Ravindra de Hartford, CT Verified Reviewer Verified Buyer Original review: Jan. 11, 2021 bought this product about three years ago, and at the time of purchase I was warned by the sales associate that buying the penthouse was the best option, since I would be covered if something happened to it. Now, three years later, this selective begins to peel and is very messy and ugly. I called customer service to fix it, but they told me that my coverage does not include wear and tear. It only includes accidental damage and manufacturing default. I wouldn't buy another biglots furniture again, nor would I recommend buying this selective for the following reasons; - They gave me the wrong information at the time of purchase. - I bought an item that is not even worth the price due to the time of its useful life.-And what is the purpose of buying a cover that does not cover your furniture when you need it? I am very disappointed with the experience I have with big lots. That looks like stolen. Read Kaylene's full review of Henrietta, NY Verified Reviewer Original Review: January 10, 2021After my husband told me he had a terrible experience through online orders through Big Lots I finally convinced him to buy from you again through me. After he bought it online, it was said that there were not really any in stock (errors happen), but that another location had several stocks and sent it that way. He arrived to find out that they had none because they could not find what they should have had. We finally decided to sign up and buy through me after he insisted he didn't. We asked online last night to be cancelled this morning and no help in the store other than a There's nothing we can do but call other locations in our final conversation instead of trying to help with an inconvenience. If there was an inventory error I would assume that they would have an item brought from another location or waive a seeing delivery that I ordered through my local location. I'm more than disappointed and feel like there shouldn't even be a website seeing that we've had several occasions where a site has no idea about inventory. I made a purchase of furniture that the store had not, online stated that there was in stock and once I paid for my order was cancelled and now I had to wait 7 days to get my money back in my account. Account. Many need to upgrade their system. That's inconvenient to make me wait a whole week to get my money back. Now I have to go somewhere to get my furniture and i lost a good deal playing with this place. Karen from Sun City, AZ Verified Reviewer Original Review: December 31, 2020 No, I repeat, don't spend money for Big Lots furniture protection guarantee. The warranty company they use, Warrantech, has a lousy customer service abroad and will find any excuse not to cover their damages. They take time to respond to the allegations, if they respond, barely communicate about their findings and then find any excuse not to cover damages. I have what I consider accidental damage from a pet protection adhesive product I used on the sofa arm. They tell me the damage isn't covered because it's disappearing. It's not disappearing! Parts of the fabric have been torn off and are missing! I had to explicitly ask a supervisor to get a U.S.-based customer service representative that I could really understand. DO NOT USE LARGE BATCHES OR BUY The so-called warranty. Read Brad's full review of Fort Lawn, SC Verified Reviewer Original Review review: Dec 16, 2020Bought the Trent Big Boy Recliner from Lancaster Store, SC on May 24, 2019 for $433.81. I've had nothing but trouble since. 1st chair collapsed in a few months and I wasn't granted $back, but it was replaced by an identical piece of foreign trash. 2nd chair also collapsed (maybe it's the plywood support beams)???? But anyway, the corporate office doesn't even talk to me about anything anymore and I've never been rude to them. I think you have what you pay but I'll never go back to Big Lots NEVER again even if they eventually refund my $Very uncomfortable. They'll be out of business soon, in my opinion. Sharon de Aurora, CO Verified Reviewer Original Review Review: December 13, 2020Transit Rd store, Williamsville NY.. bought more than 1500.00 (sofa + loveseat) in April at the beginning of the Pandemic when everything closed, but essential business. I picked up the L-shaped sofa only to find once at home the only section was missing feet. I tried calling the store, they couldn't help, so I sent an email to BL customer service asking for their feet to be sent. I provided them with a sofa model, a receipt and a picture of their feet. Now it's December 13th, 8 months later, no response to my second follow-up email and still waiting for feet that I'm sure we'll never get. Worse customer service, reluctant to solve customer problems. I'd never buy from them again. Lauren de Taylor, MI Verified Verified Verified Buyer Original review: December 13, I bought a chair less than two years ago that collapsed. Luckily I bought the warranty and received a gift card to replace the chair. I tried several times to ask for a new chair, and the order was cancelled several times. Today, I made another order and it was cancelled again. the customer service department today to ask about possibly placing my order from another location. Before I could ask anything, the woman was already telling me that they couldn't do anything. I asked her to speak to her manager as the call progressed, but she refused to allow me to talk to anyone else. If she hadn't been so rude and actually listened to my concerns, the call might have ended differently. Now I'm going to warn anyone and everyone to buy anything from Big Lots. Your order will be cancelled several times (conveniently during your sales, I might add) and your refund will not occur for 5 business days, or you will be stuck talking to a customer service representative who has no idea what this position entails. I would also like to add the email cancellation states rest assured that you will not be charged for the canceled items, which can be interpreted in some ways. To say I'm dissatisfied is an understatement. I wish I wasn't stuck trying to buy something from this retailer. Read Leanne's full review of Waxahachie, TX Verified Reviewer Original Review review: December 9, 2020I ordered a dinner set to pick up at the store on 8/12 at 10:00 am. I was told I'd get an email confirmation when I was ready to answer. The total amount was withdrawn from my account at 10:02. At 1:00 pm, there is still no email confirming neither the purchase, the order number or the details of the collection. I called the store and they told me that many orders arrived and an email would only be sent if and when the table was ready. It was 'normal' not to receive a purchase confirmation email. 6:00 that night, still no e-mail. I did a live conversation with the Big Lots company who was able to pull my order by email and said the order was cancelled. I explained that not only had I received no email about anything, let alone a cancellation, but that the money was taken from my account. The representative said that the money is taken to 'book' the product (store policy) and, depending on my bank, it may take 5 days to return to 'return'. I required this information in writing and immediate deposit of the total amount back into my account. as I have no table, order number of not receiving any email confirmation and an apparent cancelled order. The rep said this was store policy and there was nothing she could do. She also told me that I need to call the store before ordering anything online from Big Lots because they have no control over what's in the inventory in the store. I asked what is the point of taking my money to book an item that has been declared available online in a store if none of this is accurate. She simply stated that there was nothing she Do. Now it's 8:30 a.m. the next day and haven't received a single email for purchase, cancellation or my money back. I understand that there may be some confusion between online shopping and instore, but this is ridiculous. Great Big need to refund the money IMMEDIATELY when they cannot fill out an order and COMMUNICATE all the information. Completely ridiculous. Read Pat's full review of Spring City, TN Verified Reviewer Original Review review: December 6, 2020I made a $1500 purchase online, but the site didn't work so I couldn't complete the order. I went to the store to finish it. They couldn't give me my discount because it said i was already used in the incomplete online order so I ended up paying $300 more. In the next online order so I ended up paying $300 more. In the next online order so I ended up paying $300 more. In the incomplete online order so I ended up paying $300 more. In the next online order so I changed. I was on the phone with big lots for over an hour and they basically said I'd have to pay extra for the missing chairs. I still have a set of 5 pieces that is time and date stamped and corresponds to the time I ordered. Note again I'll miss my discounts because it savs already used in an incomplete order. Large batches are not willing to help you. I didn't make any offers other than helping them, not me. I'm canceling the rest of my furniture order and going somewhere that really cares about your customers. I would give them ZERO STARS... DON'T SHOP HERE. Read Lindsay's full review of Ft.
