We are together) is a 1999 Indian Hindi-language drama film written and directed by Sooraj R. Barjatya. It stars Salman Khan, Sonali Bendre, Mohnish Bahl, Tabu, Saif Ali Khan and Karisma Kapoor, as well as Alok Nath, Reema Lagoo, Neelam Kothari and Mahesh Thakur. The story centers on a ramkishan-led family with his wife Mamta and three sons. Hum Saath-Saath Hain had a worldwide gross of 810 million euros (11 million U.S. dollars) and became the biggest film of the year. [4] [5] It received mainly positive reviews from critics. It was also the first Bollywood film to be shown in Canadian theaters, with six shows in Toronto. Salman Khan's performance earned him a best actor nomination at the Zee Cine Awards in 2000. Mohnish Behl received a best supporting actor nomination in the 45th season. The film was also dubbed Telugu and released under the name Premaanuraagam. [6] Plot Ramkishan, a wealthy businessman, married a simple Mamta when his first wife died leaving him with a 1-year-old baby, Vineek, who also accepted and honors Mamta as his own mother. Later, Ramkishan and Mamta have three children: Prem, Sangeeta and Vinod. Some years earlier, while trying to save Prem in an accident, Vivek is injured and his right hand paralyzes. Back to the present, Prem returns from the United States after completing his studies. Sangita is married to Anand Tiwar and has a daughter, Radhika. Vinod's doing his studies. Vivek is still receiving treatment for his hand. At Ramkishan and Mamta's 25th birthday party, all siblings wish their parents respect. After seeing Vineek's love for his parents, Sadhna, daughter of Ramkishan's business partner Adarsh Sharma, likes him at first sight. Adarsh learns about his feelings and sends out a proposal to marry Vivek with his daughter. Afraid. Because of his hand, Vivek later agrees and marries Sadhna. At the reception, Vinod and Sapna (daughter of Ramkishan village neighbor Dharamraj Bajpai) present to sadhna's family by organizing a music program and they show the love of Prem and Preet (daughter of Ramkishan's friend Pritam Shukla). Everyone agrees to engage them. The family decides to go on holiday and they visit their village. Eventually, Prem and Preeti find out about vinod and Sapna's love interest. They're engaged, too. However, Mamta's three friends and Dharamraj fill his head with thoughts as to why Virek should be responsible for the family's legacy. This makes Mamta afraid of what's going to happen. But the bitter turnaround comes as Anand's older brother Anurag betrays him from inheritance and hits out at the family business. This makes Mamta very paranoid and calls into question Ramkishan's decision to make Vivek the head of a family business. He insists that Ramkishan split the business equally among all the boys instead of setting a lever. Ramkis disagrees that it divides the family. After learning of the conversation, Vivek decides instead to opt for a bite by telling Mamta that he will move back to the ancesy-go-4 village of Rampur to take care of the newly established new factory. He asks Ramkishan to put Prem in charge of the family empire and Sadhna supports him. They move to Rampur and Vinod follows them. After returning from the United States, Prem refuses to replace Vivek as the head of the family. Vivek persuades him to agree to the plan so that there will be no conflict within the family. Prem confronts Mamta and tells her she won't get married if she wants him to replace Vineek. Eventually, Anurag realizes he made a huge mistake in betraying Anand and breaking up his family. Sangita asks Mamta to bring Vilek back to the house. Mamta realizes her mistake and visits Rampur with Ramkishan. At the hospital, Sadhna is giving birth to a baby boy. Prem married Preet, Vinod sapna and Anwar Rehana. Dharamraj apologizes after realizing that manners don't distinguish family love from each other. Everyone lives happily ever after. [8] Castings of Salman Khan, Mohnish Bakh, Reema Lago, Alok Nah, Himani Shivpur, Satish Shah and Ajit Vachan, all of whom were part of Barjatya's Hum Aapke Hain Koun...! starred in this movie. In addition to Salman, Lagoo, Nath, Bahl and Vachani also performed at Barjatya's Maine Pyar Kiya. When discussing Bahl's role, it was first offered to Anil Kapoor and Rishi Kapoor, but when they refused, Bahl was chosen for the green and prepared it by tying a way to keep his right hand in his pocket accordingly. Barjaty was initially approached by Madhuri Dixit for the role of Sadhna, who played the lead actor in Hum Aapke Hain Koun..! but fell due to its popularity, and then Manisha Koirala received an offer; Even he couldn't take it because of Mann's descriptions until Tabu was chosen. Later, the authors re-discussed The Role of Anand with Rishi Kapoor, but his refusal came again, as Nitish Bhardwaj also did when he offered, and thus Mahesh Thakur was tied up. Liberation Hum Saath-Saath Hain had released earlier, but music director Raamlaxman took the time to check a second time so you don't suffer from mistakes. Hum Saath-Saath Hain finally hit the theatre screens on November 2, 1999 during Diwali. Raamlaxman composed the music and collaborated with Sooraj Barjatya for the third time. The soundtrack features seven songs and playback singers Kumar Sanu (premina), Alka Yagnik (Preeti), Kavita Krishnamurthy (Sapna) Udit Narayan (vinodina), Anuradha Paudwal (Sadhna), Hariharan (Vivek) and Sonu Nigam (Anwarina). Raamlaxman plagiarized his song A B C D from Spanish singer Jeanetten's 1974 song Porque te vas. [9] Savera R someshwar from Rediff said that . It's definitely time for Barjatya to look for a new music director. Even the lyrics – with the exception of Maare hidwa ma naache mor and Mayya yashoda – are banal....
