This is Love is an Indian television series that aired from December 3, 2013 to December 18, 2019 on Star Plus. Produced by Ekta Kapoor under the direction of Balaji TV movies, it starred Divyanka Tripathi and Karan Patel. The story is based in part on Manju Kapoor's 2011 novel The Guardian. Set in Delhi, the show follows a love story by Tamil dentist Dr. Ishita Iyer and Punjabi CEO Roman Bhalla. Roman's daughter, Ruha Bhalla and Ishita, are emotionally attached to each other. Due to the circumstances, Roman and Ishita marry each other later fall in love with each other. In July 2019, Karan Patel left the series and was replaced by Chaitanier Chowdhury. It later emerged that Choudhry's character was an impostor. In November 2019, Patel returned to bidding for audieu. In December 2019, a spin-off called Yeh Hai Chahatein began starring Sargun Kaur and Abrar Kazi to replace this series. Ishita Iyer and Roman Bhalla are two people from different cultures, fused by Roman Ruhi Bhalla's daughter. Tamil dentist Ishit and Punjabi businessman Roman live in Delhi. Ishita forms a motherly relationship with Roman Ruha's daughter, who was abandoned by his ex-wife Shagon Arora. Gradually Ishita and Roman became close, married and fell in love. Stepun continues to create problems for two, but later reforms. She shares a team with Bhalla's family, Roman and their eldest son, Aditya Adi Bhalla. Ishita and Roman have a daughter named Pihu. Later, Nidhi's intriguing lawyer kidnaps Piha. To save Pich, they forget about Ruha, who is kidnapped by Nidahi and carried away. Seven years later, Ishita now lives in Australia with her childhood friend Mani and his niece Alia, who coincidentally is ruha's adult secretary, who lives with the tormented Nidhi. Ishita learns about Ruha and teams up with Roman. Ruhi returns to India and lives with Ishita and Raman in Bhalla's house. In the end, Shamun and Mani got married. Adi gets into a very bad scheme and forced to marry Roshni in Handarpur. Roshni and Adi are going to cancel. Particular know about his marriage at their wedding, and she still decides to marry him anyway. They're getting married. 1 year later, Shagun, Mani, Aliya and Pihu live in Bangkok, Thailand. Roman keeps a close eye on them. Pihu finally meets Ishita and accepts her as a mother. They're coming back to India. They fight with Ruha's love interests with Sohail, who is Nidha's brother. Sohil wants revenge on Bhalla's family and takes aim at Ruha to complete his plan. He was eventually arrested. Several arrests of Roman, as he is wrongly accused in the death of Mani. His innocence is proven when Mani comes to life. Pihu then accidentally pushes her cousin Ananya down the stairs and Ananya dies. Ishita takes the blame and is imprisoned. Two years later, Ballas visited Budapest, Hungary for a business trip, as part of a revenge scam by Simmi, and Param, over the death of their daughter Ananya. Alia begins to gamble, and Pihu is in a boarding school, where Simmi tortures her. Roman is depressed and gives his company to Parama. Ishita is released as terminally ill, and the reformed Ashok resumes his business. Simmi provokes everyone against Ishita, the drug Roman, to make him lose his memories, and then tries to frame Alia in a murder case, but is defeated and exposed by Ishita. Ishita again sat out Roman to save Bhallas from Simmi, but Roman keeps away from her because of the drugs Simmi. Ishitah tries to punish the molester Ruha Nikil, but loses his eyes in the brawl. The novel restores its sanity, and Ashok dies, saving Ishita. Simmi learns that Pichha is behind Ananya's death, and sends her into the custody of minors. Adi begins to collude against Roman, but he is thrown out of the house. He kidnaps his first wife, Roshni, and Ishita is forced to shoot him. Eight months later, Pihu returns to see Ishita, who is now sheltering pregnant Roshni, and estranged from Bhalla for killing Adi. Bhalla wants to bring back Roshnie when she wears baby Adi. Roshni promises to hand over custody of his child if Bhallas accepts Ishita. They accept her condition. Roshni's baby is handed over to Michika. Couples kidnap Pich and Simmi reforms. Raman suffers from a spinal injury during the rescue, and it deteriorates further, as he is mis-treated by an alcoholic doctor Rajat, who later commits suicide because of his humiliation. Ruhi receives a marriage proposal from Rohan, but he accepts Alia as Ruhi and falls in love with her. Widowed Alia at first rejects it, despite the wishes of the family, but later agrees. Ruhi falls in love with Rohan's brother, Karan. It later emerged that Rohan and Karan were nephews of Dr. Rajat, and the whole sentence