Previews: From the back cover This new edition of time-saver standards for building types offers easy-to-reference technical guidelines, criteria, standards and specifications that facilitate and smoother the preparatory and planning work of designers and builders. Classic source of architectural data for all types of buildings, now up to date for the new century, with 1500 illustrations This updated and revised timer standards for building types is the first reference and primary source of guidelines for material design and selection. It lists the key criteria that every architect and builder must consider when designing, specifying, and constructing buildings — the data needed to prepare preliminary designs, implement programming and feature analysis requirements, and use any building. This volume is the only comprehensive reference to all types of buildings. The fourth edition contains key data on topical issues such as rehabilitation, change of use, conservation, availability and energy saving and other environmental issues. A new graphic design with new illustrations makes this resource more useful than ever. Time saver standards for building types provide a comprehensive overview of a range of building structures. An invaluable guide to reviewing technical data is equally suitable for use in further education courses, in preparation for professional licensing exams and in architecture schools.
