Access Document Home - Interior Massage Chair Human Touch iJoy is like having a personal massage therapist in your home. iJoy helps reduce fatigue, stress and pain. There are many components that help iJoy run smoothly. One component is a controller (or dashboard). The controller allows you to choose different massage techniques, such as rolling and acrobath massage, with a touch of fingers. When the controller does not work, you miss your stress reduction massage. But don't let it stress you; fixing a faulty controller does not take much time or effort. iJoy helps reduce stress and improve relaxation. Turn off the seat power. Unplug the seat from the socket. Peel off the label that covers the controller with a utility blade. You'll see three screws protecting the controller iJoy. Remove each screw with a Philips head screwdriver. Hold the screws together and set them aside. Slide the screwdriver flat head under the outer edge of the controller. Pry the controller up. Continue curiosity until the controller is raised and out of iJoy's handker. Pull the controller out of the massage chair. One side of the controller is raised at this time. Disconnect the tabs on the inner edge for the seat. They keep one side of the controller connected to the armch handle of the seat. Now, remove the controller from the handanger. Align the connectors of the new controller with the connectors inside the armc title. Push the outer edge of the controller down to the armced. Make sure the controller is securely installed inside the handy handy. Insert three screws into the new controller. Squeeze each screw with a philips-head screwdriver. Place the controller label on top of the controller. Press down on the label with your finger. Make sure it sticks to the controller. Plug iJoy into the outlet. Rotate the power button. Check the controller and make sure it works normally. June 1, 2004 – Exclusive new iJoy(TM) Robotic Massage (R) Chair with Human Touch (TM) Technology offers incredible luxury for under $800. Sharper Image Corporation (Nasdaq:SHRP) today announced the exciting and successful launch of its new exclusive iJoy (TM) Turbo 2 Robotic Massage (R) Chair with Human Touch (TM) Technology. The $799.95 affordable IJoy Turbo 2 has expanded the availability of this advanced technology to a much larger market, allowing people to enjoy the luxury of robot massage chairs (R) – previously only available in much higher price range. This innovative chair is provided with four stylish colors to suit a variety of styles and tastes - black, mocha, eggplant and red. iJoy Turbo 2 was developed in collaboration with Sharper Image's longtime massage chair manufacturer, Interactive Health, one of the world's leading massage robot companies. Their patented human touch robotic massage mechanism accurately replicates the four main techniques used by therapists and orthopedic specialists - rolling, acrobath, percussion and compression - and back massage feels incredible reality. Human Touch Technology has been tested and preferred by the American College of Chiropractic Orthopedists. Richard Thalheimer, their founder, president and chief executive, said: Massage chairs have always been a signature item for Sharper Images, but their higher prices, although a great value for such well-made and unique furniture, put them out of reach of some customers. Today, iJoy has changed all of that and it's hugely popular, he said. This new iJoy Turbo 2 is one of the most successful products that we have launched and are one of our best sellers this season and we hope its popularity will continue. The Sharper Image has always aimed at the state of the art and features exclusively, explains Mr Thalheimer. This new iJoy Turbo 2 offers attractive and exclusive new features such as button reclining; a built-in hand-hander rack; hidden access tilt wheels for easy movement; and a passing AC socket for conveniently plugging into laptops or reading lights. A top quality massage chair is now a happy reality for everyone and this is very exciting for us, Mr. Thalheimer concluded. The iJoy(TM) Turbo 2 robotic massage chair with Human Touch (TM) technology (HW551, $799.95) costs 40 x 42 x 34 inches (vertical); 59 x 20 x 34 completely reclined. It weighs 94 lbs. and plugs into a grounding socket. Dense fake suede upholstery is provided in four colors - black, eggplant, mocha and red. iJoy Turbo 2 is available for purchase exclusively through the Sharper Image category by calling 800-344-4444, Sharper Image's website in www.sharperimage.com and at more than 150 Sharper Image stores, nationwide. About The Sharper Image Sharper Image is a well-known domestic and international specialty retailer as a leading source of new, innovative, high quality products that make life better and more enjoyable.
