1887609620 from Redmi Note 5 authors 21.11.2016 - 09:46 All articles are called Midas touch. They have recreated a market that is not part of it; Some of them, in fact, many people do not see the value of those who put the work in a completely different situation with their touch, I wrote last year in one of my works, Listening to our clients, wondering if we need Ears Midas, I said. According to the story, Midas has the opportunity to make a wish to greet another god very well and say: Let all I touch be gold. Of course, he regrets that he even filmed his beloved daughter and turned her gold; it bathes in a magical river and is freed from its unspiced characteristics of good or bad. In fact, one belief is that the sandy sands of the river where it is washed gold, and the inhabitants on the river bank become the first people to make gold coins. Well, can we say what we do with Midas, touching on gold? In many things around the world, since there are institutions and people who turn a lot of the work they touch into gold, those who can do it are often called Midas-touch ones. They have recreated a market that is not part of it; Some of them, in fact, many people do not consider valuable, they have put the work in a completely different situation with their touch. Here are two examples: One is a company, the other is a man, and he is a Turk. I don't think anyone knows Jem Boehner. He really introduced Turkey to a real trading card for the first time, taught customer loyalty and always raised the bar for merchandising. Of course, it is possible to talk about every job in this short article, but in my opinion it is not wrong to say that he is one of the most important people in Turkey with the touch of Midas. Being able to make a wrinkled T-shirt brand and make it popular in people's eyes I think it was nothing more than just an idea for many of us to laugh. I would like to write the story of the Advantage Card one day, especially what the magic job is to create a client habit. Of course, with a lot of his work, you can't pass without mentioning Hopi. Now that he has released this business model for the first time, which we have seen more than one example, his enthusiasm for what he considers undeniable, let's keep track of the numbers instantly. As much as profitability and similar issues of this business are discussed, a revolution in terms of digitizing the merc-shop Bir adymdir. He is one of the mysterious kings of history, but his legend is legendary. King Midas is a legendary king of phrygia who lived in Gordion. His legends marked the story of his step into the kingdom, his life and his death. Midas was a kingdom in Gordion between 738 BC and 696 BC. He has different meanings with his research and research during his life, but for the people of Frigia, he came to a degree of hatred for life and was unable to feed the same feelings for his people. So what's the legend? The Ears of Midas: King Midas was asked and considered a judge for a musical competition between the Greek god Apollo and the God of the country Pan. Midas' vote was in Ban's name, while another judge used the vote for Apollo. Apollo turned Midas' ears into donkey ears, saying that only donkey ears befitting a man who was angry at Midas and did not understand the beautiful music. It is a legend that Midas is now between these ears and his people. Midas tries to hide it, closes and does not tell anyone, but one day, when he goes to the barbershop, the hairdresser notices the ears of Midas, but he does not tell anyone about it. After a while, he can't stand it and he thinks he can't keep it in anymore and he has to say it and he goes to the well and. According to the wells, the waters, the waters, the reeds in this way, the secret of Midas is heard by all. The audience begins to ridicule Midas and insult him, pretending to be him with shadow games. King Midas can no longer stand them, he thinks about cutting off his ears, and after a while he realizes that his ears look worse than they used to be in the form of vines, and he pleads with God for help. God forgives Midas, but he kills him quietly and buries him in the grave. Golden Midas: Satiro, companion of the wine god Dionysus... One day, while touring Phrygia, he fell asleep in the pink gardens of Midas, and Midas found him, and within 10 days, Dionyso, who was touched, told the king that he would do what he wanted, and Midas wanted to turn everything he touched him into gold. Midas was pleased at first, but the fact that all that could be eaten and drunk was gold, made it difficult for him, and then he said he gave up and asked for help, and Dionysos told him to swim in the Kingdom of Covenantos, and the king did so and returned to his old path.
