Ooma telo air 2 setup

The following diagram will guide you through setting up the Wi-Fi connection on your Ooma Telo Base Station Air without the Ooma Setup app: If you are still experiencing difficulties connecting your Telo base station wirelessly, the following diagram will help you set up your Telo base station using a wired Ethernet connection: The easiest way to set up your base station is with your iPhone or Android smartphone. Visit the app store on your phone and search for the Ooma Setup app. Open the application when it is installed. It will ask you to enter information about yourself and your location. You will also select a phone number. Power On Connect the AC adapter included in the POWER port. The Ooma logo will flash red for a few minutes. When it turns blue, the base station is ready. Connecting the base station to the Internet The Ooma Setup application contains instructions that will guide you through connecting your database to the Internet. It can be connected in two different ways: Wi-Fi or Ethernet. If your Base Station needs a software update, the Ooma logo will flash purple while downloading the latest version. This can take 5 to 10 minutes. Do not unplug the base station while it is being upgraded. It will restart automatically after the upgrade is complete. Wi-Fi Connection The Ooma Setup app will guide you through connecting your base station to your home Wi-Fi connection. Ethernet connection If you prefer to use a wired connection, insert one end of the Ethernet cable included in the INTERNET port on the back of the base station. Connect the other end of the cable to an open port on the router. Connect Phone Make sure that your base station is connected and that applicable updates have been turned on and downloaded. Then, with an existing wired or wireless phone, connect the other end of the cable to the PHONE port. What do I do... congratulations on your new phone service through Ooma! You made a wonderful choice that will save you hundreds of dollars each year. In fact, the only cost required for you is the Telo device and the monthly taxes and charges of the they generally range from $5-$10 per month depending on their state and local laws. We believe you'll love your Ooma, the excellent flexibility, the features Ooma offers and its award-winning customer service. Ooma Setup Is Easy As 1-2-3 The next step for you is to get the original Ooma or updated Telo 2 VoIP adapter phone system in operation making installation, registration and activation required. You're in luck because it's pretty easy, just follow our setup guide, which is similar to the manual Ooma provides with each device. It will take you through the process step by step. Most users can bet settings in less than 15 minutes! Online activation of your Telo Online activation is very simple and as long as you have a valid address from the U.S. or Canada, the only things you'll need for this are: Your Ooma Telo Device A valid credit card from the U.S. or Canada The process is simple and there's no need to worry – you won't find any hidden Ooma rate! They only ask for your payment information to cover your monthly local taxes and charges and in the event that you voluntarily choose to upgrade to your payment service (Ooma Premier service) from them now or in the future. Once you have the contents of the box, you'll want to remove the largest square black box called the Ooma Telo. At the bottom of the box you will see a seven-digit number at the bottom right labeled as the Activation Code. The activation code Telo is very easy to find Ten, just browse online to ooma.com/activate. Once you're there, the Activation Wizard will guide you step by step on how: Step 1: Select a phone number – This is really simple if you're selecting a new number. However, if you are looking to carry your current number, there is a one-time fee of $39.99, although it is free if you choose to register with Ooma Premier. Premier includes a second line and plenty of other bells and whistles that are pretty cool, and goes for only $9.99/month. Note: If you are carrying your current number, you DO NOT want to cancel your current service with the number you are trying to transfer until it is fully transferred to Ooma and works with it. Otherwise, you may lose that number. Activating that number can also take three to four weeks, so if you're going down that route, don't hesitate to check this page so we can finish later. Step 2: Register your 911 address – Just enter the address where you will make calls. Step 3: Enter your billing information – This is where you add your payment information to cover monthly status and local taxes. Step 4: Create your personal MyOoma account – You will need this account to monitor and make any changes to your services or if you ever need to contact customer service this is the way to do so. You should receive an email immediately once the Activation Wizard shows that you are finished on the screen. If you have the email, pat yourself on the and move on to the next step. Cable Setup StepsAlright, if you received that confirmation email, it's time to take everything out of the box and set it up! You'll need everything in your Telo Telo box existing phone by hand or you can buy an Ooma phone. Step 1: Locate the contents of your boxSu Ooma TeloAn Ethernet (or CAT5) CableA power cable (AC adapter) Step 2: Attach the Ethernet cable to both the Telo device and your routerStep 3: Hook the phone cable from your existing phone on both the Telo device and your phoneStep 4: Use the AC adapter to connect the Ooma Telo to a power outlet and turn it onNote: After turning on the device the blue lights on the Telo will start flashing. The Telo will take a few minutes to boot and could take up to 10 minutes if the Telo needs to make software updates. This happens automatically and the lights will start flashing purple while the software is being updated. Step 5: Once the Telo has finished updating the light will stop flashing and will be a solid blue. Pick up your phone and listen to the musical dialtone Ooma to confirm that you are ready to call Step 6: Start making your free callsVarious options for wireless configurationThe steps mentioned above are recommended as the easiest setup, but if your router/modem happens to be in an