wash your bag in the washing machine? We don't recommend it. Why not? The fabrics have waterproofing coatings inside that can be washed away in the washing machine. Some of the functions of the bag may bleed or work. This will override the warranty. NEVER put your bag in the dryer. Never. You're crying, we're crying, involved cry ... and the damage caused by the machine is not covered by our warranty. Back Top Recycling My Bag Crumbling In My Bag (Recycling Bag)? yes, sometimes it comes when it's time to move on. It's not me, it's the bag. We offer the Recycle (Break Up Your Bag) program all year round, through our Full Line Timbuk2 branded stores or Timbuk2.com. And not only in a super green-save-the-earth way, but in a rad pay-it-forward way. We are working with local partners to give your bag a new lease of life with a new owner who can use it. From homeless young kids learning to ride bikes in city settings, your bags go worth the reasons. If your bag is so well loved that it's not donatable, we'll work on upgrading Workshop rehab bags or breaking them down with recyclable raw materials. We have strict rules in landfill policy and we are always looking for new ways to recycle our bags and keep mother nature happy. You want to break up with your bag? We offer a discount of 20% off full price items when you recycle your bag in stock or through the process below: Send your bag with a readable email address: Timbuk2 Attn: Lifecycle Program 2394 Folsom Street in San Francisco, CA 94110 You receive an email coupon within a week we can get your bag recycled as long as the readable email address was added. Back to The Top Additional Topics Can You Buy in Bulk? Want to buy more than 25 bags for your closest friends, co-workers? Selling the company to the rescue! Our company's sales team does wonders for customized embroidery and screen printing. Contact us to start your project. Offer other custom options for your custom bags? If you don't see the fabric color or the choice that you've seen before it means that it's no longer part of our custom fabric selection. We make fabric flips a few times a year, so the selection is constantly updated. We may be able to make some small changes that are not listed as customizer, but we can't accommodate requests for anything that is outside the original due to the bag. For example, we can not convert a messenger bag to a backpack, or a backpack into a messenger. Contact us at your request and we will let you know if we can do this in your bag. Does my messenger bag have a cross belt? Yes, your classic messenger bag should have come with a cross strap (except for XS size). They like to hide, and they're very, very good at it! Check the inside of the bag. Against the inside of the front wall of the bag, there is a zipper that runs along the top of the seam. The lock's pretty hard to see. Fish around that big pocket and see if the cross strap is there. If not, please contact us and we will send one to you as soon as possible I can not find the bag I want to Timbuk2.com? If do not see it on our website we probably are no longer available in stock. We change colors and designs quite regularly, so if you don't see your old bag 10 years ago here, that means we won't do it anymore. Send us a picture of your old bag and we'll do our best to help you. For a recently completed item, check our outlets where they may have something in the warehouse that they can send out. So many different (and amazing) fabrics are offered in our bags, both Custom and not custom so - of course you can ask yourself what is? Which fabric is the most waterproof? Which one is the most durable? What do these numbers mean and what does D mean? All the big questions. You can be sure that regardless of the fabric you choose, we made sure to choose materials that are tough enough for whatever life throws at you. Each bag flows through a cycle of uncompromising maintenance, craftsmanship, and serious product testing. We appreciate the performance and durability of all our fabrics and materials by testing their tensile strength, seam slip, water column, teardrop wear, ball bursting, mullens, color resistance, and other sexy things. Only materials that undergo our rigorous testing earn the right to integrate Timbuk2 products. What kind of fabric should I choose? It depends on your needs! The main differences between the fabrics we offer, other than the aesthetic (how they look) is that certain ones offer a primary performance function, such as being lightweight, durable, reflective, waterproof and so on. Below is a list of primary fabric features and which fabrics stand out in these areas. Lightweight: Ripstop, Durability: Cordura Nylon, Waterproof: TPU, then FARP, then coated (Cordura) nylon. Professional expensive look: Cotton Canvas, Waxed Canvas and Heirloom Canvas. What does D mean? D stands for Denier, which is the weight of the fabric. Many of the materials we use are not measured by density or weight - this is an order for measuring the roots of cotton and clothing. Denier is a measure of the weight of the fabric, if you are compared to two deniers of the same material. However, if you're comparing different materials (such as nylon and polyester) all the deniers are not equal. Since nylon is a stronger material than polyester, 420D nylon is actually stronger than 600D polyester. Here are some typical guidelines for fabric denier ratings and if they are commonly used in our products: Lining - 150D to 210D. Main Body Fabrics - 420D to 840D Heavy Materials - 1050D to 1680D Fabrics We use Cordura Nylon - Generally external nylon we use cordura. Cordura nylon is known for its durability and durability of abrasions, tears and scratches. Ripstop Nylon - Ripstop fabrics are woven fabrics, often made of nylon, using a special strengthening technique that makes them resistant to tearing and ripping. During weaving, (thick) reinforcement of the dings are intertwined with a regular cross hatch pattern farp - farp is the inner name that we came up with! it's a polyester-backed polyurethane-coated fabric with a little glossy. Canvas - Heavy, durable plain-knit cotton fabric. We use synthetic or natural wax, which is infused on canvas, to provide a waterproof coating that helps to further increase the weather resistance of the bags. Twill - a popular woven pattern identified by diagonal lines of face fabric. Denim, chino, gabardine and drill are all types of tobakangas Polyester - Polyester fabrics are very stain resistant, wrinkle resistant, durable, have high color retention, and withstand strong and repetitive movements. When woven with synthetic fibers, it creates a material with good wind and environmental resistance compared to vegetable or natural fibers. Poly - OxFord Polyester, Poly, Poly Non-P PVC and Embossed PU Poly are all derivatives of Polyester and share the same basic properties. TPU - Thermoplastic polyurethane is used as a liner for our messenger bags and many others. It's wear and tear, it's tearing and waterproof. It has been used in the fabric coating textile industry for over 30 years, and this is the first application was to replace PVC, where the appearance and feel of PVC had value, but the performance of PVC was lacking in areas such as flex properties, abrasion resistance, low temperature properties and purification Fabric Testing Each material reads. Our strict product testing is designed to ensure that every product we produce is considered for daily use in the city and beyond. Our common testing and textile standards are based on the ASTM (American Society for Testing and Materials) Fabrics and the Environment We assess the environmental impact of our materials. If it doesn't last or it's poisonous in some way, we're just not going to use it. We don't use materials that the global community considers toxic. In addition to the regular evaluation of the materials used, we are constantly looking for new and improved material solutions. Using just enough high quality materials like Bluesign fabrics and smart, efficient construction techniques, to ensure that our products have little waste and high value. The aim is to maintain the highest quality level while keeping costs competitive. Timbuk2 Bluesign materials: 1680D, 420 matte, 630D, 600D TPU, 1200D non-p pvc, grey Full cycle ripstop, carbon ripstop, 30D nylon ripstop Back Top E-Gift card terms and gift cards can be purchased Timbuk2.com and at any Timbuk2 United States retail store locations Gift cards are redeemable merchandise Timbuk2.com, any Timbuk2 retail location in the United States, and by phone.
