Harley quinn pics suicide squad

It was a great day for James Gunn's The Suicide Squad on Saturday, with the director and cast of his DCEU film reuniting to take part in a lively DC FanDome panel. Among the numerous revelations for the upcoming Warner Bros. film, fans were treated to an action-packed behind-the-scenes reel mocking the cast of motley (and star-studded!) at the heart of this film. New images from The Suicide Squad mock all the film's individual cast members and the offbeat characters they play. Before we saw the footage, we were treated to a call from Suicide Squad, which revealed which actors were playing which characters. While some of the characters are back from 2016 Suicide Squad — Harley Quinn (Margot Robbie), Captain Boomerang (Jai Courtney), Amanda Waller (Viola Davis), Rick Flag (Joel Kinnaman) - there are also plenty of newcomers. Among the newbies, we have long-time Gunn collaborators Nathan Fillion, Michael Rooker and Sean Gunn, and some surprises like Pete Davidson, Flula Borg, Taika Waititi, Alice Braga and David Dastmalchian. New images taken from this new footage mock what looks like a very exciting realization of suicide squad history, while also featured all the cast members mentioned (and then some). The characters and their costumes seem much more outrageous and striking, the sets seem even grander, and the whole action seems to be converted to 11. I don't know about you, but I'm all the way to Gunn's The Suicide Squad even though I don't know what the plot of this film is like or what the trailer is like. Suicide Squad is scheduled for release on August 6, 2021. Check out all the new images below.
