

I'm not robot  reCAPTCHA

Continue

Black and Decker

Black and Decker is a U.S.-based tools and accessories business. Stanley Black & Decker (SWK) shares are listed on the NYSE and all prices are listed in U.S. dollars. Stanley Black & Decker employs 59,438 people and has about 12-month revenue of about $13.8 billion. How to buy shares in Stanley Black and Decker compare stock trading platforms. If you're a beginner, look for a platform with low fees, expert ratings, and investment tools to keep track of your portfolio. Narrow down the top brands with our comparison table. Open and fund your broker account. Complete an application with your personal and financial information, such as your ID and your bank information. Fund your account with a bank transfer, credit card or debit card. Look for Stanley Black and Decker. Find the stock by name or ticker mark: SWK. Explore its history to confirm that it is a solid investment against your financial goals. Purchase now or later. Buy today with a market order or use a limited order to delay your purchase until Stanley Black and Decker reaches the desired price. To disperse your purchase, check on average dollar cost, which smooths out buying at consistent intervals and amounts. Decide how much to buy. At a closing price of US$176.38, weigh your budget against a diverse portfolio that can minimise risk through market ups and downs. You may be able to buy a partial stake of Stanley Black and Decker, depending on your broker. See what your investment is. Congratulations, you got a piece of Stanley Black and Decker. Optimize your portfolio by tracking the performance of your stock — and even your business — with an eye on the long term. You may be eligible for dividends and shareholder voting rights over directors and management that can affect your shares. We evaluate stock trading platforms against a variety of metrics that include commissions, ease of use, available securities, and advanced tools to meet specific investor needs. We recommend you compare stock platforms to find one of the best for your specific budget and goals. Our choice for beginners. We have chosen Robinhood for this category because it offers commission-free trading and is easy to use. You can search for shares by company name, and the mobile app is clean and intuitive to use. Our choice to build a portfolio. We have chosen SoFi for this category because it also offers commission-free shares and a free robo-advisor. This means you can open an active investment account to select companies you want to invest in, and open a robo-advisor account to help you build an investment portfolio and manage the risk you're taking on your mind. Our pick for big investments. We chose Vanguard for this category because it is owned by investors and offers access to personal advisors and a wide range of investments, making it a popular choice for wealth management and long-term investors. But as long as there isn't To open a broker account, you'll need to spend at least $50,000 to sign up for Vanguard Personal Advisor Services. The Stanley Black & Decker share price used our graph to track the performance of SWK shares over time. Information last updated 2020-12-27.Last Market CloseUSD $176.3852 Weeks RangeUSD $69.062 - USD$190.785950 Moving Day USD $181.105200 Day Moving Average USD $162.6354Wall St. TARGET PRICEUSD$201.87PE Ratio 29.0803 Dividend Yield USD $2.8 (1.56%).Earnings per share (TTM) USD $6.187 Compare special offers, low fees and a wide range of investment types among the leading trading platforms. We're not investment advisors, so do your own due diligence to understand the risks before you invest. However, this is not a recommendation. , it measures the real-time recommendations of three popular technical indicators: moving averages, fluttering and hinges. Finder is not responsible for your stock performance. Historic closings vs. $176.38 closing from 2020-10-16 1 week (2020-12-17) N/A 1 month (2 6.04% 3 months (2020-09-28) 7.50% 6 months (2020-0) 6 26) 29.43% one year (2019-12-24) No 2 years (2018-12-24) No 3 years (2017-12-24) N/A 5 years (2015-12-24) N/A Is Stanley black and stabbed below or overvalued? The stock valuation of Stanley Black and Decker is very difficult, and each index should be struted as part of a larger picture of Stanley Black and Decker's overall performance. However, analysts typically use some key metrics to help gauge the value of a stock. Stanley Black and Decker's P/E ratio, Stanley Black & Decker, divided by its earnings per share (EPS) over a 12-month period, gives a trailing price/profit ratio of about 29x. In other words, Stanley Black and Decker shares are trading at 29 times the latest gains. This is relatively high compared to, for example, the 12-month P/E ratio to the Nasdaq 100 at the end of 2019 (27.29). The high P/E ratio can mean investors are optimistic about the outlook for stocks or simply overvalued. Stanley Black and Decker's PEG ratio can be calculated by dividing its P/E ratio by its growth - giving 2.3456. A lower ratio can be interpreted as meaning the shares offer better value, while a higher ratio can be interpreted as meaning the shares offer worse value. The PEG ratio provides a wider view than just a P/E ratio, as it gives more insight into Black and Decker's future profitability. By accounting for growth, it can also help you if you compare the stock prices of a number of high-growth companies. Stanley Black and Decker Stanley Black and Decker's EBITDA (profit before interest, taxes, depreciation and amovation) stands at $2.2 billion. EBITDA is a measure of Stanley Black and Decker's overall financial performance and is widely used to measure its profitability. TTM Revenue $13.8 billion TTM Operating Profit 11.97% Gross Profit TTM USD $4.8 billion Return on TTM Assets 4.67% Return on Capital TTM 10.36% Profit Rate 6.9% 8% book value $55.37 Market cap of $28.8 billion TTM: After 12 months Short Stanley Black and Decker currently have 3.0 million Stanley Black and Decker shares held short by investors - that is known as Stanley Black and Decker's short interest rate. That figure was up 1.5% from 3.0 million last month. There are a number of different ways to assess this level of interest in shorting Stanley Black and Decker shares. Stanley Black & Decker's short interest rate ratio (SIR) Stanley Black & Decker is the amount of Stanley Black & Decker shares, currently priced in the average amount of Stanley Black and Decker shares traded daily (most recently around 980106.43086817). Stanley Black and Decker's SIR currently stands at 3.11. In other words, for every 100,000 Stanley Black and Decker shares traded daily on the market, about 3,110 shares are currently in short supply. However, Stanley Black's short interest rate can also be estimated against the total number of Stanley Black and Decker shares, or against the total number of Stanley Black and Decker shares (the shares not held by long-term insiders or major shareholders - also known as the Nectar). In this case, Stanley Black and Decker's short interest can be reflected in approximately 0.02% of outstanding shares (for every 100,000 Stanley Black and Decker shares that exist, approximately 20 shares are currently held in short supply) or 0.0192% of the callingable shares (for every 100,000 Stanley Black and Decker shares, approximately 19 SIR so low generally points to an optimistic forecast for the share price, with fewer people currently willing to bet against Stanley Black and Decker. Learn more about how to shorten stanley black and decker stock. Stanley Black and Decker's environmental, social and government criteria are a group of three factors used to mediat sustainability and the social impact of companies like Stanley Black and Decker. When it comes to ESG scores, the lower it is the better, the lower scores are usually associated with lower risk for potential investors. Stanley Black's ESG Risk Total and Decker Total ESG Score 28.87 Socially conscious investors use ESG results to filter how investment aligns with their worldview, and Stanley Black and Decker's overall score of 28.87 (as on 01/01/2019) is fairly weak - landing in it the 64th percent of companies ranked in the same sector. ESG scores are increasingly used to assess the level of risk of a company such as Stanley Black and Decker being exposed to it in areas of environmental (carbon footprint, resource use, etc.), social (health and safety, human rights, etc.) and governance (anti-corruption, tax transparency, etc.). Stanley Black and Decker's Environmental Score: 3.28/100 Stanley Black and Decker's Social Score Social Score: 14.54/100 Stanley Black's Administration and Decker Administration Score: 6.05/100 Stanley Black and Decker's Dispute Score Dispute Score: 1/5 ESG scores also assess all instances of controversy that a company was involved in. Stanley Black-And Decker scored a controversial 1-for-5 - the highest score possible, reflecting the fact that Stanley Black and Decker managed to keep their noses clean. Stanley Black & Decker Inc was last rated for ESG in: 2019-01-01. Total ESG score 28.87 total ESG percenton 63.98 Environmental score 3.28 Social score 14.54 Governance score 6.05 Dispute level 1 35% dividend payout ratio: 35.32% of net profit recently Stanley Black and Decker paid, on average, around 35.32% of net profit as dividends. This allowed analysts to estimate a forward annual dividend yield of 1.56% of the current share value. This means that for a year, based on recent payments (which unfortunately are no guarantee of future payments), Black Stanley and Decker shareholders can enjoy a yield of 1.56% on their shares, in the form of dividend payments. In the case of Stanley Black and Decker, that currently equates to $2.8 per share. While Stanley Black and Decker's payout ratio may seem fairly standard, it's worth remembering that Stanley Black and Decker may invest much of the rest of its net profit in future growth. Stanley Black and Decker's last dividend payment was on December 15, 2020. The final dividend was paid to all shareholders who purchased their shares by November 30, 2020 (the former dividend date). Have Stanley Black and Decker's shares ever separated? Stanley Black and Decker's shares were divided on a 2:1 basis on June 4, 1996. So if you had one stock the day before the split, the next day you'd have two shares. It wouldn't directly change the total value of your Stanley Black and Decker shares - just the amount. Indirectly, however, the new 50% lower share price could have affected the market's appetite for Stanley Black and Decker shares, which could have affected Stanley Black and Decker's share price. Price Index for Markets For 12 months, Stanley Black and Decker's shares ranged in value from $69.062 to $190.7859. A popular way to gauge the volatility of the stock is its beta. Cm. Volatility in the U.S. (BETA: 1.48)Average volatility (beta: 1.00)LowHighBeta is a measure of the stock's volatility relative to the market. The market (NYSE average) beta is 1, while Stanley Black and Decker's is at 1.4824. This suggests that Stanley Black and Decker shares are more volatile than average on this exchange and represent, proportionally, higher risk (but also market returns). Stanley Black & Decker Review Stanley Black & Decker, Inc. is engaged in services and storage, industry, and security businesses around the world. Its tools and storage sector offers electrical tools and equipment, including professional products, such as professional-grade wireless electrical tools and equipment, and pneumatic tools and decks; And consumer products that include wireless power tools mainly under the BLACK+DECKER brand, as well as lawn and garden products and Nell accessories, and household goods. This segment sells its products through retailers, distributors, direct sales force to professional end users, distributors, retail consumers and industrial customers across industries. The company's industrial segment provides Hyde products and engineered systems to customers in the automotive, manufacturing, electronics, construction, aerospace industry and more; sells and rents custom plumbing, joint welding and coating equipment for use in building pipes large and small in diameter, as well as pipeline inspection services; And sells hydraulic tools, attachments and accessories. This segment also serves the oil and natural gas pipeline industry and other industrial customers. Its security segment designs, provides and installs commercial electronic security systems and provides electronic security services; offers medical solutions, including asset tracking, infant protection, child protection, patient protection, oscillary management, fall management and emergency call products; And sells automatic doors to commercial customers. This segment serves consumers, retailers, educational institutions, finance and healthcare. as well as commercial, government and industrial customers. The company was formerly known as The Stanley Works and changed its name to Stanley Black & Decker Ltd. in March 2010. Stanley Black & Decker Ltd. was founded in 1843 and headquarters in New Britain, Connecticut. FAQs currently have a 0.225% stake in Stanley Black and Decker held by associates and 90.282% by institutions. Latest figures indicate 59,438 employees at Stanley Black and Decker. Stanley Black and Decker's fiscal year ends on Dec. The address of Stanley Black and Decker. 