The 100 characters season 1

We are vendors (Part 2) Survival is not who you are. It's who you become. The first season of the 100, a American post-apocalyptic science fiction television series, contains 13 episodes that were premier on 19 March 2014, on the CW, and concludes on 11 June 2014. It focuses on the 100 Delinquents who, as they become the first human to return to Earth in nearly a hundred years after a devastating nuclear apocalypse, try to determine if the planet became familiar enough to survive. The series also follows those left behind on the Ark. The season, developed by Jason Rothenberg, is loosened based on a 2013 book of the same name, the first in the 100' series by Kass Morgan. It was mostly filmed on location in Vancouver. The first episode was seen by an average audience of 2.7million, making it the most watched new series premiered in the season, and released the network's best computer numbers in its time period of 3.5million. [1] The season was internationally indicated. The full season is available on DVD and Blu-ray in all regions as of December 3, 2014. The episode are also available in digital details such as Netflix, [2], the iTunes Apple Store,[3] Microsoft's Xbox Live Marketplace,[4] and Amazon.com's on-demand television services. [5] The Ninety Synopsis — Seven years ago, Nuclear Armageddon planet Decimal Earth, destroyed civilization. Only the survivors were 400 of the 12 international space stations that were in orbit at the time. Three generations have been born into space, the survivors are now numbers over 2,659,[6] and the resources are running out on the dead Ark — the 12 stations currently linked together and return to keep the survivors alive. Draconian measures including capital punishment and population control are the order of the day, as Arkk's leaders take unprecedented steps to ensure future punishments, including secretly existing a group of 100 youthful inmates off the Earth's surface to test whether it's in habit. For nearly a century, people have returned to Earth's planet. Among the 100 exiles are Clarke, the girl teens shining at Ark's medical officer; Well, the son of Chancellor Ark; daredevil finn; and brother/sister duo Bellamy and Octavia, who have illegal illegal fee status that still lead them to the plateau settlement. Technologically blind to what's happening on the planet below, Ark's leader — Clarke's widow's mother, Abby; The Chancellor, Jaka; and shadow it second in order, Kane — to deal with difficult decisions about life, death and the continued existence of the human race. For 100 young people on Earth, however, the alien planet they've never been known is a real mysterious magic that can be magical one moment and the next letal. With survivors of the human race entirely in their hands, the 100 must find a way to draw unite and forget a new path on a primitive, intense and unknown path.[7] Cast and main character article: Character Appearance Starring Guest Starring Main Article Episodes: Episode Body Count Main Article: Body Count Note: The total body counts for the season cannot be determined.