inconvenient place in your home as in mine - don't worry - you can get a bluetooth + bluetooth wireless adapter directly from the company or get the Ooma Telo Air which includes the Wireless Bluetooth adapter. These are the same and will allow you to put your Telo anywhere in your home. The Telo Air is exactly the same as the standard device, but includes a wireless + bluetooth adapter. Ooma Wireless + Bluetooth AdapterThe Telo Air will cost you $149.98 (an extra $49.99 over the standard Telo) or if you already have a Telo you can only get the wireless + bluetooth adapter for $49.99. You can try moving your modem to a more convenient location if you want to save $49.99, but we recommend that you only have the wireless adapter. If you don't need wireless sync between your home phone and the Telo, but want to sync your calls with your cell phone, then we recommend getting the bluetooth adapter (different from wireless adapter + bluetooth). This small device allows you to pair incoming calls to your cell phone if you have one, a big advantage these days! This allows you to use the Ooma mobile app for all your calls. Wireless setup stepsQuit how to set up the wireless connection if you decide to go the wireless route:Step 1: Follow the activation steps from AboveStep 2: Insert your wireless adapter + Bluetooth into port C on your TeloStep 3: Hook the phone cable from your existing phone on both the Telo device and your phoneStep 4: Use the AC adapter to connect the Ooma Telo into one Power and turn it onNote: Once the Telo is turned on it will go through its own boot process and the blue lights can flash for several minutes. Step 5: Configure your wireless connection. (see installation diagram below) To do this, this, to temporarily connect your Telo device to your computer via the Ethernet cable. You'll need to visit the settings site and click the wireless tab in the left column. Follow the prompts to set up Telo with your Wi-Fi connection. Step 6: If your device needs to do a software update it will start automatically and the lights will start flashing purple. Once finished, the lights will stop flashing and the color will change to blue. Step 7: Pick up your phone and listen to the Ooma musical dialtone to confirm that you are ready to call Step 8: Start making your free callsInembra de emailTo set up your Ooma voicemail you will need to pick up your phone and press the button on your Telo. This will take you through the setup process that includes setting up your pin (for remote access to voice messages) and recording a personal greeting. The process of setting up Ooma voicemail is very simple and should only take a few minutes. If you want to change your pin or greeting, you can do so by calling your voicemail and selecting option 2 from the main voicemail menu. Frequently Asked Questions about setting up and troubleshooting What if my Ooma has a flashing red light? This means that your Telo is not operational. During the boot process this is normal, but it should disappear. If it still flashes red after a while, you'll want to check the following:Recheck and make sure that you have activated the device correctly when using the online activation codeMake sure that you haven't plugged in the device until after successful activation (Unplug the device if it did, and then reconnect it to reset it). Verify that all cables are plugged in all the way. (To verify that the Internet port is connected correctly check that the LED light at the bottom right is green) Verify that your Internet connection is working properlyVisit your MyOoma account and connect your computer to the HOME portThere restart your Telo, router and/or modemDo not happen if the Ooma logo is not lit on my Telo device? To resolve this issue, you must confirm that your Telo is receiving power by verifying that the AC adapter is connected to both a power outlet and the back of the device. What if the voice quality is choppy and breaks? The voice quality you get directly related to the quality and speed of your Internet. To get the best call quality, we recommend that you use a wired connection (if your Internet connection is suspected that you are more than likely to have to leave wireless settings). By using a wired connection, your calls priority over someone who may be using the Internet at home. What if I don't hear the Ooma music dial tone after setup? If the blue light is on but you do not hear a dial-tone verify that the phone cable is properly connected at both ends (to telo and your phone). What if my phone doesn't ring when I receive incoming calls? Make sure your Telo isn't in Do Not Disturb mode. If set in this mode, the will turn purple and all calls will automatically go to voicemail without ringing. To disable this feature, press and hold the &gt;&gt; button on your device or dial *79 from your phone. How do I make and receive calls? This is simple and no different than what you do with a regular phone line. How do I use the call waiting function? To switch in the middle of a phone call press the flash button on your phone. This will switch to the incoming call and put the current call on hold. To press the flash button again. How do I hide my caller ID when calling? Dial *67 before calling and it will hide your phone number from the person you are calling. How do I set up international calls? To make international calls, you'll need a payment call plan that includes international calls or you'll need to deposit prepaid credits into your MyOoma account. Once you deposit money, you can initiate an international call by dialing 011 before the number you are trying to call. How do I set up my device to make 411?411 calls require a prepaid balance because they're not free. Simply deposit money into your account as you would for international calls. Final thoughts in the OomaTodola setup process the configuration of this VoIP service may seem confusing because there are several options when configuring it, but it is actually very simple once you decide which one is best suited for your situation. The company provides clear and concered instructions along with amazing support if you are having any troubleshooting issues. Ooma's phone service provides incredible value for money and we don't see how you can go wrong if you choose. That.