1000 Stanley Drive, New Britain, CT, United States, 06053 Stanley Black and Decker International Securities IDENTIFICATION Number is: US8545021011 Stanley Black and Decker's Commission on Uniform Securities Identification Number is: 854502101 854502101

Black and Decker is a U.S.-based tools and accessories business. Stanley Black & Decker (SWK) shares are listed on the NYSE and all prices are listed in U.S. dollars. Stanley Black & Decker employs 59,438 people and has about 12-month revenue of about $13.8 billion. How to buy shares in Stanley Black and Decker compare stock trading platforms. If you're a beginner, look for a platform with low fees, expert ratings, and investment tools to keep track of your portfolio. Narrow down the top brands with our comparison table. Open and fund your broker account. Complete an application with your personal and financial information, such as your ID and your bank information. Fund your account with a bank transfer, credit card or debit card. Look for Stanley Black and Decker. Find the stock by name or ticker mark: SWK. Explore its history to confirm that it is a solid investment against your financial goals. Purchase now or later. Buy today with a market order or use a limited order to delay your purchase until Stanley Black and Decker reaches the desired price. To disperse your purchase, check on average dollar cost, which smooths out buying at consistent intervals and amounts. Decide how much to buy. At a closing price of US$176.38, weigh your budget against a diverse portfolio that can minimise risk through market ups and downs. You may be able to buy a partial stake of Stanley Black and Decker, depending on your broker. See what your investment is. Congratulations, you got a piece of Stanley Black and Decker. Optimize your portfolio by tracking the performance of your stock — and even your business — with an eye on the long term. You may be eligible for dividends and shareholder voting rights over directors and management that can affect your shares. We evaluate stock trading platforms against a variety of metrics that include commissions, ease of use, available securities, and advanced tools to meet specific investor needs. We recommend you compare stock platforms to find one of the best for your specific budget and goals. Our choice for beginners. We have chosen Robinhood for this category because it offers commission-free trading and is easy to use. You can search for shares by company name, and the mobile app is clean and intuitive to use. Our choice to build a portfolio. We have chosen SoFi for this category because it also offers commission-free shares and a free robo-advisor. This means you can open an active investment account to select companies you want to invest in, and open a robo-advisor account to help you build an investment portfolio and manage the risk you're taking on your mind. Our pick for big investments. We chose Vanguard for this category because it is owned by investors and offers access to personal advisors and a wide range of investments, making it a popular choice for wealth management and long-term investors. But as long as there isn't To open a broker account, you'll need to spend at least $50,000 to sign up for Vanguard Personal Advisor Services. The Stanley Black & Decker share price used our graph to track the performance of SWK shares over time. Information last updated 2020-12-27.Last Market CloseUSD $176.3852 Weeks RangeUSD $69.062 - USD$190.785950 Moving Day USD $181.105200 Day Moving Average USD $162.6354Wall St. TARGET PRICEUSD$201.87PE Ratio 29.0803 Dividend Yield USD $2.8 (1.56%).Earnings per share (TTM) USD $6.187 Compare special offers, low fees and a wide range of investment types among the leading trading platforms. We're not investment advisors, so do your own due diligence to understand the risks before you invest. However, this is not a recommendation. , it measures the real-time recommendations of three popular technical indicators: moving averages, fluttering and hinges. Finder is not responsible for your stock performance. Historic closings vs. $176.38 closing from 2020-10-16 1 week (2020-12-17) N/A 1 month (2 6.04% 3 months (2020-09-28) 7.50% 6 months (2020-0) 6 26) 29.43% one year (2019-12-24) No 2 years (2018-12-24) No 3 years (2017-12-24) N/A 5 years (2015-12-24) N/A Is Stanley black and stabbed below or overvalued? The stock valuation of Stanley Black and Decker is very difficult, and each index should be struted as part of a larger picture of Stanley Black and Decker's overall performance. However, analysts typically use some key metrics to help gauge the value of a stock. Stanley Black and Decker's P/E ratio, Stanley Black & Decker, divided by its earnings per share (EPS) over a 12-month period, gives a trailing price/profit ratio of about 29x. In other words, Stanley Black and Decker shares are trading at 29 times the latest gains. This is relatively high compared to, for example, the 12-month P/E ratio to the Nasdaq 100 at the end of 2019 (27.29). The high P/E ratio can mean investors are optimistic about the outlook for stocks or simply overvalued. Stanley Black and Decker's PEG ratio can be calculated by dividing its P/E ratio by its growth - giving 2.3456. A lower ratio can be interpreted as meaning the shares offer better value, while a higher ratio can be interpreted as meaning the shares offer worse value. The PEG ratio provides a wider view than just a P/E ratio, as