was a hoax to humiliate Bhallah. Rohan opposes his mother's plans, and is on Bhalla's side. Ishita meets Yug, Adi's doppelganger. Karan brings in Yug to drive a wedge between and Alia, but roped with Rohan's views and soon begins to fall love with Ruhi. Yug resembles Alia Adi. Insecure Rohan tries to bring back Alia by sexually harassing her, and eventually uses force when she is rescued by her family. Alia marries Yug when a woman named Neha comes in and claims to be his wife. She's starting to live with the Bhallis. Eventually, she is exposed and her intention to take revenge from Yug is revealed. Roman is going to a business meeting. The family learns that Roman's flight crashed with no chance of his survival. They break down, while Ishita refuses to believe the news. Arjit Saxena celebrates his entrance. Turns out he kidnapped Roman. Ishita learns about it and rushes to search for Roman. Ajit drops Roman out of the building and runs away, while Ishita takes Roman to the hospital. Due to serious damage, Roman got a new face shocking Bhallas. Natasha and Sunny celebrate their entry into the life of Ballas with Natasha, claiming that Roman is her husband Shardul. It later emerged that Raman, staying with Bhalli, is Shardul, while the real Roman is in a coma. Roman recovers and is brought home. As Karan and Ruhi prepare to marry, Ruhi discovers that just like Ishita; she can't get pregnant. At first, Sudha plans to dissolve the marriage, but later she accepts Ruhi. Ruhi and Karan marry and adopt a girl. Ishit and Roman chew again. This section may require cleaning up in accordance with Wikipedia quality standards. The specific problem is that the section should be aligned with WP:TVCAST. Actors must be organized in accordance with their introduction to the series, with new members added to the bottom of each list. At present, everything in the repetitive section is mixed in an unre visibly. Slash should be avoided because they introduce ambiguity. It is unclear if several actors played different roles one by one, or at the same time. It is also unclear whether several character names represent aliases, aliases or some actors who have played multiple roles. This should be explained by clear prose, not ambiguous slashes. The section focuses too much on family relationships, which leads to a dense duplication of content. This should be shortened, and the section should include clear descriptions of symbols that tell readers about symbols. Who they are, what they do, etc. Please help improve this section if you can. The show premiered on December 3, 2013. Speaking on the show, Ekta said: My association with the star goes back a long way. Together we celebrated many successes and created iconic characters from generation to generation. I'm looking forward to it. with them closely on this show and I'm sure the audience will take Ishit and Roman into their families. Speaking about the development of Ishita's character, Kapoor said, I created Divyanka's character as a dentist in Yeh Hai Mohabbatein, as I had a lot of problems with my teeth in those days. My dentist sortes a lot of my problems, so I brought this character alive (15) The show was originally called Custody, but was renamed Mera Tera Rishta Purana, which was changed again to Yeh Hai Mohabbatein. In November 2019, Ekta Kapoor said, When I founded Yeh Hai Mohabbatein, I remember going to Star Plus's Gaurav Banerjee and asking him about the prime-time slot because I wanted to do a show on a social issue. I stopped doing a lot of television and I wanted to do YHM without the trappings of A TRP-driven shows. The show is about a woman who can not have children, stepmother, which in Indian terms is considered bad! Words in India as barren and evil stepmothers are accustomed so often and labeled women in the worst poss way. This show got so much love that it lasted for six years. And from a non-prime time slot to a prime-time slot. In September 2014, Deepika Padukone and Arjun Kapoor were to promote their film Finding Fanny in a series for which the leaders Tripathi Dahia and Patel were to shoot a sequence with them. When Patel was delayed on set, the script was changed to Patel's absence at the last minute, as the movie stars had to go to other promotions. On May 11, 2016, while filming a production sequence of characters Romy and Michika, filming was suspended due to a fight between the production house and the workers' union. On July 25, 2018, filming was suspended for a while during a gang in Mumbai. Casting Divyanka Tribathi Dahiya was chosen by Kapoor for the game of Ishita Iyer Bhalla. Cezanne Khan first came up to play Roman Bhalla opposite Trivathi Dahiya, but