At launch, the game attracted many players of all ages. There is a lot to learn if you want to be a good player in this game. In the article section, I provide some basic information about the game before downloading it on my phone. Impressive graphicsGame configuration is quite easy compared to shooting game on mobile phone. The graphics are very convenient and not as heavy as other FPS games. Although not too realistic, the game is still very attractive with beautifully designed landscapes. The music of the game is not too noticeable, because the game focuses on the sound of the game, while keeping the player focused on the match. GameplayAs a shooting game, Respawnables has no history. All players have to do is join the battlefield, try to kill as many players as possible. As the name suggests, death is not the end of respawnables. If you die, quickly respawn anywhere on the map and continue to fight. But this is one thing that you have to be careful about. Always look around because it is possible that the enemy will respawn right behind you while you are focusing on attacking the enemy. Taking down or collecting stars will give you a few points. When time is up, the player or team has more points to be the winner. The interface of the game is very convenient, considering the main operations of the shooting game. First of all, Respawnables removed the function jump, making the game interface even simpler. Players can move with virtual key left, shoot or reboot with virtual key Right. With a soldier, armor is an important weapon to protect them from certain types of ammunition. There are three important positions that need to be protected: the head, legs and body. Respawnables, armor not only reduces enemy damage, but also provides important statistics for you. Armor has three different indicators, including health, agility, and accuracy. Agility helps you move faster, it also depends on the weight of the weapon you use. The healthier you are, the more HP you have, you get harder to kill. Of course, accuracy reduces weapons jerky, allowing you to shoot more accurately. Weapons and armor game can be purchased in gold or money. You start the game with free weapons and armor, but you need to upgrade or buy more powerful equipment if you want to fight powerful enemies.