it gives more insight into Black and Decker's future profitability. By accounting for growth, it can also help you if you compare the stock prices of a number of high-growth companies. Stanley Black and Decker Stanley Black and Decker's EBITDA (profit before interest, taxes, depreciation and amovation) stands at $2.2 billion. EBITDA is a measure of Stanley Black and Decker's overall financial performance and is widely used to measure its profitability. TTM Revenue $13.8 billion TTM Operating Profit 11.97% Gross Profit TTM USD $4.8 billion Return on TTM Assets 4.67% Return on Capital TTM 10.36% Profit Rate 6.9% 8% book value $55.37 Market cap of $28.8 billion TTM: After 12 months Short Stanley Black and Decker currently have 3.0 million Stanley Black and Decker shares held short by investors - that is known as Stanley Black and Decker's short interest rate. That figure was up 1.5% from 3.0 million last month. There are a number of different ways to assess this level of interest in shorting Stanley Black and Decker shares. Stanley Black & Decker's short interest rate ratio (SIR) Stanley Black & Decker is the amount of Stanley Black & Decker shares, currently priced in the average amount of Stanley Black and Decker shares traded daily (most recently around 980106.43086817). Stanley Black and Decker's SIR currently stands at 3.11. In other words, for every 100,000 Stanley Black and Decker shares traded daily on the market, about 3,110 shares are currently in short supply. However, Stanley Black's short interest rate can also be estimated against the total number of Stanley Black and Decker shares, or against the total number of Stanley Black and Decker shares (the shares not held by long-term insiders or major shareholders - also known as the Nectar). In this case, Stanley Black and Decker's short interest can be reflected in approximately 0.02% of outstanding shares (for every 100,000 Stanley Black and Decker shares that exist, approximately 20 shares are currently held in short supply) or 0.0192% of the callingable shares (for every 100,000 Stanley Black and Decker shares, approximately 19 SIR so low generally points to an optimistic forecast for the share price, with fewer people currently willing to bet against Stanley Black and Decker. Learn more about how to shorten stanley black and decker stock. Stanley Black and Decker's environmental, social and government criteria are a group of three factors used to mediat sustainability and the social impact of companies like Stanley Black and Decker. When it comes to ESG scores, the lower it is the better, the lower scores are usually associated with lower risk for potential investors. Stanley Black's ESG Risk Total and Decker Total ESG Score 28.87 Socially conscious investors use ESG results to filter how investment aligns with their worldview, and Stanley Black and Decker's overall score of 28.87 (as on 01/01/2019) is fairly weak - landing in it the 64th percent of companies ranked in the same sector. ESG scores are increasingly used to assess the level of risk of a company such as Stanley Black and Decker being exposed to it in areas of environmental (carbon footprint, resource use, etc.), social (health and safety, human rights, etc.) and governance (anti-corruption, tax transparency, etc.). Stanley Black and Decker's Environmental Score: 3.28/100 Stanley Black and Decker's Social Score Social Score: 14.54/100 Stanley Black's Administration and Decker Administration Score: 6.05/100 Stanley Black and Decker's Dispute Score Dispute Score: 1/5 ESG scores also assess all instances of controversy that a company was involved in. Stanley Black-And Decker scored a controversial 1-for-5 - the highest score possible, reflecting the fact that Stanley Black and Decker managed to keep their noses clean. Stanley Black & Decker Inc was last rated for ESG in: 2019-01-01. Total ESG score 28.87 total ESG percenton 63.98 Environmental score 3.28 Social score 14.54 Governance score 6.05 Dispute level 1 35% dividend payout ratio: 35.32% of net profit recently Stanley Black and Decker paid, on average, around 35.32% of net profit as dividends. This allowed analysts to estimate a forward annual dividend yield of 1.56% of the current share value. This means that for a year, based on recent payments (which unfortunately are no guarantee of future payments), Black Stanley and Decker shareholders can enjoy a yield of 1.56% on their shares, in the form of dividend payments. In the case of Stanley Black and Decker, that currently equates to $2.8 per share. While Stanley Black and Decker's payout ratio may seem fairly standard, it's worth remembering that Stanley Black and Decker may invest much of the rest of its net profit in future growth. Stanley Black and Decker's last dividend payment was on December 15, 2020. The final dividend was paid to all shareholders who purchased their shares by November 30, 2020 (the former dividend date). Have Stanley Black and Decker's shares ever separated? Stanley Black and Decker's shares were divided on a 2:1 basis on June 4, 1996. So if you had one stock the day before the split, the next day you'd have two shares. It wouldn't directly change the total value of your Stanley Black and Decker shares - just the amount. Indirectly, however, the new 50% lower share price could have affected the market's appetite for Stanley Black and Decker shares, which could have affected Stanley Black and Decker's share price. Price Index for Markets For 12 months, Stanley Black and Decker's shares ranged in value from $69.062 to $190.7859. A popular way to gauge the volatility of the stock is its beta. Cm. Volatility in the U.S. (BETA: 1.48)Average volatility (beta: 1.00)LowHighBeta is a measure of the stock's volatility relative to the market. The market (NYSE average) beta is 1, while Stanley Black and Decker's is at 1.4824. This suggests that Stanley Black and Decker shares are more volatile than average on this exchange and represent, proportionally, higher risk (but also market returns). Stanley Black & Decker Review Stanley Black & Decker, Inc. is engaged in services and storage, industry, and security businesses around the world. Its tools and storage sector offers electrical tools and equipment, including professional products, such as professional-grade wireless