was replaced by Karan Paten. Children's artist Ruhanika Dhawan was chosen to play Ruhi Bhalla. Sayantani Ghosh was first reviewed, but Anita Hassanandani was chosen to play Shagun Arora. Other actors were then: Ali Goni, Mihika Verma, Shruti Bapna, Nina Kulkarni, Shahnaz Rizwan, Kaushal Kapoor, Abhay Bhargava and Gautam Ahuja. In March 2018, Charu Mehra was due to enter the series while filming in London, but was unable to due to visa problems. Filming shows have taken a variety of jumps, including a seven-year jump in April 2016, followed by an annual jump in November 2016 and then a two-year jump in November 2017. On December 9, 2016, the show ended with 1,000 episodes. On June 13, 2018, the show completed 1,500 episodes. In the background of Delhi, the series was mainly filmed on set in Aheri, Mumbai. Some sequences have been filmed in several foreign locations Australia, Budapest and London. The spin-off home article: Yeh Hai Chahatein Spin-off Series, Yeh Hai Chahatein premieres December 19, 2019, replacing Yeh Hai Mohabbatein. The focus is on Ishita Preesha's niece, played by Sargun Kaur Lutra opposite Abrar Kazi, portraying Presha Khurana and Rudraksha Khurana respectively. The English-language version of the series was broadcast in Africa on Glow TV and Star Plus South Africa/Mauritius, and the episodes aired three and a half hours after the premiere in India. It also airs on MBC Digital 4 (Mauritius). The show has been remade in several languages: in Tamil, like Kalyanam Mudhal Kadhal Varai (2014-2017), on THE STAR Vijay. In Malayalam as Pranayama, on the air Asianet in In Bengali as Mon Nie Kachachachachi, STAR Jalsha's Sinhal as Me Adarayai aired on Sirasa TV as Avannu Matta Shravani, shown on Asianet Suvarna as Nakalat Saar Gadale, shown on star Pravah in a cart as Manasupika Mungetatam, broadcast on Star Maa He broadcast on Star Maa. But in 2016, the series was banned there along with some Indian series after the URI attack. Star Plus SVP marketing Nikhil Madhok said the move was made after audience reviews that some viewers found the 11:00pm slot too late at night. He also explained: It was a show where re-watching the next day or browsing on the online digital environment is very high. Thus, the dual airing will not only help existing viewers who love the show to watch it twice, but also add a whole new set of viewers. At the beginning of 2016, it lost its steady position out of the top five, juggling in the top ten of the weekly list Hindi GEC for three to seven weeks of the year, it received 10.47, 10.09, 10.95, 10.59 and 10.34 million hits, while in the fifth week it took third position. Beginning in January 2017, the show began to fluctuate in TRP ratings as the show's focus shifted to a new new However, the show is very popular in the UK, being the most popular Indian show. The climax of the Ruhi-Nikhil track, which led to Ananya's death, brought a sharp spike in ratings in the first week of November 2017 (week 44), and the series secured a place in the top 10 of the show after almost a year before the ranking. With the Budapest track and the focus on the main presenters, the show reached the Top 5 in the second week of November 2017 (week 45). In the 46th week of 2017, the show peaked at number four on the TRP chart, becoming the most popular show on StarPlus. In the 47th week of 2017, the show remained at number four on the TRP charts and continued to be the most popular show on StarPlus. Shaw continued to do well maintaining his No.1 position on StarPlus over the following weeks. In the 51st week of 2017, Yeh Hai Mohabbatein became the most popular show in all GEK Hindi. In the 8th week of 2018, the show remained at number 3 on the TRP charts and went on to be the most popular show on STAR Plus. In May 2018, the show was postponed to 10:30 p.m. from 7:30 p.m., which led to the fall of the TPP. Roshni's children's track was poorly received by fans, which led to a further drop in PPP, after which the broadcaster StarPlus intervened, asking producer Ekta Kapoor to change the storyline of the show, which also gives him a six-month period to raise ratings. The fake death drama of Ishita, to expose Param, led to the show re-entering the top 20 shows in the 31st week of 2018, ranking 18th with 3,889 million viewers. After changing the show's time to late night, TRPs fell in the range of 1.2 to 1.4 mostly, but have been the leader of the slot since then. The show is rumored to be aired for a long time. However, lead actor Divyanka Tripathi, who played Ishita Bhalla in the show, and creative director Sandipe Sikkand refuted all these rumors, adding that the show was very good in its time slot.
