What a great way to combine a rule book with a living judge who can explain the rule. Two main ones that are missing: 1. Should be able to create more than one bookmark per rule. Was only able to create one in each rule. For example, rule 6 had a few bookmarks that I wanted to be able to create and return, but should only be content with one. 2. Should be able to return to the previous page after you follow a blue highlighted link that refers to another rule. Instead, the Back button takes you back to the content table, where you should then move to where you were before. Finally, the functionality of the video was inconsistent. Sometimes videos are uploaded, sometimes they don't. It's nice to have everything at hand with search functionality, but there are some fundamental drawbacks both in search and in hyperlink capabilities. The search will return the list of results and allow you to click and go to the section that are referred to in the results.

However, the Back button will return you to the content table rather than back to the search results - you should re-hunt the search from the start. The same problem arises when you press the hyperlink on the With a link - The Back button returns you to the content table, not the original rule. Yesterday when downloaded he had a glitch issue. Emailed league, and they informed me that the mistake that they quickly tackled. It's a good idea to delete and reboot. After making the app worked PERFECTLY! Great app and thanks for including all the rules of the book for one low price. Improved features compared to previous years of the book.