electrical tools and equipment, and pneumatic tools and decks; And consumer products that include wireless power tools mainly under the BLACK+DECKER brand, as well as lawn and garden products and Nell accessories, and household goods. This segment sells its products through retailers, distributors, direct sales force to professional end users, distributors, retail consumers and industrial customers across industries. The company's industrial segment provides Hyde products and engineered systems to customers in the automotive, manufacturing, electronics, construction, aerospace industry and more; sells and rents custom plumbing, joint welding and coating equipment for use in building pipes large and small in diameter, as well as pipeline inspection services; And sells hydraulic tools, attachments and accessories. This segment also serves the oil and natural gas pipeline industry and other industrial customers. Its security segment designs, provides and installs commercial electronic security systems and provides electronic security services; offers medical solutions, including asset tracking, infant protection, child protection, patient protection, oscillary management, fall management and emergency call products; And sells automatic doors to commercial customers. This segment serves consumers, retailers, educational institutions, finance and healthcare. as well as commercial, government and industrial customers. The company was formerly known as The Stanley Works and changed its name to Stanley Black & Decker Ltd. in March 2010. Stanley Black & Decker Ltd. was founded in 1843 and headquarters in New Britain, Connecticut. FAQs currently have a 0.225% stake in Stanley Black and Decker held by associates and 90.282% by institutions. Latest figures indicate 59,438 employees at Stanley Black and Decker. Stanley Black and Decker's fiscal year ends on Dec. The address of Stanley Black and Decker. 1000 Stanley Drive, New Britain, CT, United States, 06053 Stanley Black and Decker International Securities IDENTIFICATION Number is: US8545021011 Stanley Black and Decker's Commission on Uniform Securities Identification Number is: 854502101 854502101

Black and Decker is a U.S.-based tools and accessories business. Stanley Black & Decker (SWK) shares are listed on the NYSE and all prices are listed in U.S. dollars. Stanley Black & Decker employs 59,438 people and has about 12-month revenue of about $13.8 billion. How to buy shares in Stanley Black and Decker compare stock trading platforms. If you're a beginner, look for a platform with low fees, expert ratings, and investment tools to keep track of your portfolio. Narrow down the top brands with our comparison table. Open and fund your broker account. Complete an application with your personal and financial information, such as your ID and your bank information. Fund your account with a bank transfer, credit card or debit card. Look for Stanley Black and Decker. Find the stock by name or ticker mark: SWK. Explore its history to confirm that it is a solid investment against your financial goals. Purchase now or later. Buy today with a market order or use a limited order to delay your purchase until Stanley Black and Decker reaches the desired price. To disperse your purchase, check on average dollar cost, which smooths out buying at consistent intervals and amounts. Decide how much to buy. At a closing price of US$176.38, weigh your budget against a diverse portfolio that can minimise risk through market ups and downs. You may be able to buy a partial stake of Stanley Black and Decker, depending on your broker. See what your investment is. Congratulations, you got a piece of Stanley Black and Decker. Optimize your portfolio by tracking the performance of your stock — and even your business — with an eye on the long term. You may be eligible for dividends and shareholder voting rights over directors and management that can affect your shares. We evaluate stock trading platforms against a variety of metrics that include commissions, ease of use, available securities, and advanced tools to meet specific investor needs. We recommend you compare stock platforms to find one of the best for your specific budget and goals. Our choice for beginners. We have chosen Robinhood for this category because it offers commission-free trading and is easy to use. You can search for shares by company name, and the mobile app is clean and intuitive to use. Our choice to build a portfolio. We have chosen SoFi for this category because it also offers commission-free shares and a free robo-advisor. This means you can open an active investment account to select companies you want to invest in, and open a robo-advisor account to help you build an investment portfolio and manage the risk you're taking on your mind. Our pick for big investments. We chose Vanguard for this category because it is owned by investors and offers access to personal advisors and a wide range of investments, making it a popular choice for wealth management and long-term investors. But as long as there isn't To open a broker account, you'll need to spend at least $50,000 to sign up for Vanguard Personal Advisor Services. The Stanley Black & Decker share price used our graph to track the performance of SWK shares over time. Information last updated 2020-12-27.Last Market CloseUSD $176.3852 Weeks RangeUSD $69.062 - USD$190.785950 Moving Day USD $181.105200 Day Moving Average USD $162.6354Wall St. TARGET PRICEUSD$201.87PE Ratio 29.0803 Dividend Yield USD $2.8 (1.56%).Earnings per share (TTM) USD $6.187 Compare special offers, low fees and a wide range of investment types among the leading trading platforms. We're not investment advisors, so do your own due diligence to understand the risks before you invest. However, this is not a recommendation. , it measures the real-time recommendations of three popular technical indicators: moving averages, fluttering and hinges. Finder is not responsible for your stock performance. Historic closings vs. $176.38 closing from 2020-10-16 1 week (2020-12-17) N/A 1 month (2 6.04% 3 months (2020-09-28) 7.50% 6 months (2020-0) 6 26) 29.43% one year (2019-12-24) No 2 years (2018-12-24) No 3 years (2017-12-24) N/A 5 years (2015-12-24) N/A Is Stanley black and stabbed below or overvalued? The stock valuation