Modern communication is a world of people who want to convey the maximum amount of information with minimal cost. We want to save time, which leads to many abbreviations and cuts, without knowledge of which it is easy to get lost in both friendly conversation on social media and business correspondence. Today it is difficult to imagine a modern person without communication on the Internet - social networks, forums, instant messaging systems, various chats. Consequently, brevity was also necessary from an economic point of view. A small screen size and a limited number of characters resulted in a new language. The language of mobile messages was based on the use of certain slang and recently created words. Although the whole debate is less formal than text messages, which preserve standard polite phrases and other formalities. However, you can skip all formal phrases and immediately proceed to the issue without premeditating in a text message. Due to the limited number of characters, the interlocutors can avoid dissection and control the time of conversation. So we can highlight three reasons for the abbreviations: They save your time.
