It's a little bit of a show they know about the island and how horrible are the signs of what happened to the boys? We are told that they were in a plane with dastrogatanisis and how the boys are scattered on the island, how Ralph and Surya are different? Ralph-Natural-born Leader-Pagi-Learning How is a leader who makes first leadership decisions and what are they? What is the smartbetween between the sun and the sun? He gives ideas because the sun is smart. What are your first impressions of Jack? Jack's first impression is that he is a stoic, strong, scary, confident, self-filled, scary, all-talk, tough, slim, red-haired, why not ask for the name of the sun posts? Jack already knows all the names. He fears them because they are all dressed and dressed in texture. Why are Jack's reasons for he should be chief? Do you think these are the right reasons? Jack thought that since he was the leader of the outpost, and a quick one can be that he should be the chief, you think the head of the sun is not considered? Because of its appearance. The sun does not look like a leader; The boys didn't want a fat, short boy to be the leader. Why are The Reasons For Ralph Chief Is Voted? Do you think this is a good choice? Ralph is still quiet and quiet, he is a fair boy with a good build, and he's the guy who tells us the word in which the word tells us that although he voted for the sun, he really didn't want to? Why can't this happen? When the boys are voted, it is said that everyone immediately raised their hands when Ralph's name was called, except for the sun, but after that he is also said to have raised his hand in the air. What kind of leadership skills does Ralph show when he is made chief? Give two examples from the novel. He uses the conch as a symbol of order and picks it up for people's attention, he chooses the boys to go with him on a campaign to see what is on the island, he tells the Sun why Jack is not able to reduce the madness at the end of the chapter. - He was looking for a place to bear it.- He's a pig-If you kill the pig you kill both meat a human. Unbearable blood-he is so familiar to society that he has exceeded the Lord of the Flies, the Flashkards Java game: the Flashkards, the Combination, the Concentration, and the Word Search. And why were the boys expelled from England ? A nuclear war was held. When they were fleeing, the ship was attacked and the pilot was parachutes that searched Ralph and Surya and Is it used? They find a small conch shell. Ralph is running in the kitchen shell and the boys gather in a central view to select a leader. They start a fire and start to search the island where the Lord of the Flies took place? On an island. Above it is a forest on a head with a Rocky Mountain. On the opposite side is a lagoon where the boy bathes. Food, Wildlife, fresh water. It was not their environment but it was due to the end of their civilization itself. Who is Ralph? He is the Lord of the film . She is 12 years old, tall, golden-haired, and attractive. He is a natural leader and after the discovery of the conch shell, he is selected as the leader of the boys. He tries to focus on setting up orders and saving but is being followed by the changed wild boys who have left to survive on their own in the forest. Who is Jack? He is the Lord of the Conversations . He emerged as a leader and eventually becomes the leader of the hunter. He leads boys in the age protected by decent young men. He is a wicked and inhuman, and he is a cruel bully who is violent. He breaks the sun glasses and leads to killing others. They finally hunted Jack. Who is the sun? Beastie is the Devil symbol and all evil within the boys. As the boys were away from civilization, their desire to kill grew. He went from being afraid to want to hang on a pole on his head first. What is the conflict with boys? The boys were hunting several times to try to keep themselves alive. First, Ralph was afraid to kill and showed respect for things that lived in nature. Towards the end, Jack's id brutally killed the sow and kicked his head on a stick. What is the conflict of the sun versus the boys? Represents the sun which is often hunted. Boys torture Because she was thick and needed such thick glass. Their lack of understanding of violence can also be understood as because the boys had never met with such problems that had asthma. What was the conflict of Jack vs. society? During this book Jack is born in that the savage quality is really a rebellion against society. He was tired of taking orders from Ralph and participating in that democratic system. He had a feeling that his existence had come before the conflict on the island, but his experiences served to get out of it. What is the importance of culture and order in this book? Law and law needs to be checked to keep the dark side of human nature. Without civilization and laws, boys change to safe age and replace the violent democracy. Without civilization and rules, the boy forgets the basic ideas of ideas, values, and right and wrong and emerges from the evils of human nature. What is the significance of the loss of identity for this story? Boys lose their individual identity when older children are only known as biguns and the younger ones are known as the sage. They are no longer known as a group term but by their names. They become part of the mindset of a group of murderers. How is the aeea human nature theme for two twins, Sam and Eric, to become common personalities? The errors in human nature must lead to a equally poor society. Without the restrictions of civilizations, people's behavior will turn from their brutal beginnings. Survival is of great importance. The basic form of human nature will lead to violence, violence and death. How is the topic of the moral nature of the people regarding this book? The theme of the book is an attempt to trace back the errors of society to human-caused errors. The moral thing is that the society's form depends on the moral nature of the individual and not the political system. What is the subject of power in this book? This book shows a variety of strengths, some are used and some are abused. Democratic power is manifested when elections and decisions on the island are shared by many people. Jack shows that he is threatening and pushing others. Some boys hunt for pigs when the scorpion swells and later to Ralph. What is the subject of fear of the unknown? Fear of the unknown leads to fear of the animal. The boys cannot accept the idea of an animal on the island, nor can they go to it. Acknowledge that no real animal exists, and the only animal on the island is afraid of itself. This is one of the deeper meanings of the story. How is this book blind and symbolic? The sun is blind to its environment but really understands what's happening on the island. Unfortunately, boys don't realize that the sun sees more and they are treated And finally is dead. What does the sun and its glass reflect? Its glass-clear-sand, intelligence. The sun glasses bring the island to fire which is really the fire of knowledge. What is the breaking of the sun glasses? Progressive degradation of intellectual influence on the islands. What does the kitchen stick? What does democracy and order represent Simon's attitude? Represents a person like Christ, pure and good island? It is a microstome representing the world that represents the animal. What does the ability to evil all represent Roger's behavior? Does Shar and Satau represent Jack's behaviour? Does the swag and the violence represent Ralph's attitude? What is the potential of democracy and civilization and evil within all that represents the Lord of the flies? What is the role of The Devil and the Great Danger in this book? The official tourorofand of the tribe and the procession. Physically, the Bee's Lord is the head of the pig that is left as a presentation for Jack, Roger, and the hunter's sharp-headed stick and animal on the mountain. Head-to-head blood is described as viral, and Boki attracts a crowd. When the Lord of the Flies speaks to Simon, we can assume that his voice is a halcyonary effect of Simon's dissonating mental state. The Lord of the Forbidden shows Simon that the boys will be their own. Simon lost consciousness after the incident, and is killed later that night. Later, when Roger and Jack commit to hunt and kill Ralph, they then use Ralph's head, meaning that they will re-sacrifice the animal to them. The sambola-cal, the Lord of the Flies represents evil within each of the boys on the island. Island.
