But it will only be successful if partners are satisfied with it. Taking into account these two signs are good friends, it is very possible they will have a good marriage and encourage each other to succeed. NegativesNo manage that they do not connect with each other emotionally, Cancer man and woman Gemini can have problems as a couple. He wants a family more than anything else. She's too irresponsible for such a thing. Not to mention that she will find it boring. Crayfish are all moody, regardless of whether male or female. They also have insecurity, and that can ward off a Gemini woman because she's looking for someone confident. Crab wants to connect emotionally, while gemini only look to have fun. Once you've told them something, they immediately find something else to focus on. And this couple may also have a problem because she's flirtatious. Considering Cancer as one of the most possessive in the Zodiac, he will not accept his lady, who seeks the attention of other men. He will become errant and moody when he sees her smiling at other people. And it will hurt her a lot when he tells her he thinks she's flirting. You'll never see a Gemini woman confessing that she hit someone. For her, it's just friendliness. If the issues between them cannot be resolved, Cancer Man and Woman Twins are doomed to failure as a couple. But there's also something positive about them, and it's the fact that it's able to adapt and be more interested and romantic, just like its Cancer. The main difference between them is that a person can't survive in an insecure world and the other won't stay too long where diversity and change don't happen. But if they communicate and devote more of their time to each other, they will be able to keep their relationship alive. We can say that both of them are volatile. Cancer man has moods and emotional outbursts, the woman cannot follow the plan and needs constant changes. You'd say it's one thing that could help them work as a couple - but it's not. He'll think she's too cold and unemoly. She'll want him to have fun and be more relaxed. Therefore, they will irritate each other only when their attitude changes. Long-term relationships and marriage prospects and marriage prospects and marriage prospects and unemoly. She'll want him to have fun and be more relaxed. Therefore, they will irritate each other only when their attitude changes. colorful, fun and with lots of nice conversations. They will want to help each other in difficult situations. When one makes an effort, the other will evaluate and support them. Not to mention that they have common interests and views, which means more fun. They can even be big business partners if she enters into reality and joins him in hard work. If they live romance together, they will have great times, even if they live through emotions very differently, and she finds it difficult. As parents, he will be the best friend a child can ever have. In general, Cancer Man and Woman Twins can be very happy together. When they want to build a life together, all the drama or other psychological problems will be left behind. They won't even lose their jobs. All they are going to do is have good friends, a cozy home, smart kids and adventurous holidays. Their marriage will succeed because they both want to be in each other's company. He will be a gentleman and she will love him for it. Not to mention the fact that Cancer man is very passionate and can turn the world upside down with his love. Because she will feel welcome like never before, she will be found to surprise it in a good way. Final advice for a cancer man and a female GeminiProcessing Cancer man wants so badly to be emotionally fulfilled, Gemini woman may think he is struggling to deal with. It's not impossible for these two to be a successful couple, but they have to make a lot of compromises and discover what makes them as sweet as partners. It's a match that needs some work to do. But everything will usually be fine because it communicates easily and he expresses his emotions as soon as he has them. While they can say different things, they will influence each other to be better people. It will help him become more subjective when emotions are involved, he will teach her that sensitivity is all about cancer man protective and careful when in love. He wants to be sure he's loved. She won't understand it, but she'll assure him of her love. When things are about love, Crayfish never joke. They are educating and they want safety. But gemini can't offer them all that. It will be more settled when with it, but that's about it. However, since they the two will also complement each other. If they learn not to hurt, they will greatly improve their chances of being a successful couple. Where a man from Cancer wants to go out and make new friends. Because they pull in two opposite directions, they will have arguments sometimes. No matter what they do, however, the physical attraction between them will always be there. She'll think she's achieved the greatest intimacy of her life because he has emotions she doesn't. Through sex, these two can fill the void that is in between. This suggested a cancer man was opening up more. He also needs to support her to be more sociable. If he understands that she needs diversity, everything will be fine. At the same time, she must respect her feelings and adapt to his mood swings. If a Gemini woman makes an effort to see that he wants stability, he will no longer devote.