of Stanley Black and Decker is very difficult, and each index should be struted as part of a larger picture of Stanley Black and Decker's overall performance. However, analysts typically use some key metrics to help gauge the value of a stock. Stanley Black and Decker's P/E ratio, Stanley Black & Decker, divided by its earnings per share (EPS) over a 12-month period, gives a trailing price/profit ratio of about 29x. In other words, Stanley Black and Decker shares are trading at 29 times the latest gains. This is relatively high compared to, for example, the 12-month P/E ratio to the Nasdaq 100 at the end of 2019 (27.29). The high P/E ratio can mean investors are optimistic about the outlook for stocks or simply overvalued. Stanley Black and Decker's PEG ratio can be calculated by dividing its P/E ratio by its growth - giving 2.3456. A lower ratio can be interpreted as meaning the shares offer better value, while a higher ratio can be interpreted as meaning the shares offer worse value. The PEG ratio provides a wider view than just a P/E ratio, as it gives more insight into Black and Decker's future profitability. By accounting for growth, it can also help you if you compare the stock prices of a number of high-growth companies. Stanley Black and Decker Stanley Black and Decker's EBITDA (profit before interest, taxes, depreciation and amovation) stands at $2.2 billion. EBITDA is a measure of Stanley Black and Decker's overall financial performance and is widely used to measure its profitability. TTM Revenue $13.8 billion TTM Operating Profit 11.97% Gross Profit TTM USD $4.8 billion Return on TTM Assets 4.67% Return on Capital TTM 10.36% Profit Rate 6.9% 8% book value $55.37 Market cap of $28.8 billion TTM: After 12 months Short Stanley Black and Decker currently have 3.0 million Stanley Black and Decker shares held short by investors - that is known as Stanley Black and Decker's short interest rate. That figure was up 1.5% from 3.0 million last month. There are a number of different ways to assess this level of interest in shorting Stanley Black and Decker shares. Stanley Black & Decker's short interest rate ratio (SIR) Stanley Black & Decker is the amount of Stanley Black & Decker shares, currently priced in the average amount of Stanley Black and Decker shares traded daily (most recently around 980106.43086817). Stanley Black and Decker's SIR currently stands at 3.11. In other words, for every 100,000 Stanley Black and Decker shares traded daily on the market, about 3,110 shares are currently in short supply. However, Stanley Black's short interest rate can also be estimated against the total number of Stanley Black and Decker shares, or against the total number of Stanley Black and Decker shares (the shares not held by long-term insiders or major shareholders - also known as the Nectar). In this case, Stanley Black and Decker's short interest can be reflected in approximately 0.02% of outstanding shares (for every 100,000 Stanley Black and Decker shares that exist, approximately 20 shares are currently held in short supply) or 0.0192% of the callingable shares (for every 100,000 Stanley Black and Decker shares, approximately 19 SIR so low generally points to an optimistic forecast for the share price, with fewer people currently willing to bet against Stanley Black and Decker. Learn more about how to shorten stanley black and decker stock. Stanley Black and Decker's environmental, social and government criteria are a group of three factors used to mediat sustainability and the social impact of companies like Stanley Black and Decker. When it comes to ESG scores, the lower it is the better, the lower scores are usually associated with lower risk for potential investors. Stanley Black's ESG Risk Total and Decker Total ESG Score 28.87 Socially conscious investors use ESG results to filter how investment aligns with their worldview, and Stanley Black and Decker's overall score of 28.87 (as on 01/01/2019) is fairly weak - landing in it the 64th percent of companies ranked in the same sector. ESG scores are increasingly used to assess the level of risk of a company such as Stanley Black and Decker being exposed to it in areas of environmental (carbon footprint, resource use, etc.), social (health and safety, human rights, etc.) and governance (anti-corruption, tax transparency, etc.). Stanley Black and Decker's Environmental Score: 3.28/100 Stanley Black and Decker's Social Score Social Score: 14.54/100 Stanley Black's Administration and Decker Administration Score: 6.05/100 Stanley Black and Decker's Dispute Score Dispute Score: 1/5 ESG scores also assess all instances of controversy that a company was involved in. Stanley Black-And Decker scored a controversial 1-for-5 - the highest score possible, reflecting the fact that Stanley Black and Decker managed to keep their noses clean. Stanley Black & Decker Inc was last rated for ESG in: 2019-01-01. Total ESG score 28.87 total ESG percenton 63.98 Environmental score 3.28 Social score 14.54 Governance score 6.05 Dispute level 1 35% dividend payout ratio: 35.32% of net profit recently Stanley Black and Decker paid, on average, around 35.32% of net profit as dividends. This allowed analysts to estimate a forward annual dividend yield of 1.56% of the current share value. This means that for a year, based on recent payments (which unfortunately are no guarantee of future payments), Black Stanley and Decker shareholders can enjoy a yield of 1.56% on their shares, in the form of dividend payments. In the case of Stanley Black and Decker, that currently equates to $2.8 per share. While Stanley Black and Decker's payout ratio may seem fairly standard, it's worth remembering that Stanley Black and Decker may invest much of the rest of its net profit in future growth. Stanley Black and Decker's last dividend payment was on December 15, 2020. The final dividend was paid to all shareholders who purchased their shares by November 30, 2020 (the former dividend date). Have Stanley Black and Decker's shares ever separated? Stanley Black and Decker's shares were divided on a 2:1 basis on June 4, 1996. So if you had one stock the day before the split, the next day you'd have two shares. It wouldn't directly change the total value of your Stanley Black and Decker shares - just the