While some of the restaurants are open for lunch, as is Port Discovery, the children's museum, after dark Power Plant Live! turned into a night-spot populated generally by the 21-30-year-old crowd. 01 of 08 Nightclub 10 Market Place 410-528-1999Wed.-Sat. 9 p.m. - 2 a.m.No athletic wear Angels Rock Bar is a dance club minus the club music. It's all rock 'n' roll here. Most of it is from a DJ, but there are occasional live performances. There's a lot of hard alcohol to deal with that hard rock. Its menu offers a good selection of high-end vodka, gin and other spirits through the bottle. 02 of 08 Piano Lounge 22 Mark Place410-783-5111Wed. - Thursday 7 .m. - 2 a.m., (show: 7:45 p.m.); Fri. 5 .m. -2 a.m. (show: 5:45 p.m.); Sat. 5:30 -2 a.m. (show: 5:45 p.m.) Part of a national chain known for its duel piano act, Howl joined the moon has a more interactive style of entertainment than most lounges. Guests can make singing or requests depending on the show. Of course, singing isn't necessary, but all that booze special just makes it a little easier. 03 from 08 Bar/restaurant 10 Market Place410-499-4410Mdae to Saturdays, 11 a.m. to 2 a.m. This Vegas-themed tavern features plenty of flat-screen TVs for watching football, a full food menu, tremendous beer selection, and occasional live music. 04 of 08 Image courtesy of MAP, Four Mazes by Leslie Hirst Art Gallery 218 W Saratoga St.410-962-8565Tues.-Sat. 11 a.m.-5 p.m. Maryland Art Place (MAP) is a nonprofit organization dedicated to supporting emerging Maryland artists. A children's museum in the middle of a nightlife complex might seem a little weird, but the location of Baltimore's Port in the Discovery plaza makes a day visit to this complex of restaurants a valuable family pastime. Designed for children from 2 to 10 years, Port Discovery is a place where children can put on their creativity while spending large amounts of energy. The average visit is 2 to 3 hours, although families with stamina all day stay. 07 of 08 Live Music Venue 20 Marketplace410-244-8856Open show days only This live music venue hosts national, regional and local acts. Koskioks and bars inside abound, and there are even closed-circuit TVs that show the concert throughout. 08 of 08 Restaurant 711 East Avenue, Pier V Hotel410-230-0033Sunday 4 p.m. - 9 .m.; Mon-Thurs. 5 .m. - 10 .m.; Fri-Sat 5 .m. - 11 .m. Sizzling, butter-soaked steak is the thing to order at this upscale national chain. The roast lobster tail is also amazing. 34 Marketplace Baltimore, MD 21202, PH: 410-727-5493 Stay up to date. You'll also find a CVS outside the power plant live incase you need something before you go home. Parking is around the area, but sometimes ubering is the best avenue. Power Plant Live!, located at 34 Market Place in Baltimore, Maryland, is a grouping of restaurants, bars and music venues in the heart of downtown Baltimore. Developed by the Cordish Company from 2001-2004, Power Plant Live! quickly became a popular destination for both local Baltimoreans and tourists. Power Plant Live! is named after the Pratt Street Power Plant built in 1900, which is now considered a Baltimore landmark as it has not been used since the end of World War II. It's free to enter the entertainment complex at Power Plant Live! However, patterns must be 21 years old and the venues contained inside may have individual coverage costs to enter. Dance Clubs at Power Plant Live! includes Mosaic and Angels Rock Bar, while other attractions include a bilingual piano bar, the Port Discovery Museum and the pinball museum. A wide range of kitchens, such as Japanese and Mexican, are available from the many restaurants at Power Plant Live! Concerts at Power Plant Live! take place at Rams Head Live! all year long and outside in the courtyard during the summer, and included Mr. Greengenes, Better Than Ezra, and the Gin Blossoms. Concert information can be found on Power Plant Live!'s website or Rams Head Live!' website. This site uses cookies to improve your experience while you navigate through the website.
