Eagles swim team coaches

Dual meetings are a lot of fun, but new swimmers can be confusing. Here are a few things you can do to help a rookie or an experienced teammate: 5:00pm Home Meeting 5:30pm When you arrive at the pool, you will need to show your initials and age (or swimmer!) for each arm and event you're already swimming in. One of the coaches let score! know you're there and report to the age group. The coach will tell you when you can enter the pool and when the warm-up begins. Parents: Sit on a lawn chair. Our pool chairs move fast! Towels, hats, T-shirts, drinks, snacks, sweat (which can get chilly at dusk), games, cards and/or other small items that allow swimmers to sit between events. In addition, our encounter can be lengthy because there are many swimmers from our team and the other teams we swim in. The main goal of Eagle Ridge is to ensure that all swimmers have the opportunity to swim the event. With patience, the first goal of this swimming season and the main goal is to make it fun for swimmers and to participate in each competition. As a member of the swimming team, it is important for our children to know that pool rules always apply to all swimmers. Pool rules are valid to maintain our safety. Swimmers waiting for the next regular practice should not enter the water until practice time begins. If left after practice time, change your swimsuit so that you do not wear it in your swimming team outfit. All swimmers must be on time for scheduled exercises and warm up. Any kind of destructive act (profanity, non-sportsman-like behavior, refusal to participate, lack of cooperation, etc.) will be dismissed from practice or swimming competitions. Coaches are based on their swimming items in the entire team strategy. If you're swimming in a game that doesn't normally swim, there's a strategic reason for your coaching staff's decision. During swimming competitions, swimmers are responsible for staying at all times. If a swimmer is required to leave the area for any reason, they should of course inform their child/pusher or clerk before doing so. Failure to comply with this rule may result in an event being missed because the starter/clerk does not delay the race to find the missing swimmer. Which swimmers participate in the main event? As coaches, we have decided that swimmers of major events will be selected at the coach's discretion. Our decision sat mainly based on the swimmer's time. Consistency in time and performance will also be taken into account in both encounters and practices. Attendance: There is no specific policy, but action attitudes and stroke legitimacy will play an important role in determining major events. Our main goal is Encourage teamwork, engagement and improvement. Eagle Ridge swimming teams and coaches cherish swimming in every row and encourage all swimmers to strive for their best time in every race. Swim meet officials, rules and scores all U.S. swimmers [919.439.8678 If you are unable to try and attend the registration to purchase a suit, you can contact all USA Swimmers and they will need our team information so that you can choose your order/your suit. Women's Suit = $25; Boys' Janmer = $20Rain alone is not grounds for delay or rescheduling meetings. Even if you think the weather can affect the event in any way, attend the meeting at the right time. If possible, the meeting will take place on a scheduled night for this reason: We apologize for any inconvenience caused by the host club and staff rescheduling the next night. Conflicts with other activities have made it difficult to bring swimmers and workers back. (This could significantly change the lineup and change the outcome of the tournament.) Lightning and/or thunder cause a delay of at least 20 minutes from the last occurrence. The decision of the two TSA representatives regarding delays or rescheduling depends on: storms occur during the encounter, and current weather information available for the rest of the evening. The team follows a pool policy of clearing the pool area when dangerous weather occurs. The frequently asked question satiated by a small group of 3-5 swimmers, though the swimming team thought: There will be both a regular swimming practice component and a stroke operation. The coach will be on deck; Therefore, only children 7 years of age or older who can swim the entire length of the pool. The Grey Eagle members are 7-14 years old, and anyone who participated in the swimming team last year participated. We are organized in small groups, and we are as far away as possible while the swimmers are active. The goal is to remind the kids that it will be fun and they must do their best to remember the spread. Parents can see outside the fence, but only swimmers allowed on deck during the clinic. There will be some instructions in and out of the water. The bathroom can only be used for the purpose. I plan to come to the pool and leave the pool in swimsuits.