amount. Indirectly, however, the new 50% lower share price could have affected the market's appetite for Stanley Black and Decker shares, which could have affected Stanley Black and Decker's share price. Price Index for Markets For 12 months, Stanley Black and Decker's shares ranged in value from $69.062 to $190.7859. A popular way to gauge the volatility of the stock is its beta. Cm. Volatility in the U.S. (BETA: 1.48)Average volatility (beta: 1.00)LowHighBeta is a measure of the stock's volatility relative to the market. The market (NYSE average) beta is 1, while Stanley Black and Decker's is at 1.4824. This suggests that Stanley Black and Decker shares are more volatile than average on this exchange and represent, proportionally, higher risk (but also market returns). Stanley Black & Decker Review Stanley Black & Decker, Inc. is engaged in services and storage, industry, and security businesses around the world. Its tools and storage sector offers electrical tools and equipment, including professional products, such as professional-grade wireless electrical tools and equipment, and pneumatic tools and decks; And consumer products that include wireless power tools mainly under the BLACK+DECKER brand, as well as lawn and garden products and Nell accessories, and household goods. This segment sells its products through retailers, distributors, direct sales force to professional end users, distributors, retail consumers and industrial customers across industries. The company's industrial segment provides Hyde products and engineered systems to customers in the automotive, manufacturing, electronics, construction, aerospace industry and more; sells and rents custom plumbing, joint welding and coating equipment for use in building pipes large and small in diameter, as well as pipeline inspection services; And sells hydraulic tools, attachments and accessories. This segment also serves the oil and natural gas pipeline industry and other industrial customers. Its security segment designs, provides and installs commercial electronic security systems and provides electronic security services; offers medical solutions, including asset tracking, infant protection, child protection, patient protection, oscillary management, fall management and emergency call products; And sells automatic doors to commercial customers. This segment serves consumers, retailers, educational institutions, finance and healthcare. as well as commercial, government and industrial customers. The company was formerly known as The Stanley Works and changed its name to Stanley Black & Decker Ltd. in March 2010. Stanley Black & Decker Ltd. was founded in 1843 and headquarters in New Britain, Connecticut. FAQs currently have a 0.225% stake in Stanley Black and Decker held by associates and 90.282% by institutions. Latest figures indicate 59,438 employees at Stanley Black and Decker. Stanley Black and Decker's fiscal year ends on Dec. The address of Stanley Black and Decker. 1000 Stanley Drive, New Britain, CT, United States, 06053 Stanley Black and Decker International Securities IDENTIFICATION Number is: US8545021011 Stanley Black and Decker's Commission on Uniform Securities Identification Number is: 854502101 854502101

Black and Decker is a U.S.-based tools and accessories business. Stanley Black & Decker (SWK) shares are listed on the NYSE and all prices are listed in U.S. dollars. Stanley Black & Decker employs 59,438 people and has about 12-month revenue of about $13.8 billion. How to buy shares in Stanley Black and Decker compare stock trading platforms. If you're a beginner, look for a platform with low fees, expert ratings, and investment tools to keep track of your portfolio. Narrow down the top brands with our comparison table. Open and fund your broker account. Complete an application with your personal and financial information, such as your ID and your bank information. Fund your account with a bank transfer, credit card or debit card. Look for Stanley Black and Decker. Find the stock by name or ticker mark: SWK. Explore its history to confirm that it is a solid investment against your financial goals. Purchase now or later. Buy today with a market order or use a limited order to delay your purchase until Stanley Black and Decker reaches the desired price. To disperse your purchase, check on average dollar cost, which smooths out buying at consistent intervals and amounts. Decide how much to buy. At a closing price of US$176.38, weigh your budget against a diverse portfolio that can minimise risk through market ups and downs. You may be able to buy a partial stake of Stanley Black and Decker, depending on your broker. See what your investment is. Congratulations, you got a piece of Stanley Black and Decker. Optimize your portfolio by tracking the performance of your stock — and even your business — with an eye on the long term. You may be eligible for dividends and shareholder voting rights over directors and management that can affect your shares. We evaluate stock trading platforms against a variety of metrics that include commissions, ease of use, available securities, and advanced tools to meet specific investor needs. We recommend you compare stock platforms to find one of the best for your specific budget and goals. Our choice for beginners. We have chosen Robinhood for this category because it offers commission-free trading and is easy to use. You can search for shares by company name, and the mobile app is clean and intuitive to use. Our choice to build a portfolio. We have chosen SoFi for this category because it also offers commission-free shares and a free robo-advisor. This means you can open an active investment account to select companies you want to invest in, and open a robo-advisor account to help you build an investment portfolio and manage the risk you're taking on your mind. Our pick for big investments. We chose Vanguard for this category because it is owned by investors and offers access to personal advisors and a wide range of investments, making it a popular choice for wealth management and long-term investors. But as long as there isn't To open a broker account, you'll need to spend at least $50,000 to sign up for Vanguard Personal Advisor Services. The Stanley Black & Decker share price used our graph to track the performance