Go to Pallador Park and stand on the east side of the yellow flower patch (west of the Saradomon statue). Gardenerchurch. Use the message to click on the right. Complete the quest! Pirate's Treasure is required directly to the following quests/mini-quests: Start: The Red Beard Frank Story on the Pier of Port Salim.Description: None! Quest: None you need: 60 coins, white apron, and spades. Featured items: Take Rolls-Royce to Barlock and Palador, Barlock and Palador (members), Amulet of Glory (member), and Ring of Explorer (3). It's best to get the items you need before you start your prep quest. This time, you need to find a white apron and spade. The white apron can be purchased at barlock's clothing store and can be obtained free of charge on the back wall of The Gerand Fishin Business in Port Salim. You can get the Spaniard free of charge at Spanypoint: a house southwest of Pallador Park (a real estate agent's house), a mine near Remington or a southeastern room in Drayner Manor. Start the quest to start the quest, and talk to Redbeard Frank at Fort Sasame. Frank is located just south of the rustic anchor pub, just northwest of Port Salim Pier. Redbeard Frank says that he will talk about some treasures, but such information comes at a price: of course, there is a rub on the whole deal: after you agree to get some rum from Redbeard Frank in exchange for information about the treasure, it's time to head to Karamza. Walk south from Port Salim's wharf to find three sailors: Captain Tobias, Sailor Lloris and Seaman Tresner. Talking to one of these sailors, there are 30 coins to sail on a Caramra. After completing the quest, you will have the paid fee option available. Karamja Rum On Karamja walks west to the Karamza Wine, Spirits and Beer Bar, where you can trade with Zambo and buy 30 coins. The problem with getting Karamaza rum on Karamaza Island is that as Asgarnia has banned the import ation of drunk souls, there are customs agents waiting at Karamza's pier. Customs officers When you are about to leave Karamza Island you are. If they find you with rum in your inventory, they will confiscate it. The bottle is broken during teleportation, so you can't teleport the island with rum. Therefore, you need to find another way to get rum on the island. Get a job! Heading back towards the ship you will find the hut of Rutaha, the owner of a banana farm in Karamza. Talk to Rutas about the customs officer. Rutas tells you something that's very interesting: Rutas talks to Rutas again: Rutas will agree to hire you as his worker, and put bananas in a box outside his cabin. I agree to help him. Travel west from Rutas' hut and enter the banana plantation behind Rutas' house. Click on the banana tree to get the banana. You will need 10 bananas to fill the box. Note: After the quest, you can work for Rutas by filling out the box and get paid for it with 10 bananas and rum in stock, walk back to the box outside rutas' cabin. Use boxes and rum to hide rum in the box. Next, click the right side of the box and select Fill the Box. Talk to Rutas and get a payment. Ask Ruta where the box is going, and he will tell you: Rum Retriever port salim head west and then south from the boat to the feeding shop. If you don't already have a white apron on you, now is a good time to grab one from Gerrant's fishy business store in Port Salim: enter the store with a white apron in equip or stock and talk to Wydin: Andin will ask you about your qualifications: now you're hired by Wadin, and while wearing a white front, enter the room into the back of the shop and retrieve the box with a banana top. You need to find rum. Take it and return to Redbeard Frank. Arer, treasure! Talk to Frank and tell him rum and Frank will tell you about the treasure: He will give you the key of treasure, and say where it is: Blue Moon, you stood alone and saw me ... Go to Barlock. After passing through the city at the southern entrance (on the road from Rumbidge), the Blue Moon Inn is on the east side of the road opposite the checkpoint. Upstairs, there is a chest in one of the rooms. Open your chest: It will give you a clue about the location of the treasure. X tells the pirate's message that the treasure is in the city of The White Knight, a Palador. Head to Falador and walk to the park north of the Eastern Bank. Spades are required. If you haven't already acquired spades, get now at the southwest revival point of Pallador Park, from the real estate agent's office: you need to find a statue of Saramindoo pointing down the road. There are many statues of The Sarajand, but It is a statue of Saradoddin in the park that must be found. If you look at the direction that Saradodo dossier, it's usually the west - this is the direction you have to face when looking for X. On the ground, while facing the west, next to the statue of Saradomin, the composition of dust makes x. If you're heading north, it may not look like an X. Stand in the center of the X and dig into the spades. Angry Battle Level 4 Gardener appears shouting the first mole, now thist, and he attacks you. Kill him or run in the park. After killing the gardener or fleeing from him, he returns to the same place and digs back to get another chest. You've completed the Pirate's Treasure! Open your breasts and claim rewards!
