Access to professionals who have succeeded in their field is vital for students of entrepreneurship, both in and out of the classroom. These five schools offer the largest number of mentoring programs because of a cohort of entrepreneurship graduate programs. 1. Temple University (Philadelphia, Pennsylvania) Entrepreneurs, senior executives and investors from Philadelphia and the Mid-Atlantic region with extensive experience in numerous industries, as well as experience in many disciplines, consult one-on-one with students, teachers and graduates who start entrepreneurial enterprises. Thanks to the Dear Leaders in Residence program, an elite group of highly successful entrepreneurs, senior executives and executives provide several hours of free coaching and counseling services for the district on campus every month. Past respected leaders in the residence include Chris Rabb, a social entrepreneur in residence and author of Invisible Capital; Ellen Weber, Angel in residence and managing director of Robin Hood Ventures; Glen Haddy, serial entrepreneur and head of strategy at the residence; Ted LeBou, CFO at Residence and CEO of JRI Consulting; and Lisa Peskin, Sales Executive Director at Residence, founder and CEO of the University of Business Development. 2. The University of Missouri -Kansas City (Kansas City, MO) Regnier Institute of Entrepreneurship and Innovation is home to the Entrepreneurs in residence program, through which students can meet each other with sixteen mentors in different fields. These areas include: branding/marketing, capital resources, consumer goods, finance/accounting, financial services, information technology, intellectual property, media/entertainment, operations/production, oil/energy, sales, launch, start-up law and strategy/planning. The schedule of each mentor and detailed biography are available online, which gives students the opportunity to choose the best mentor for their projects and persecution. 3. Byu's Venture Mentoring Services by Byu's Venture Mentoring Services is the largest university mentoring program in the world and consists of more than 200 dedicated mentors. Student teams as they form, mentors on a weekly basis to help make weekly progress, understand the next steps, connect with potential partners or other mentors, etc. VMS makes it easier to between student enterprise and carefully vetted entrepreneurs and business leaders in the network is best suited to help the team progress. Both the student and the mentor are obliged to conclude specific agreements, as well as to reach certain points for participation. 4. The University of Michigan (Ann Arbor, Michigan) provides mentoring through various programs and business plan contests. Ask an Entrepreneur invites students to meet one-on-one with highly respected entrepreneurs to promote their ideas, receive advice and create connections. The series of seminars on business development concerns everything from developing an idea, finalizing a business step, marketing analysis, financial structure, writing a business plan and building a team. Through Weather Underground Startup Trek, students also have the opportunity to travel to San Francisco, where they go to venture capital firms and connect with entrepreneurs. 5. Students at the University of Washington (Seattle, WASHINGTON) have access to mentors through the postgraduate accelerator, angel investment course and MBA mentoring programs. Through the latest program, more than 90 percent of MBA participate in on-site visits and a small group mentality with executives. Students study career paths, get an internal view of the industry, learn how managers meet complex challenges, and get an idea of corporate strategy. The school also offers on-demand mentoring through its MentorConnect program, and an entrepreneur in residence with offices available for student meetings. etsy It's time to welcome the 2020 class to the real world. Whether your favorite high school graduate is heading to college, a trade school, a gap project or right into the workforce, make the transition easier - and more exciting - with these perfect gift ideas for your new grad. These gifts of high school graduates meet right at the intersection of fun and useful, so you know that your favorite graduate will feel famous and take care of next year. They are the perfect gift to bring to the prom too! In our list you will find a mandatory dorm room, stylish wardrobe fresheners, Amazon bestsellers, personalized Etsy finds and proven Good Housekeeping Institute picks. And no matter what your hail is in – whether it's outdoor sports, cooking, new technology, or keeping up with makeup trends – these gifts will have them covered.
