John deere la105 mower deck parts

Mowing accidents lead to 68,000 trips to emergency numbers each year, according to the American Academy of Pediatrics. What are you doing to keep yourself safe while working on a mower this summer? Since June is National Security Month, here are some important reminders to review from John Deere before you jump on the lawn mower and decorate your backyard.

- Look before the mow. Tools, yard debris, and toys can easily be hidden among the summer foliage. Removing unwanted items not only keeps the mower from damage, but can also save you from dangerous flying objects.
- Blades move fast, be especially careful! Blades move at 200 mph, the speed no one should play with. Remember to never insert a handmower to clear the clogged. Close the mower and explore jams using a stick or tool.
- Wear appropriate clothing and shoes. Long trousers and long-sleeved shirts protect you from the elements – flying courtyard debris, grass clippings and the sun. Whenever you work in the yard, throw on sturdy work shoes and keep flip flops on the pool.
- Educate the family about the dangers of mowing. Working in the yard is a great bonding time, but it is important for children to understand the dangers of lawn cutting tools. Children are always on the move, and they rarely think about the consequences. Teach them that mowers are dangerous and don't let them get out of the cutting area. Remember to never let a child go with a mower that just sends the wrong message.
- Store the fuel correctly. Always use approved storage containers when storing fuel and correctly label the container to avoid confusion. Use containers of different colours, green for petrol and red diesel. The most important point is whether you like it or hate mowing the lawn, pay attention when you're doing it. Accidents occur, so mind yourself and those around you, as well as your equipment.
