Teacher's Guide: The teacher's manual provides instructions, recoverable materials, answer keys, etc. Daily grammar practice is a 30-week training program. Download Teacher Guide example DGP Academy Teaching Video: DGP Academy is for teachers who want to be more willing to answer student questions and parents working through DGP with students at home. DGP Academy provides short video lessons (about 1-5 minutes each) to accompany every day's grammar practice. Dawn Burnette, creator of DGP, walks you through every sentence, explaining all the concepts and answering the questions that students and teachers often ask. It's like having an expert as your personal instructor! Access to each video collection by DGP Academy includes more than 150 videos and never ends. note that videos are streams, not downloads, so you can show them directly in an online classroom, classroom, publish them on your online platform so students can watch later. With DGP Academy, you will still need a copy of the teacher's manual, but you can use the discount code at the Teacher40 check-out to get a 40% discount on your teacher's guide with purchasing the appropriate DGP Academy collection. Student Workbook Volume Discount: If you buy 6-10 workbooks, you will receive $2.00 to disable each workbook; 11-19 copies are $4.00 off each. You can request additional discounts for 20 or more quantities by contacting Rod at rburnette@dgppublishing.com or 706-745-1005. Download the example of a student workbook overhead CD: This CD contains a PDF with daily grammar practice daily exercises. Because there are no answer keys on the CD, it does not replace the teacher's manual. Additionally, you cannot print from a CD. A CD is a custom add-on that provides a convenient way to design a job every day if your students don't use workbooks. This series has a very simple premise: grammar does not have to be difficult - it is possible to learn (and save!) through daily exercises, which are very effective, but very unconsistible. Teachers will have to spend a few moments getting acquainted with the approach, but once that is understandable, daily exercises should not take more than a few minutes. The course is organized in 30 5-day weeks, totaling 150 days of grammar practice. Students work with the same sentence per week. The use (permission is not granted to restore any pages) Student workbook has two sections. The first section briefly teaches and explains how grammar rules, how they will be used every day of the week. The second section contains daily exercises - one week per page (these exercises really are fast!) For example, in the first part of Class 3: Monday is always a noun, pronoun, adjective, preposition, conjunction, and emoticon; Tuesday is always a simple and complete theme, simple and full of tarr/verb, and adverb; Wednesday is always the condition, sentence types and purpose of the sentence; Thursday is always in capital letters, apostrophe, underscore/italics, quotation marks and commas; and Friday always writes its sentence using the specific grammar rules provided for that week. Class 11: Monday is part of the language; Tuesday parts of the sentence and phrases; Wednesday is the terms and types of sentences; Thursday is punctuation and capitalization; and Friday is charting. The teachers' guide consists of: the basis of the DGP approach; instructions on how best to implement this approach; Recoverable pages and marking guides; response pages; restoring quiz quiz preliminary tests and voucher sheets; and programme coverage and sequence. It's easy to use in both home and class settings (this is a secular version). - Zach (Publisher's description) How does daily grammar practice work? The key to daily grammar practice is her organization. Most methods are organized according to the concept - a lesson about nouns, a lesson on verbs. Daily grammar practice attracts all concepts together so that students always see the painting. Daily grammar practice is also daily. The next day's grammar programs require students to apply grammar skills to correct sentence errors. However, students cannot apply what they do not understand. Daily grammar practice helps students understand the basics of grammar and mechanics so that they can make the most of their use and writing lessons. Daily grammar practice acts as a daily grammar vitamin. It gives students one sentence a week to work. Each day students need to perform a different task with a weekly sentence. At the beginning of each class you go through the daily task. Students correct any mistakes they make and ask questions they may have. You explain all the new concepts that are presented by the sentence. The whole process takes a few minutes, and you are ready to move to class. Students learn daily repetition and discovery. You don't have to do any other grammar exercises - --ever. You may be wondering how students can learn everything you need to know about grammar and mechanics with just one sentence per week. That's why:1. Less is more. They actually accept these sentences and understand every aspect of them.2. Concepts are divided into small parts, but the program is organized so that students can see how all parts fit together. The concepts are then reviewed daily so that they are not forgotten.3. The sentences they work with are not just random sentences. They are intentionally loaded with specific concepts at a certain time. They start to be simple and become more heavier. Concepts that students should master at the level of their class appear in early sentences and often appear. Later, more difficult concepts appear. These materials focus on grammar practices and offer little non-grammar instruction. Instruction.
