Summary Tenya is honored as MVP in the Battle Trial The exercise between teams A and D is completed and All Might declares Izuku and Ochaco as the winners. Katsuki gets confused by the fact that he lost to Izuku, begins to hyperventilate at the thought of possibly losing again. Anyone can comfort Katsuki, telling him it's time for his criticism. While Izuku is taken to the nurse's office, All Might tells Katsuki that if he won or lost, he must take one back, reflect on the experience and move on with his life. Back in the monitor room, All Might Tenya declares the MVP of the exercise and asks the class why they might think it is. Momo Yaoyorozu, one of only four students to be admitted to the United States based on recommendation, answers the question. She says Katsuki and Izuku, using large-scale attacks in an indoor area, were too foolish. She also notes that Ochaco let the guard go too soon, and her latest improvised attack was too reckless. Despite the loss, Momo explains that Tenya was best for adapting to the situation and respecting the spirit of exercise. All Might is very impressed with her response and moves on to the next match between Team B and Team I. Shoto recovers the warhead without any problems. Mashirao Ojiro and Toru Hagakure make up the villain team. They enter the building and gather around the payload on the fourth floor. Toru removes the clothes completely to maximize the effectiveness of her invisibility Quirk. The hero team, Shoto Todoroki, and Mezo Shoji enter the building minutes later. Mezo uses his Quirk to discover Team I's location and informs his teammate. Shoto instructs Mezo to exit the building for his own safety and continues to use his own Quirk to freeze the building completely and his opponents almost immediately. Mashirao and Toru's bare feet are stuck in the ground, giving Shoto an easy opening to touch the payload and secure victory for Team B. All Might praises Shoto for his technique. Katsuki and the class look in awe of his incredible Quirk. When all the exercises have ended, All Might praises their class for their efforts and sends them back to the home room. He barely escapes from class before returning from his heroic form. All Might makes it to the nurse's office where Recovery Girl complains that Izuku is being critically injured for the third time. She mentions that All Might should not indulge Izuku just because he inherits One For All, but All Might asks her to keep her voice down because hardly anyone knows about Quirk. Izuku wakes up later that day and returns to class. He is of compliments from his classmates, but he notices that Katsuki is not among them. Ochaco tells Izuku that Katsuki has already left, and Izuku goes to find him. He finds Katsuki just outside school and decides to tell him the truth: that he got his Quirk from someone else and had not lied to Katsuki. Katsuki, however, refuses to believe him and reacts by admitting defeat. Izuku tries to tell Katsuki the truth about his Quirk. Katsuki's pride has clearly been damaged, he begins to cry as he explains that Shoto's powers, as well as Momo's criticism, have made him realize that he still has work to do. Before he storms off, he warns Izuku that he has just begun and will not lose again. All Might will comfort Katsuki again, but Katsuki refuses him and promises to surpass the foremost hero without his help. In an unknown place, a mysterious person reads a newspaper that All Might can become a teacher. He asks the question of what would happen if the Symbol of Peace was snuffed out by villains.
