The broth is foldable and includes a sling twist. The four-lane tactical forearm four-lane system has an extended top rail and a rotating turn. The Winchester Air Rifle MP4 is a semi-automatic dual ammunition gun that fires BBs, as well as all standard .177 caliber pellet styles. The clip contains two standard CO2 cylinders of 12 grams to produce a maximum mouth speed of 700 feet per second. Load two CO2 cylinders into the clip and then insert them into the gun. The clip also contains an ammo magazine with an 8-shot rotating cylinder at each end for a total of 16 shots. Load BBs, pellets or any combination of BBs and pellets into the charger and reinsert the charger into the clip. After 8 shots, flip the clip to continue shooting. For adults and over 16 years with adult supervision. The Winchester MP4 CO2 Rifle fires any ammo you have. Steel BBs and lead pellets are not scarce as firearms ammunition - and much cheaper - too! So, load your rifle and start shooting. Because this actually offers a lot of low-range power- the gun uses two (2) CO2 cartridges at once. Our technology department has done some speed tests on the Winchester MP4. They have 550 fps with pellets and 450 fps with steel BBs. There were times when an occasional pellet reached 600 fps. Winchester MP4 Air Rifle Features Uses 2 (two) 12-gram CO2 cartridges Semi-automatic Rifled barrel steel 16rd mag holds steel pellets or BBs (2 8rd rotating clips at either end of the insertable magazine) Flip-up slide torsion telescoping- front sight Adjustable for Wind or Lift) Folding rear sight Adjustable Weaver/Picatinny Integral Metal Receiver rail system on all 4 sides of the barrel Manual safety Do not fire steel BBs at hard objects or water. They'll bounce! Remember to wear safety goggles. In fact, everyone in the vicinity of the range should use safety even if they're not shooting. Remember to remove all pets from range before you start shooting. Click here to see the California Proposition 65 warning. Francisco de USAHand guards and but stoke are plastic, I modified mines shortening the hand protector, knowing that it looks like and M4, added laser + flashlight and rangeJoseMan guards and but stock, modified mines shortening the hand protector added an airsoft laser suppressor + flashlight and range looks much better, see photoJoseThe reciever and barrel are made of metal. I don't know about the damping tube, but you can take the stock out of the factory for a magpull from the aftermarket or another brand. JUSTIN usals stock gl gl gl. I mean. a little loose. so a wrapper or two of black electric tape will suffice. Francisco de USAYes, adjustable. John of USAYes is, and can be easily exchanged for an aftermarket action. JUSTIN by USAYes, according to the description on this page. GENE from USAYes is adjustableHarley How far can this thing shoot for a death shot in varmints. asked HunterIn 26 meters, small game and pests such as rats, squirrels, crows and groundhogs. Francisco de USAHonestly id use this thing for backyard plinking only he was shooting a soup can consistantly in 20 yards with little penance. Luisfiguring that his claims to shoot at 700 fps which means he actually shoots 500fps with lead pellets would say no more than 30 yards for a good shot and 45 pushing it based on the accuracy shown in the video. You could get better accuracy if you get a dummy co2 adapter and hooked it to an HPA tank, but even if you make your only one .17 lime rifle so you won't do much damage to anything bigger than a squirrel at 500 fps, but you might be able to get that number up if you can get the HPA tank at higher pressures than a co2, but you would need a very good reg for that. But stock I would say 30 yards maximum for a U.S. squirrelThis is not a good choice for hunting any type of animals. You a more powerful rifleLam of USA Tactical mounts, lasers, red dots, flashlights, fit on the rails of this rifle..... asked FernandoBi-pod, laser + flashlight, range and simulated suppressor, I took the hand protectors and cut to turn it into an M4, see attach photoJose This rifle has mil Spec Picatinny rails, all my real accessories fit. I actually took off my ass and grip, painted them FDE and then added ladder covers to match (also real), oh yes, I also put FDE Magpul back sights, it looks great.