of SWK shares over time. Information last updated 2020-12-27.Last Market CloseUSD $176.3852 Weeks RangeUSD $69.062 - USD$190.785950 Moving Day USD $181.105200 Day Moving Average USD $162.6354Wall St. TARGET PRICEUSD$201.87PE Ratio 29.0803 Dividend Yield USD $2.8 (1.56%).Earnings per share (TTM) USD $6.187 Compare special offers, low fees and a wide range of investment types among the leading trading platforms. We're not investment advisors, so do your own due diligence to understand the risks before you invest. However, this is not a recommendation. , it measures the real-time recommendations of three popular technical indicators: moving averages, fluttering and hinges. Finder is not responsible for your stock performance. Historic closings vs. $176.38 closing from 2020-10-16 1 week (2020-12-17) N/A 1 month (2 6.04% 3 months (2020-09-28) 7.50% 6 months (2020-0) 6 26) 29.43% one year (2019-12-24) No 2 years (2018-12-24) No 3 years (2017-12-24) N/A 5 years (2015-12-24) N/A Is Stanley black and stabbed below or overvalued? The stock valuation of Stanley Black and Decker is very difficult, and each index should be struted as part of a larger picture of Stanley Black and Decker's overall performance. However, analysts typically use some key metrics to help gauge the value of a stock. Stanley Black and Decker's P/E ratio, Stanley Black & Decker, divided by its earnings per share (EPS) over a 12-month period, gives a trailing price/profit ratio of about 29x. In other words, Stanley Black and Decker shares are trading at 29 times the latest gains. This is relatively high compared to, for example, the 12-month P/E ratio to the Nasdaq 100 at the end of 2019 (27.29). The high P/E ratio can mean investors are optimistic about the outlook for stocks or simply overvalued. Stanley Black and Decker's PEG ratio can be calculated by dividing its P/E ratio by its growth - giving 2.3456. A lower ratio can be interpreted as meaning the shares offer better value, while a higher ratio can be interpreted as meaning the shares offer worse value. The PEG ratio provides a wider view than just a P/E ratio, as it gives more insight into Black and Decker's future profitability. By accounting for growth, it can also help you if you compare the stock prices of a number of high-growth companies. Stanley Black and Decker Stanley Black and Decker's EBITDA (profit before interest, taxes, depreciation and amovation) stands at $2.2 billion. EBITDA is a measure of Stanley Black and Decker's overall financial performance and is widely used to measure its profitability. TTM Revenue $13.8 billion TTM Operating Profit 11.97% Gross Profit TTM USD $4.8 billion Return on TTM Assets 4.67% Return on Capital TTM 10.36% Profit Rate 6.9% 8% book value $55.37 Market cap of $28.8 billion TTM: After 12 months Short Stanley Black and Decker currently have 3.0 million Stanley Black and Decker shares held short by investors - that is known as Stanley Black and Decker's short interest rate. That figure was up 1.5% from 3.0 million last month. There are a number of different ways to assess this level of interest in shorting Stanley Black and Decker shares. Stanley Black & Decker's short interest rate ratio (SIR) Stanley Black & Decker is the amount of Stanley Black & Decker shares, currently priced in the average amount of Stanley Black and Decker shares traded daily (most recently around 980106.43086817). Stanley Black and Decker's SIR currently stands at 3.11. In other words, for every 100,000 Stanley Black and Decker shares traded daily on the market, about 3,110 shares are currently in short supply. However, Stanley Black's short interest rate can also be estimated against the total number of Stanley Black and Decker shares, or against the total number of Stanley Black and Decker shares (the shares not held by long-term insiders or major shareholders - also known as the Nectar). In this case, Stanley Black and Decker's short interest can be reflected in approximately 0.02% of outstanding shares (for every 100,000 Stanley Black and Decker shares that exist, approximately 20 shares are currently held in short supply) or 0.0192% of the callingable shares (for every 100,000 Stanley Black and Decker shares, approximately 19 SIR so low generally points to an optimistic forecast for the share price, with fewer people currently willing to bet against Stanley Black and Decker. Learn more about how to shorten stanley black and decker stock. Stanley Black and Decker's environmental, social and government criteria are a group of three factors used to mediat sustainability and the social impact of companies like Stanley Black and Decker. When it comes to ESG scores, the lower it is the better, the lower scores are usually associated with lower risk for potential investors. Stanley Black's ESG Risk Total and Decker Total ESG Score 28.87 Socially conscious investors use ESG results to filter how investment aligns with their worldview, and Stanley Black and Decker's overall score of 28.87 (as on 01/01/2019) is fairly weak - landing in it the 64th percent of companies ranked in the same sector. ESG scores are increasingly used to assess the level of risk of a company such as Stanley Black and Decker being exposed to it in areas of environmental (carbon footprint, resource use, etc.), social (health and safety, human rights, etc.) and governance (anti-corruption, tax transparency, etc.). Stanley Black and Decker's Environmental Score: 3.28/100 Stanley Black and Decker's Social Score Social Score: 14.54/100 Stanley Black's Administration and Decker Administration Score: 6.05/100 Stanley Black and Decker's Dispute Score Dispute Score: 1/5 ESG scores also assess all instances of controversy that a company was involved in. Stanley Black-And Decker scored a controversial 1-for-5 - the highest score possible, reflecting the fact that Stanley Black and Decker managed to keep their noses clean. Stanley Black & Decker Inc was last rated for ESG in: 2019-01-01. Total ESG score 28.87 total ESG percenton 63.98 Environmental score 3.28 Social score 14.54 Governance score 6.05 Dispute level 1 35% dividend payout ratio: 35.32% of net profit recently Stanley Black and Decker paid, on average, around 35.32% of net profit as dividends. This allowed analysts to estimate a forward annual dividend yield