Take me away from the jealous guys. SUNDAY SCHOOL ANTHEM 1. O Sunday School, on the day of the Lord, Oh, how I love you well, I am happy, it makes me glad to rejoice in the birth of yours. 2. O Sunday School, the day of the Lord, your friendship suits me well, both young and old will sing the song Thy, We long Sunday school. 3. O Sunday school, on the day of the Lord, Christ was your first teacher, the Holy Spirit, a great teacher, manifested in yours. 4. O Sunday School, on the day of the Lord, This testimony is certain that God, The Almighty Father, has poured His blessing upon you. 5. About Sunday School, the day of the Lord, Although the sun will be so bright, or if the clouds are black with rain, I will be at Sunday school. 6. O Sunday School, on the day of the Lord, I rejoice to see you, will you pass through me today? Without my blast? MEMORY VERSE: And they said to each other, behold, this dreamer cometh - Genesis 37:19 PASSAGE BIBLE: Genesis 37:3-4, 9-11 3 Now Israel loved Joseph more than all his children because he was the son of his old age, and he made him a coat of many colors. 4 And when his brothers saw that their father loved him more than any of their brothers, they hated him and could not speak to him peacefully. 9 And he dreamed of another dream and told him that his brothers, and said, behold, I dreamed of dreaming more; and behold, the sun, the moon and eleven stars made a nod to me. 10 And he said it to his father and brothers, and his father reproached him and said to him, What is this dream you dreamed of? Should I, your mother, and your brothers really bow to the ground? 11 And his brothers envied him; but his father noticed the saying. WARNING: Envy comes from the Latin word: in the video, which means to see against or watch with a sick mind. Jealousy involves suspicious fear or fear. While envy denotes the desire to possess something awarded or achieved by others (Genesis 26:14; 30:1), jealousy denotes a feeling or resentment that the other has received something that one might wish for (1 Samuel 18:6-9). Envy and jealousy are the deeds of the flesh. They are the features of the former lands of Christian life, which must be completely combated (Tit 3:3). TEXT REVIEW: Genesis 37:3-4; 9-11 Many parents are a source of trouble and suffering for their children. A father, mother or both could show special love for one child, preferring him or her to another. Genesis 37:3a. An example of this dangerous scenario was seen in Isaac's special love for Isau, because Eau gave him special food in Genesis 25:27. Rebecca, on the other hand, showed a special love for Jacob by dressing him with the clothes of the elder make it look like Eau. Genesis 27:15. When Eau plotted to kill Jacob for stealing his blessing, it was Rebecca who hatched the plot as well. Genesis 27:42. In today's story, Jacob passed the love to her first child Rachael, for whom she served 14 years to get married and who had to wait for several years before she could get pregnant ... Genesis 30:1-2. So when God gave Rachael conception- Genesis 30:23-24, Jacob loved him more than the other brothers and made for him a coat of many colors. This action, in particular, gave rise to envy. (Genesis 37:3-4). Punishment for the special love for one child over another child led him to sad days not far from his actions. The coat of many flowers was soaked with blood, Genesis 37:31, and Jacob spent many days in sadness and mourning. Genesis 37:33-35. The moral lesson from this story is not to create war in our families by inaction or actions before our death. RELATED: 1. Angry Effects of Envy and Jealousy 2. How to overcome the envy and jealousy of EVIL EFFECTS ENVY AND JEALOUSY I. The teacher should ask students to mention their experience with envy and jealousy and consequences. ii. The teacher must explain the consequences or consequences of envy and jealousy as follows: a. Envy or jealousy can deprive a person of the inheritance of the Kingdom of God (Galatian 5:19-21). B. This can lead to anger, self-destruction, or divine anger (Genesis 27:41; Proverbs 27:4; Numbers 12:5-10). C. This could create a path of separation from God (1 Samuel 18:7-10). D. It can also cause personal harm or weaken physical, spiritual, and emotional well-being (Iov 5:2; Proverbs 14:30). E. He manifests a falsehood of sin and human immorality, in addition to the intervention of God's redemptive grace (Romans 1:28-32). F. He could tear the faithful apart (Genesis 13:7-8; 1 Corinthians 3:3-5). G. He can degenerate to merge against others (Daniel 6:3-4). CLASS ACTIVITY 1: Class must identify sources of envy in our modern society. HOW TO OVERCOME ENVY AND JEALOUSY 1. The teacher must learn from students who overcame jealousy and envy how they were able to overcome the spirit. 2. The teacher must then explain the points below as ways to overcome envy and jealousy. J. Enjoy what you have (Proverbs 15:16; 1 Timothy 6:6). ii. Deal with the thought of envy or jealousy and do not let it gain a foothold in your mind (Romans 12:2; 1 Samuel 18:8). iii. Let the believers avoid the company of wicked people (Psalm 1:1; 2 Corinthians 6:14-16). iv. iv. Let the power of the Holy Spirit conquer all forms of carnivorousness by going in the Spirit (1 Corinthians 3:3; Galatians 5:16; 1 Peter 2:1). V. Make the word of God your guide and the grace of God with your support (Psalm 119:11, 105; Colossian 3:16). CLASS ACTIVITY 2: Class must identify factors that can support friendship. SUMMARY: more envy and and in our Sunday classrooms and wards. A. Patient waiting for your turn can help undermine the root of envy and jealousy.
