I click on it to see how to unlock it and you have to pay. Not for that single one, but to do basically anything on the app at all, you have to pay either monthly or yearly. A decent amount of money, too. I don't want to spend money on this MONTHLY app just to unlock quotes that I could easily just search on Google or something instead. There is a lifetime option, but it's almost $50. TOO much for something like this, I'll say. Having already been annoyed about it, I then go back to the app store to write a review to find that in the photos that describe the app, it doesn't say anything about everything blocked. There are no lock symbols in the picture. Anywhere. It doesn't warn you about anything. So basically I just spent half an hour just to find that you have to pay for everything. In conclusion, for people who would like to save their money rather than spend it monthly or annually on an app like this, I suggest simply searching for inspirational quotes on Google, pinterest, or whatever browser you have. It's simpler, and much cheaper. Anyway, if the items in this app aren't worth that much, it would be a fantastic app to use.
