I'm not normally a tacos eater (why kiss?), but this was recommended by our son as well as a friend in town, and it's some of the best Mexican meals I've ever had. The torture cult was incredible -- full of textures and flavors. Rice is fluffy, delicious beans, shade guards. The kanata was outstanding. The chicken was very sensitive but needed more flavor. Sauce -- red and green -- was delicious. Can't say enough about that meal. Definitely a go-to place for us now. Try Box Taco -- lots of foods but left enough and food to share. Oh, and the doubt. Out of this world. For the night owl and party people, living saratoga learned from a new place late in Downtown Saratoga Springs. Taquero Tacos and Donuts is a brand-new estate located at 68 Putnam Street, which offers, well, you guess it, tacos delicious and doughnut, and even more late-night, post-bar-hopping prices. The new Mexican restaurant inspired to officially open on Dec. 27 and is now offering online orders and, in the next few weeks, delivery as well. We want to offer late-night food options for locals and people [out of town, as well as fast, casual food options, says Corey Melancon, who co-owns Taquero and Ryan Reed and Brady Dillon. The case had always [offered] tacos, and we wanted to add a Mexican-style dessert, too. Those plans changed, though, when the local business threesome discovered a state-of-the-art donut maker that could produce nearly 2000 mini-doughnut every hour. We thought that was cool, mixing the two different concepts together, says Melancon. And the doubt sold out in the morning until the end of the night. Taquero's current menu of home-made mini bey includes vanilla blueberry hibiscus, bacon maple (with real crisp bacon), sugar duck and spice feel good needle. One could eat an acre-dozen or so of their morsel slipping-size, and the restaurant plans to switch up its doughnut offerings every few weeks. Also front and center on Taquero's menu is its choice selection of signature tacos. Melancon says one of his favorites is the Korean Pork Tacos, with kimchi shot and gochujang crema (a kind of hot sauce). Other tacos recipes include Barbacoa (Tacos Barbecue and Keso fresco), Tinga de Pollo (pull chicken and old green) and a Caulifer tacos for the vegetarian. Throw in a rice bowl or some house-made frescass houses (including cream horchatas cream and fresh limade), and you've got your late-night snacks fixed covered. Melancon, Reed and Dillon grew up in Saratoga, and each has roughly 15 years of experience working at the scene in Restaurant Spain. All three met back in elementary/middle school and spent the time working at one of The Saratoga's most esteemed restaurants, in the Siro Union Avenue. Brady's father [Tom] was owned for thirty years, says Melancon. The three of us all worked there for more than a decade, and that's how we grew up together as a work partnership. (Brady's father, Tom, died before this month; his brother is one of the owners behind nearby Hamlet & Covington; Ghost.) For years, the natives of Saratoga have been having great dreams of opening up their own downtown restaurants. Melancon says that when the place at 68 Putnam Street became available about two years ago, three of them knew they had to have it. They worked with the property owners to design and build their own space, and waiting for the complete tactro was apparently well worth it. We stayed open until about 2am on the weekends [and] as of late as 3am, says Melancon. Everyone seems very happy about it. And what better way to do that than with a woman born in your wedding program! Welding program fans are a perfect complement to summer suites invitations, as they encapsulate the season, but also serve a function. A welding program fan is a good way to pull double duty: it gives your guests all 411 they'll need to navigate your ceremony and order in the day of event, and it keeps them cooled and comfortable as you exchange votes. How to decide if a Fan Wedding Program is right for YouFirst, it comes down to budget. Knowing that overall, a program fan is a bit more of an expense than a simple ritual program. But there's no denying it's a nice and cool (sorry pun's) extra. Of course, you can jump right on a fan if we're born in a cold or epic climate. It simply won't be necessary. When it comes to designing your manufacture, you'll need to consider what goes into a ritual programme. Of course, you'll want your name to be front and center, then you'll give a shout-out to your wedding party, your parents and any other special help or guest. Finally, you may want to include your order of events or even a special note. There is a rough idea of what you would like to include; while some fans have tons of room for content, others simply don't do that. Below, we've rounded up several programs you are checking out if you'd like your guests to have one during your ceremony.
