More The Tell-Tale Heart is a short story by American writer Edgar Allan Poe, first published in 1843. It is told by an unnamed storyteller who tries to convince the reader of his sanity, while describing a murder he has persuaded. The victim was an old man with a vulture eye filming, as the story teller called it. The murder was carefully calculated, and the killer hid the body by disassembling it and hiding it under the floor. Finally, the storyteller's guilt, or a mental disturbance, leads to him hearing the beating heart of the dead man. Read the activities based on Edgard Alan Poe's short story.
