This is a gift guide in Fire Emblem: Three Homes (FE3H). Here we explain how to choose the best gifts for each character, where to buy gifts, and the consequences of gifts! Gifts are items that you can give to other characters to raise their level of support with you and if they are in your home or army, raise their motivation the next school day. Each gift has a stellar rating as well as a brief description that tells you which person will appreciate that particular gift. At the beginning of the game, gifts can be found around the monastery. Take a walk during the study phase and you will see blue lights floating around certain areas. If you go up to them and click A, you'll pick them up. It can be gifts or any other item, such as Lost Items. Once you get into Chapter 5: Tower of the Black Winds, the merchant will give you a sidequest clearing the path. Once you complete this battle, the two new merchants who sell gifts will hit the market when you explore the southern merchant and the eastern merchant. Completing the care of business in Chapter 16 will open the Dark Merchant, as well as selling other gifts. You can only access these merchants while studying, as opposed to the main four stores (Item Shop, Armory, Blacksmith, Battalion Guild), which can be accessed before exploration or before the fight. You can start a conversation with people in the monastery during the free reconnaissance regime. During this time you can give them gifts. Achieving the perfect tea time will allow you to give gifts to your partner while tea. Giving gifts to other characters increases the level of support with this character (marked with a green circle in the image above). It's a good way to recruit other characters into your home. This is the best way to increase the motivation of units in the game (marked with a yellow oval in the image above). Giving gifts isn't worth any points-up, so with enough gifts, you'll be able to max out the motivation of each, allowing them to gain more knowledge in their chosen goals during lessons. Gifts are not equal to everyone. There are certain things of a certain nature, perhaps like more than not. Giving the characters the gifts they are interested in will make the effects of the gifts better! It also works backwards as to give them a gift they are not particularly interested in just making them question you. Each character in the game has their own likes and dislikes. It also reflects in their conversation the time of tea as well as the gifts. Giving a person who loves hunting a hunting knife will make this gift more valuable to them than other gifts. Make sure to check your affiliate likes and interests before giving gifts! There is a common gift in a game called Owl Feathers. Feathers of owls can not be purchased and can be picked up only in the monastery. It does the will is rare, but Flexibility and ability to please all characters makes their search worth the hassle. Free Time Guide This site uses cookies to improve your experience. We'll assume you're okay with that, but you can opt out if you want. CookieACCEPTPrivacy and Cookies Policy Settings When exploring the monastery grounds, you can randomly pick up gift items by inspecting glowing objects that are sometimes scattered around. After the completion of Lost? Found! A quest from Chapter 3, you can return lost items in the same way. If you give these character items from your home that can join your home or Rhe, you can potentially raise your support points with them. Also, if they are from your home, their motivation may increase as well. Later, you can also buy gifts from the east and south merchant at the market.
