Songs with really fast lyrics

Take a deep breath, and think back to a middle school dance and try and remember what it was like. Anyone who was a pre-teen probably remembers the awkward slow dance, new tank tops from the mall, and screaming along with every word of pop radio hits. Songs from the late '90s and early 2000s may seem like a distaterge memory now, but at that time, many of them were iconic. Looking back on the era, there are definitely some song lyrics that you've forgotten completely until now. Every time and a while one of these songs will play, in a clothing store or on the radio or on an ironic party playlist, and those words will bring you back to that middle school auditorium. Several genres thrived in the late '90s and early audiences, and both decades were a period of growth for alt-rock, rap and hip-hop, and pop music. While some of the more popular songs didn't exactly rediscover genres or experiment in new ways, they were definitely fun. Whether it was the soft-rock of Anna Nalick or one of Enrique Inglesias's slow-dancing stacks, you might have forgotten some of these tunes. There is no time like the present to listen again and remember those lyrics that, for better or worse, shaped your teenage years. 1te Min, too late — JoJoLong before Taylor Swift declared that she never get back with an ex, JoJo was penny pop-up hits. Every seventh gr. Things were tough at the time. Memorable Lyrics: I'm going to say this now / Your chance has come and gone / And you know / It's just too little, too late/a little too long / And I can't wait just the Girl — The Click FiveAtlantic Records on YouTubeAs you've forgotten, protagonist's love interest in this song runs on 100 evidence. She is thus still aspirations after all these years. Memorable Lyrics: Because she's bittersweet/She beat me off my feet / And I can't help myself / I don't want anyone else's Closing Time — SemisonicIf this one hit doesn't immediately ring a bell, it will come back to you once the piano notes play. It's everywhere from movie opening credits to the background of your favorite 2000s television show, and even now it's a tough song to escape. Memorable Lyrics: Closing time / Turn the lights over each boy and every girl / Closing time / One last call for alcohol so complete your whiskey or beer / Closing time / You don't have to go home, but you can't stay here / I know who I want to take me home. 4Big Girls Don't Cry — FergieThis song, which was one of Fergie's first tracks post-Black Eyed Peas, was a slow dance staple. Also, can we talk about what an absolute nostalgia festival this video is? The Candles product placement! Milo Ventimiglia's false tattoo! What was a time 2006. Memorable Lyrics: I'm going to miss you like a kid missing their blanket / But I have to get a move on with my life / It's time to be a big girl now/ And big girls don't cry their blanket /But I have to get a move on with my life / It's time to be a big girl now/ And big girls don't cry their gotta Feeling — Black Eyed PeasBlackEyedPeasveASveAI on YouTubeSpeaking of Fergie, who can forget this super smash hit by the Black Eyed Peas? Back in 2009 it was the number one song to get you pumped out for a night, and if you weren't sick by the end of that year, now is the time to bring it back. Memorable Lyrics: A feeling, woohoo, that tonight is going to be a good night / That tonight is going to be a good, good night it's going to be me — NSYNC Dependence on which big boy band of the 2000s was your favor, there might have been a time in your childhood where you knew every word to every single NSYNC song. While Bye Bye Bye might be the group's most famous track, for the real fans, this song was just as important. Memorable Lyrics: Baby, when you end / Get someone / Guess to love that / It's going to be me 7 Hand In My Pocket — Alanis MorissetteAlanis Morissette on YouTubeIt is a shame that most Alanis songs are now relayed to background music; it's time to breastfeed it out for belt purposes. It's hard to choose the singer's most singing along worthy track, but this one is definitely there. Memorable Lyrics: *clear throat* I have one hand in my pocket, the other gives you high fairye-III — VVVVEE8Asem (2am) — Anna Nalick admits it — this song still makes you emotional in 2017. Nalick's hit ballad stabbed around for a reason because it infives several sad stories and brings them into a heartfelt choir. This is the perfect sad-juicy pop song. Memorable Lyrics: *For you can't jump the track, we're like cars on a cable / And life is like an hourglass, glued to the table / No one can find the turnback button, girl / So cradle your head into your hands and breathe... Just breathe/O, just breathe 9Held - Enrique Inglesias EnriqueInglesiasVEVO on YouTube This song played at every single dance and other school event I went in middle school and high school. So many accachy slow dances are shared to this song, I don't know if I'll ever forget the lyrics, but maybe you have. Memorable Lyrics: I can be your hero baby / I can kiss the pain away / I'll stand with you forever, thinking Augustana ever found where they were going? This song's choir has traveled across the continental United States, and even after all this time, it's hard to forget that journey. Memorable Lyrics: I think I'll go to Boston / I think that I've been tired / I think I've got a new town / To leave it all behind 11. Irreplaceable - BeyoncéWhile we all bend Queen B for her last two albums, which is by all the mates masterpieces, you might of these radio hits from the early contrast. Beyoncé had so many chart topping hits, but this song was absolutely everywhere the year came out. Memorable Lyrics: Everything you own in the box on the left / In the closet that's good to me, yes/ If I bought it, please don't touch 12Hey There Delilah - Plain White T's HollywoodRecordsVEVO on YouTubeThe Plain White T's has had a real moment with this track, and it will continue to be their only classic. Despite the tires one-hit wonder status, this acoustic ballad was such a success, it can be far from completely forgotten. Memorable Lyrics: Hey there Delilah/What's it like in New York City?/I'm a thousand miles away/ But girl, tonight you look so beautiful 13 American Boy - Estelle Ft. Kanye WestThis song has so many memorable collabs it's hard to believe it may have been lost over the decade. John Legend has a cameo in the video, and a very young Kanye West shows up to drop a verse. This upbeat chim was so much fun, and is definitely worth listening again. Memorable Lyrics: Take me on a trip, I'd like to go one day / Take me to New York, I'd like to see LA / I really want to kick it with you / You'll be my American son These songs were total classic. my English teacher who acted in class today. I want to teach it myself, but won't see him until next Monday. the lyrics talked about the sound of screaming brakes and breaking glass and screaming of people or something, then he begins to talk about his love or something like that. does anyone know the song? Song?
