Score 2lt definition of destination of the image: Assigning an image perception, believe the idea of tourists a specific destination setting in relation to an article called tourist direction image conceptual problem, and destination or solution: (2016). The image of the destination is formed by a marketing organization or destination management team, word of mouth and advertising campaign, which has images of a particular setting divided into two types of image, cognitive image, and affective image. Based on an article titled Exploring the Role of Cognitive and Affective Image in Predicting Choice, Through the Natural Slope of Death, and Theme Park Destination, cognitive image is an image that can affect people's faith in terms of quality and uniqueness of destination features. While the affective image is about the influence of images on people's feelings or emotions to work images that can be happy, sad, warm and many other feelings (2007). Important Direction Images: As the meaning of these terms, when there are negative ideas and no perception or faith of a particular destination, then no one would want to visit this place according to Jeeyeon Hahm and Kimberly Severt (2018). Thus, a large image destination is very important in attracting tourists to their destination, as it plays an important role in helping in understanding the preferences of tourists and what good and bad parts of the destination are through the choice of tourists and recommendationsMedia Representation: (analysis of image post in the media) Thaiways Magazine published images of Phuket tourist destination map of Phuket tourist destination in April 2019 which is a well-known magazine for travel information in Thailand. The magazine submit images of maps of tourist destinations in Phuket and an image of these places so that the tourist knows about what are unique and great places to visit and activities to do there, such as, Walk tour in the temple, pagoda all In Portuguese style, and amazing scenery is kept away from just going to the beach in Phuket as Phuket is the most famous of its beautiful beach. So looking at these images people will be more interested and interested to go to Phuket as people begin to realize that there are many great and interesting things to do there. Based on the look of the images, they give a warm relaxed but mysterious feeling that is very convincing for people to go there. This project was published in 2018 by Amazing Thailand, similar to the magazine above, this brochure also includes photos of the map of Phuket. We can also see that there are many beautiful beaches, islands and boats that people can go and have fun and may be able to take a boat to the island to explore new things. There is also an image of a Chinese temple, as you see in the images that people can go and pray, and an image of a beautiful cape during sunset that people can go to take pictures and watch the sunset. The images of the beach beach, islands and boats have a bright color and a refreshing feel to it that make people feel energetic, active, cheerful and exciting, while images of the temple and the cape make people feel conservative warm mysterious and interesting. Photos of the beach and cave in Phuket, which were published in March 2018 on the Phuket fans' Facebook page. Those photos that have been posted on the internet media, which is Facebook, a sunny day with a beautiful beach that people can go to have fun, enjoy the rest with their family and images of the beach during sunset that show how beautiful the scenery is, and the beautiful cave that people can ride the boat there to explore, about the cave. These images give a refreshing, bright and relaxing filling and a feeling of warmth, interesting and fun at the same time. Comparison between street images, different representations of destination: According to Rajesh, each marketing image of the destination has a different direction and influence on people's faith or waiting for an appointment (Rajesh, 2013). So after analyzing the images from the magazine, we found that these images focused on different places for tourists to go to explore, so that people can have more idea of the places and activities they can do and visit, aside from just going to the beaches because usually when we talk about Phuket. The first thing that comes to mind is a beautiful beach and the sea and nothing more. So these images can really change a traveler's expectations about the city of Phuket. On the other hand, based on the images from the brochure, we can understand that, unlike the images from the magazine. These images from the brochure mainly on the beach of Phuket, which is well known for its beautiful patients along the way as in the afternoon and at sunset. This forces the viewer to focus and imagine mainly about the beach landscape and what they will do there. Similarly, to the images from the brochure, the image from Facebook is also more focused on the beach. The beauty of the beach during sunset, daytime and activities that people can do on the beach can have as much impact on tourists' perception of the destination as the image from the brochure. The target audience of the three destination submissions: Based on an article called Market Segmentation - the basis for identifying the right target customers, the target audience is the main point that the marketer aims in their advertising curtain product or location (Larsen, 2010). So with regards to the analysis of the three media submissions of the destination and the comparison between them, we can understand that the target audience for the magazine image of Phuket, people who are looking for a place to spend a long vacation there, so that they can spend more time at the destination. And get a deeper understanding of lifestyle culture and explore the various interesting places out there that these people can go there as a group of friends, family. As for the images from the brochure and Facebook, they can both have the same target audience, as they have a very similar focus and impact on the audience. So based on their focus, which is mostly about beaches and one or two other places that the audience can go to enjoy a vacation, means that their target audience is people who are looking for specific places or beaches that they can go to spend their weekends or a short vacation for one or two days with their friends, family, and mostly it's people who live in the same country or from different countries. In short, the three Phuket submissions has an important role to do to influence audience faith and destination expectations, and each have different implications and focus on different types of target audiences. Audience.
