Gunzerker class mods

Share A Gunzerker Class Mod Mods, or COMS (short for Class Optimization Modules), are influential elements in Borderlands 2. These are class-specific upgrades that provide benefits for the character (or the entire team), offering a wide variety of bonuses, such as amplifying a character's damage, healing, increasing character health or shield capacity, reducing reload times, increasing skill ranks, etc. Class Mod skill bonuses do not stack even if a certain skill is maxxed (5/5) up to a total maximum of 11 rows in any skill. However, a skill bonus will not work unless the character has at least 1 point invested in the specified qualification. Skills that currently receive bonuses from an equipped ClassMod are presented in the cyan in the skill tree, even if no points are invested in the qualification. Class mods can be obtained in several ways throughout the game. Borderlands 2 Class Mods Class mods in Borderlands 2 have a prefix that will note the given skills of the class mode, with the prefix determining the mandatory focus of the qualifying bonus. Skills that are boosted by class mods will also be displayed in the skill tree selection, listing the number of bonus points from the mode and the final percentages for qualifying. The prefix (if any) always provides a bonus for the skills it is associated with, as shown in the charts below. (For example, Maya's Hell Binder class mode will always buff Helios, Cunning Binder, Reaper, and Chrono Binder, Suspension.) Additional skills that receive a bonus (if any) come from the predefined class mode skill set. (For example, Mayan's Binder class mode will always affect only Helios, Reaper, and/or suspension.) Tiny Tina's Assault on Dragon Keep adds a set of class mods (Barbarian, Cleric, Monk, Necromancer, Ranger, and Rogue), which does not follow the above rule. The prefix of these class modes instead determines which player variables (e.g. Fire Rate, Magazine Size, etc.) are affected. The rarity of a class mode determines how many skills will affect: White - No Green Skill Bonuses - 1 Blue Qualifying Bonus - 2 Purple Qualifying Bonuses - 3 Legendary Qualifying Bonuses and Slayer of Terramorphos class mods each award additional skill bonuses: Legendary - 5 or 6 Qualifying Bonuses, depending on the Slayer class of Terramorphous - 5 Skill Bonuses Level and rarity of a class mode determine the number of qualifying points awarded. The maximum number of qualifying bonus points at the maximum rarity level is: Green - +5 Blue Qualifying Points - +6, +5 Purple Qualifying Points - +5, +4, +4 Legendary Qualifying Points - +5, +5, +5, +5, (+5) Slayer of Terramorphous skill points - +4, +4, +4, 4 Mods skill points class are visible on character, seen as a signature piece of equipment on each of the characters. These are Salvador's digistruct ammunition boxes, Maya's book, Axton's targeting device, Zer0's elbow blades, Gaige's lunch box, and Krieg's crate. Loyalty Loyalty no longer exists. However, the new Relics of The Faith offer a similar function. Tiny's Assault on Dragon Keep Campaign DLC. These modes give The Hunters a dungeons & Dragons-inspired title, in addition to awarding bonuses based on mod alignment (Chaotic Good, Legal Neutral, etc.). Also, regardless of the alignment listed, these modes will always boost the same three abilities for each character. Otherwise, they follow the same rules as regular mods in terms of the number of skills boosted for rarity. Affected variable legal accuracy of alignment type (up to 33%) Chaotic fire rate 33%) Good recharging speed (up to 45%) Serious damage hit (up to Neutral magazine size (up to 45%) True Neutral (Double Example of Neutral Alignment) Magazine Size (up to 86%) Notes Blue-rarity Class Mods below level 50 can not give more than +5/+4 to their abilities. In order to give +6 to a single skill, a blue-rarity class mode must be at least level 50. Community content is available under CC-BY-SA, unless otherwise stated. Noted.
